VOTES FOR STATE INCOME TAX

ILLINOIS SHIP ROUTE ASSURED BY SENATE VOTE

But Chicago Loses Diversion Fight.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—Federal completion of the Illinois state waterway project seemed assured today, but under conditions dictated by the lake states hostile to the diversion of water from Lake Michigan at Chicago.

The senate over the opposition of Senators Charles S. Deneen and Otis F. Glenn [Rep., Ill.] adopted by a vote of 61 to 21 the water diversion proviso added by Senator John J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.] to the Illinois waterway paragraph of the house rivers and harbors bill.

The effect of the Blaine amendment, which was a substitute for a commerce committee amendment favored by Senators Deneen and Glenn, is to limit the amount of water diverted for the waterway to the maximums specified in the Supreme court decree in the lake levels case pending further action by congress.

Control Amount of Diversion.

The committee amendment would have authorized the secretary of war and the chief of engineers to control the amount of diversion without regard to the Supreme court maximums which were designed only to meet present navigation needs of the port of Chicago and which did not take into consideration navigation requirements when the state waterway is completed.

While the adoption of the Blaine amendment represented a defeat for Senators Deneen and Glenn and possible difficulties for the waterway, it at least assured prompt disposition of the rivers and harbors bill. The senate is expected to pass the bill tomorrow without much further discussion. It will then go back to the house, which is likely to expedite matters by concurring in all senate amendments to the original house measure instead of sending it to conference.

The rivers and harbors bill may reach President Hoover late tomorrow or in any event it seems certain to be signed before congress adjourns, probably within the next week.

Threatened a Filibuster.

If the Blaine amendment had been rejected Senator Blaine and Senator A. H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.], who was his chief supporter in obtaining its adoption, were threatening a filibuster against the bill. Senators Deneen and Glenn indicated tonight that they will accept the bill as it now stands and there is consequently no further reason for delay.

One factor contributing to adoption of the Blaine amendment was a declaration for it by Senator J. E. Ransdell [Dem., La.], who is active in waterway matters. Senator Ransdell, who was fearful of a filibuster which would prevent action on the bill at this session, proposed a minor modification to the Blaine amendment which Senator Blaine accepted.

Included among the 45 senators voting for the Blaine amendment were 24 Republicans, 19 Democrats, and the Farmer-Labor member. Most of the radicals followed the leadership of Senator Blaine. The lake state senators from Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, and Ohio were solidly for the amendment as were those from Pennsylvania and New York.

Against Blaine Amendment.

Against the amendment were 12 Republicans and 9 Democrats.

The Republicans voting against the amendment besides Senators Deneen and Glenn were Senators Arthur Robinson [Ind.], W. H. McMaster [S. D.], H. D. Hatfield [W. Va.], Daniel O. Hastings and J. G. Townsend [Del.], R. C. Patterson [Mo.], John M. Robsion [Ky.], Reed Smoot [Utah], John Thomas [Idaho], and Pat Sullivan [Wyo.].

The Democrats voting against it were Senators A. W. Barkley [Ky.], E. L. Bronssard [La.], T. H. Caraway and J. T. Robinson [Ark.], W. J. Harris [Ga.], J. T. Heflin [Ala.], J. B. Kendrick [Wyo.], Kenneth McKeller [Tenn.], and H. D. Stephens [Miss.].

The rivers and harbors bill, as it will be passed by the senate, authorizes projects totaling a little more than 120 millions, as compared with about 110 millions in the bill as passed by the house. The expenditures would be made over a period of years from lump sum annual appropriations which at present amount to $55,000,000 a year.

The Illinois waterway item authorizes the appropriation of $7,500,000 for completion of the state waterway project from Lockport to Utica for Acting Police Commissioner John H. Alcock reorganized the police department last night for a more effective campaign to destroy gangs and protect the law-abiding public. He demoted and promoted, issued commands and warnings, and ordered the entire weight of the department thrown against the criminal element under a new plan of responsibility and procedure.

The first blow under the new régime was struck early this morning when Sergt. William Hoffman's squad from Acting Commissioner Alcock's office raided the Versailles grill at 25 East 7th street and seized $5,000 worth of whisky, wine, and ale and three prisoners. The men taken into custody are Sam Mustakes, owner of the grill; John Kurusis, a waiter, and Nick Zomeds, a chef.

Norton Chief of Detectives.

Acting Commissioner Alcock's major orders reorganizing the department yesterday were:

The appointment of Lieut. John H. Norton as chief of detectives, and Capt. John Ryan as deputy chief of detectives.

An order to Norton and Ryan to keep 200 men at the detective bureau and send the 700 others back to districts for duty as patrolmen in uniform.

Demotes Deputy Commissioners.

Demotion of Deputy Commissioners Martin E. Mullen, John L. Hogan, Ira J. McDowell, James L. Mooney, and Thomas C. Wolfe, restoring them to their civil service ranks of captain but leaving them unassigned over night.

Appointment of Alcock's former secretary, Sergt. James B. Scanlan, to be a temporary lieutenant of detectives and then promotion of Scanlan to be acting first deputy police commissioner.

Promotion of the following to be lieutenants of detectives: Sergt. Lawrence Rafferty, Sergt. Christopher J. Reed, Sergt. William J. Bowler, and Alcock's brother, Sergt. Michael Alcock.

Demotion of Lieutenant of Detectives Thomas F. McFarland to a police lieutenancy and of Lieutenant of Detectives John T. Cartan to a sergeancy.

Will Triple Beat Force.

Acting Commissioner Alcock informed the members of the city council police committee, before whom he was a witness yesterday morning, that he would put three times as many patrolmen on the streets as there had been, which would add 2,200 men to the uniformed force, taking them from plain clothes duty at the detective bureau and other special assignments.

Therefore his orders to Chief Norton

Byrd Returns; Tells Tales of Icebound Pole

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd came home today from an end of the earth—from a desolate land without horizons.

And after New York had given him a welcome second only to the welcome it once gave Lindbergh, the explorer who now has flown over both poles, told of the scientific discoveries of his Antarctic exploration.

The Expedition's Achievements.

The claiming of more than 125,000 square miles of new land for the United States.

The discovery of vast deposits of coal and possibly metals in the Queen Maud mountains—there is enough coal under the antarctic snow and ice to warm all the peoples of the earth for hundreds of years.

The discovery of material proving that the frozen wastes of Antarctica was once tropical or semi-tropical.

Those were the high lights to Admiral Byrd's mind, of the achievements of the expedition. There were numerous other discoveries made while living a strange life in Little America where the little army of explorers had their base, which when completed, he says, will fill four volumes.

Slim and youthful appearing, the admiral nevertheless had streaks of gray in his hair and lines of responsibility and worry in his face, which told of the two years of hardships in the regions so devoid of life there aren't even any microbes in the water.

Directs His Interviews.

Lounging in his hotel room, resting between his uproarious street welcome, his luncheon appearance and a formal dinner given him by the chamber of commerce, the admiral submitted to interviewers but steered the questions into channels of his own choosing.

This was his story:

"In the field of geology we investigated one of the most important points, geologically speaking, left in the world, the Queen Maud mountains, about 300 miles from the south pole. We sent out a dog sled party under Dr. Lawrence Gould. They discovered carbonaceous material at 5,000 feet and other material which proved that Antarctica was once tropical or semi-tropical. We investigated the newly discovered Rockefeller mountains and found them to be granite and some of the oldest in the world.

"Not only was new land discovered," Admiral Byrd continued, "but it was also established that Carmen land, reported by Amundsen, was not land at all. This is in no way discreditable to Amundsen, because great pressure ice ridges pushed up in the airlike mountains give the impression of land, and then there are mirages and most peculiar atmospheric conditions.

Can't See with Accuracy.

"In the Antarctic daylight you can't see with any accuracy. You might fall down a crevasse by walking right into it without seeing it. If there is a pressure ridge to the east of you you may look at it and then think you may see another to the west that is not there at all. Small objects look large; one of our men mistook a shoe lying not ten feet from him for a seal. There is no visible horizon and everything is distorted. It was quite natural to believe that there was land where Amundsen reported his

ASSEMBLY ACTS; UP TO CITIZENS AT POLLS NOV. 4

House Passes All 31 Strawn Bills.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 19.—[Special.]—Adoption of the resolution for the proposed income tax amendment to the Illinois constitution was completed today by action in both houses of the general assembly.

Plus the changes that it had added to the senate proposal, the house of representatives passed the resolution during the afternoon by a vote of 103 to 25, giving it one more vote than the required two-thirds. In the evening the senate concurred in the house amendments by the necessary 34 votes. This completed the process necessary to place the proposal on the ballot in the state election on Nov. 4.

What Amendment Means.

The amendment proposed is a revision of article 9 of the 1870 constitution. In general it removes the present restriction on the powers of the general assembly in reference to the uniformity of legislation in the taxation field.

Its general effect is to permit the classification of property for the purpose of taxation. Its advocates contend that it would result in putting on the tax books millions of dollars of personal property that now escapes taxation because the uniformity provision prevents the levying of taxes in a manner that would not be confiscatory of limited return items such as savings accounts.

Its opponents charge that its chief purpose is to open the door for the levying of a state income tax.

This has been the only route suggested as the method of reaching the intangibles which escape taxation under the present law.

Five from Cook Vote Yes.

Three of the eight Cook county senators who voted to pass the amendment in its original form were absent today—John T. Joyce of the Twenty-ninth district; Theodore R. Steinert of the Twenty-fifth, and John T. Denvir of the Nineteenth. The other five voted with the Barr program on the majority of the motions today. They were James J. Barbour of the Sixth district; James Leonardo, Seventeenth; Adolph Marks, First; Lowell B. Mason, Twenty-third, and Adelbert H. Roberts, Third.

The final decision of the house was not cast until after downstate openly had shown its intention to defeat the whole Strawn citizens' committee program for the relief of the local governments of Cook county unless the basic law proposition was approved.

Then Stragglers Arrive.

That display of strength from the thirty-two downstate districts, which would be reduced to twenty-five if the redistricting mandate of the constitution were obeyed, came in the house, where the Chicago financing bills were coming up for final consideration immediately after the resolution. On a first try the resolution failed by one vote to reach the 102 mark. The calling up of the Strawn series was begun, but the downstate majority at once began to vote postponement of consideration.

Then the leader of this activity called up the constitutional proposal again. Two downstate stragglers had come in. The resolution was adopted and then the thirty-one Strawn bills were called up and passed with little opposition. They now are over on the senate side, where final action is expected next week.

The senate's action was as smooth and as deliberate, as are most of its proceedings are under the direction of Senator Richard J. Barr. In this instance, with smiling brief explanations, Barr brought up each amendment and the bunch of votes that he had kept waiting all afternoon went on record for it. The only subsantial change was that Senator John Broderick of Chicago voted with Barr when his vote was needed to make up the 34 constituting the required two-thirds of this house.

How 17 Chicagoans Voted.

George W. Blackwell [Rep., First district]; James B. Boyle [Dem., 4th]; Harry B. Gaines [Rep., 1st]; A. O. Galvin [Rep., 37th]; J. W. Harris [Rep., 21st]; E. A. W. Johnson [Rep., 6th]; William W. NEW BRUNSWICK VOTERS DEFEAT PROHIBITIONISTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

FREDERICTON, N. B., June 19.—The government of John B. M. Baxter, Conservative, was returned to power in general provincial elections today. He carried 31 of the 48 seats in the New Brunswick legislature. The Liberal opposition party made an issue of the Baxter government's control of liquor sales, declaring the premier pledged to retain prohibition until the people decided otherwise.

Wendell P. Jones, leader of the opposition party, was beaten in Carleton county, one of the temperance strongholds of the province, and his party failed to make any gains in any of the temperance counties, except two seats in Albert county. The opposition also won four seats in Northumberland county from the government, the chief issue there being unemployment.

Today's election result means the death knell of prohibition in New Brunswick and may be followed by changes in the liquor control law, providing for sale of beer and wines with meals in hotels and selected restaurants.

A SOCIAL LION COLLIDES WITH A MILK BOTTLE

Arthur Johnson, 24 years old and dashing, of 2644 Emmett street, is in the Bridewell hospital suffering from excessive popularity with the fair sex. Three young women went so wild over Arthur early yesterday morning that they engaged in a free for all, in the course of which Arthur accidentally stepped in the way of a milk bottle.

On Wednesday evening he had met Miss Emily Walker, 22 years old, of 4535 North Hazel avenue, in a dance hall. After midnight they returned to his apartment. There they encountered Miss Anne Gerber, 21 years old, and Miss Jean Laski, 20 years old, of 2639 Cortland street. These two resented Miss Walker's presence. One word, as we say, led to another, until all three were pulling hair.

Arthur was only an innocent bystander, he said, when one of the girls spied the quart bottle of milk and let fly with it. Arthur remembers no more. He woke up in the Bridewell hospital. The Shakespeare avenue police are holding the girls.

Another Shot by Mad Killer; 2,000 Hunt

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—While 2,000 policemen and 400 detectives were scouring Queens and Nassau counties tonight for the mysterious killer of two men, Morris Horwitz, an insurance man, was shot and seriously wounded tonight by "a wild-eyed crazy looking man" as he sat in his sedan in front of his home in Brooklyn, talking to his wife, who was seated on the porch.

The gunman escaped on the run, disappearing into an automobile driveway between two streets, and, although a strong police cordon was thrown around the district, efforts by armed searchers with powerful flashlights failed to produce him.

Horwitz was taken to a hospital suffering from a gash in the forehead, inflicted by the gunman with the butt of his pistol, and from a bullet which entered his shoulder, penetrated a lung and lodged in his abdomen.

Described by Victim.

During a brief spell of consciousness at the hospital, Horwitz, who is president of the Municipal Underwriters, Inc., gave detectives a description of his assailant. He said the man was about five feet four inches tall, weighed about 130 pounds, wore a dark suit but no hat, had blonde hair and was "wild eyed, as if he were crazy."

Horwitz was leaning out of the right front seat window of his machine, chatting with his wife, Rose, when the man approached him. Without warning the man flourished a pistol and said:

"Move over to the steering wheel and start the car and keep going. If you don't, I'll shoot you."

The thug then entered the car and took a front seat beside Mr. Horwitz. Apparently dissatisfied at the slow actions of the insurance man, the stranger struck him on the forehead with the butt of his pistol, then placed the barrel of the revolver against his victim's shoulder and fired.

While Mrs. Horwitz screamed in terror, the man fled, firing a second shot at the automobile, which went wild.

Chased by Two Neighbors.

Two acquaintances of the wounded man—Al Zelb, and his brother, Leon—approached in their car as the gunman fired his second shot. They gave chase on foot but were outdistanced and lost the trail.

Late tonight, while the police were still combing the neighborhood, officials said they had not found any clews to connect the gunman with the supposed madman, who was being sought by a small army of police and detectives in Queens and Nassau counties.

Meanwhile the police had recorded another letter containing a cabalistic list of seven persons marked for death, in the handwriting of the man who says he murdered two men during the week in Queens, and who boasts he will kill thirteen others.

BIG PLANT OPENS UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE PLAN

Schenectady, N. Y., June 19.—[Special.]—A form of unemployment insurance for its own workers in slack times is being put into effect by the General Electric company, its president, Gerard Swope, announced today.

Equal contributions will be made by the employés and by the company. Employés who have been with the concern a year or more will pay 1 per cent of their salary for three years, but only when they are working at least 50 per cent full time. In times of abnormal unemployment contributions by participating employés would cease and all other employés, including the highest officers of the company, would be called on to contribute 1 per cent of their earnings.

Payments during temporary layoffs will be 50 per cent of an employé's average full time earnings, but shall not exceed $20 a week, or be made more than ten weeks in any consecu-

Representatives Johnson and Turner are the lame ducks. Johnson was not a candidate in April and Turner was defeated in that primary. Johnson, after voting against the amendment on the first roll call, changed his vote and went for it. O'Grady, a Democrat, was not recorded on the losing roll call, but came in on the second one when the amendment won.

Unlimbers Downstate Guns.

Before the vote — 101 to 23—had been announced Representative Homer J. Tice was on his feet with a motion to postpone further consideration. There was considerable shouting, particularly from the winning minority, and Speaker Shanahan put the motion as one for reconsideration. It was carried, and then Igoe made the point of order that Tice, having voted with the losing side, could not move to reconsider.

After great confusion the situation was straightened out and the motion to postpone was adopted by a rising vote of 99 to 15.

Thereupon downstate unlimbered its guns against the Strawn bills which were next on the order of business. Representative Arthur Roe of Vandalia moved that consideration of the first of the relief bills be postponed. He won on a rising vote by 81 to 32. The same procedure was followed on the second of the series.

Then Roe, for the second time, called up the income tax amendment to the constitution. There was little argument on the merits or demerits of the measure, and the roll call, checked and rechecked, showed it carried by 103 to 25, all of the negatives coming from Cook county.

On First Roll Call.

On the first roll call Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg explained that he could not vote for the amendment because his amendment to limit to 10 per cent the state's share of the proceeds of an income tax except by a two-thirds vote of the assembly and because other taxes on intangibles had not been made subject to this sort of restriction.

As the roll call was completed and Speaker Shanahan's name was called he explained his vote in a way that opened a controversy.

"I don't know," he said, "what has happened in connection with this resolution since yesterday, what has come over this house. I was given to understand that in its amended form it was satisfactory and I gave my promise to vote for it and I'm going through with that promise whether it is right or wrong."

Igoe Denies Agreement.

Later, when the resolution was brought up a second time, he made some similar remarks and exception was taken by several members. Representative Michael L. Igoe, minority leader, said he knew of no agreement to support the amendment. In response to a challenge from him, Speaker Shanahan said he thought such an agreement had been reached in a conference with him and Republican leaders including Schnackenberg and David L. Swanson, both of whom had voted against the amendment.

All three of the representatives mentioned denied that any such agreement had been reached or discussed.

Representative Charles H. Weber was the only man in the chamber to state that he voted against the new grant of power to the downstate controlled assembly because of the twenty year refusal to reapportion the state in obedience to the constitution.

FIRES SHOTS, DRIVES WIFE OUT.

In a quarrel last night with his wife, Frances, 45 years old, Anton Jnupsup, 46 years old, fired two shots, chasing her from their home at 4435 South Maplewood avenue. He was arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

House Beats Igoe Bill to Abolish Cook County Tax Assessors and Review Boards

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 19.—[Special.]—Investigation of the taxing machinery of Cook county by the house of representatives of the general assembly wound up short today with defeat of the Igoe bill aimed to wipe out the boards of assessors and reviewers.

In the meantime a new inquiry by a special committee of the senate aroused widespread curiosity and comment by the announcement that Mayor Thompson, President Cermak, and others had been summoned to appear before the committee in Chicago tomorrow morning.

G. O. P. Woman Votes for Igoe Bill.

Igoe's bill to oust the Cook county tax assessors and reviewers died a decisive death in the house after a morning of mixed debate. With but one exception, the roll call showed a strict party vote, and the house sent it out of committee of the whole with an unfavorable recommendation by a count of 79 to 47. Republican Representative Lottie Holman O'Neill of Downers Grove voted with the Democrats in the only misalignment.

The session this morning opened as stormily as it closed last night. A midnight adjournment was had amid wreaths of smoke lingering from the encounter between Speaker David E. Shanahan and Chairman William H. Malone of the state tax commission. An armistice was agreed upon between the two early today when Malone arrived at the speaker's hotel and said he had meant no reflection upon Mr. Shanahan Wednesday night in remarks which led to his bitter denunciation by the speaker.

The house became embroiled in cries of "politics" almost immediately this morning, and while Democrats and Republicans stormed at each other, the Mason senate committee, named to hear Cook county officials on the tax situation, agreed to hold a hearing in room 1772 First National Bank building, in the suite occupied by the law firm of Winton, Strawn & Shaw, tomorrow morning.

Invited to Inquiry.

It was announced that invitations to appear there at 10 a. m. had been sent to Mayor Thompson, City Controller Schmidt, President Cermak of the county board, State's Attorney Swanson, Commissioner of Police Alcock, Fire Marshal Corrigan, Ald. Oscar Nelson, and John S. Clark, John Richert of the council finance committee staff and J. L. Jacobs, county efficiency expert.

It was explained that Commissioner Alcock was called so that he might be questioned on the possibility of police being laid off after July in case relief legislation is denied.

Representative Thomas J. O'Grady [Dem.] is expected to introduce a resolution before the end of the special session to investigate the alleged inequalities in the capital stock assessments of the tax commission under Malone's chairmanship. O'Grady hinted at this last night after the Malone-Shanahan clash.

Mr. Igoe took the floor for his bill as soon as the house went into committee of the whole, reiterating that it was the only measure designed to reduce taxes by eliminating the assessing and reviewing boards and supplanting them with one assessor and two reviewers. He described Republican opposition to the measure as "politics comes before the taxpayers, and politics must hold sway."

Completes His Denunciation.

As Igoe completed his denunciation of those who would vote to relieve the taxpayers while allowing bad conditions to continue, Mrs. O'Neill asked him a question.

"I like the sound of your bill," she said, "but last night Mr. Shanahan, from the floor, said it was politics. What did he mean by that?"

"Ask him," said Igoe, "but if you think the bill has its merits, it should be passed, shouldn't it?"

Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg of Chicago, Republican leader, rose.

"This bill is the opening gun for the Democratic fall campaign," he charged. "It is not a part of the Strawn relief program and it is not essential." Schnackenberg then raised the skeleton of martial law for Chicago after July 1 and pictured the unpaid policemen, school teachers, and municipal employés and the streets filled with federal troops.

Calls It Keynote Speech.

"The Democratic leader," said Schnackenberg, "says 'if you defeat my bill I'll vote against the Strawn bills.' That is his challenge to the public and the school teachers and the janitors. And if that is a challenge, I'll vote no on every Strawn bill myself, and the Democratic leader can go back to Chicago and tell the people why he balked relief. His object isn't relief. It's a keynote speech."

Speaking with visible signs of emotion, Mr. Shanahan disclaimed that he was actuated by political reasons when he advised against including a measure similar to the Igoe bill when he met with some members of the Strawn committee several months ago. He recited his political history, challenged any one to show he had been other than impartial in his rulings, and said he had advised against a bill such as Igoe's only because he believed it doubtful if the house could agree on the abolishment. "I doubted if they could do it in a special session when politics would be raised," he said. He painted, as had Schnackenberg, the picture of Chicago without relief after July 1.

As Shanahan concluded, Igoe assured him that no criticism of him was intended and praised his impartiality.

Igoe's bill then was subjected to the roll call and, having lost, the minority leader moved that it be kept on the calendar, but this, too, on roll call, showed a similar vote.

FORD AIDS YOUNG BANK EMBEZZLER —GIVES HIM A JOB

Detroit, Mich., June 19.—[Special.]—James Peterson, former Highland Park High school boy, who embezzled $1,000 from a branch of the First National bank, where he was a teller, was released today on bond provided by Henry Ford.

The youth is to have another chance because Ford read his story and made a trip downtown with Harry Bennett, chief of the Ford Motor company police, to investigate. J. Stanley Hurd, United States commissioner, reduced Peterson's bond from $5,000 to $1,000.

"I'm so thankful to Mr. Ford," Peterson said. "I'm going to try hard to make good."

Peterson is to have a job at the Ford plant. He may be called for trial later, but it is also possible that he may avoid a prison sentence if he makes good and pays back the money he took from the bank.

Peterson said he took the money for a nurse with whom he kept company.

SABATH ASKS HOUSE PROBE TO FIX BLAME FOR STOCK CRASHES

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—A congressional investigation to determine the responsibility for the stock market crashes last November and since was proposed today in a resolution presented to the house by Representative Adolph J. Sabath [Dem., Ill.].

The Sabath resolution would direct the speaker to name a committee of seven house members who would be authorized to investigate "to what extent the tremendous professional short selling on the various stock exchanges was responsible" for the crashes and the "depression of business" and also to what extent the stock exchanges "condone and encourage this destructive practice of pool short selling."

The committee would be further directed to study the feasibility of taxing or completely prohibiting short sales.

Mr. Sabath explained that his resolution is in line with a bill which he has previously introduced with the intent of restricting the exchanges.

VOTE RECOUNTS IN 43D AND 49TH WARDS DROPPED

The recounts of the ballots cast for Democratic ward committeemen in the 43d and 49th wards were dropped yesterday after a recount by the election commissioners of a dozen ballot boxes failed to show any material change from the original tally. In the 43d ward James J. O'Toole dropped his fight against Rudolph Schapp, and in the 49th ward James M. Slattery dropped the contest against John D. Hayes.

The recount of 24 test precincts in the 29th senatorial district, where the Republican nomination of State Senator John T. Joyce is being contested by Wallace F. Kirk, yesterday gave Joyce a net gain of 33 votes. In the 31st senatorial district, where a recount of the ballots cast for Republican state representative is being held, John G. Glaser Jr., shown by the canvass to have been one of the two successful candidates, is steadily losing, according to the election board. In this district Roy Juul, the present representative, is contesting Glaser's election.

FILE PETITIONS FOR RECALL OF DETROIT MAYOR

Election Must Be Called in 25 Days.

Detroit, Mich., June 19.—[Special.]—Petitions bearing the names of 111,270 Detroiters asking the recall of Mayor Bowles were filed today with Richard W. Reading, city clerk. They were filed by Walter B. Cary, leader of the recall movement, who had conferred at noon with several political leaders and business men. Only 90,000 signatures were needed under the law.

The law specifies that the city clerk, within five days of the filing of recall petitions with him, must issue a call for a special election, and the election must be held within 20 days of the call. The election is on the simple question of whether or not the official shall be recalled.

Another Election Follows.

If the recall carries, another election must be held—with Mayor Bowles' name on the ticket—to fill the vacancy.

Early in the period of circulation opponents of the petition were reported to have boasted that they would discredit the entire circulation by having fake signatures submitted, with a view to challenging them after the filing.

The recall committee, which had been carefully checking all signatures previously, took this as an added reason for a very careful survey of each petition. As a result several thousand questionable signatures were thrown aside, and the prosecuting attorney was notified of the facts disclosed and asked to prosecute relentlessly any person involved in an effort to impose fraudulent signatures upon the committee and upon the city clerk.

Mayor Notified.

Budd Blum, assistant secretary of Mayor Bowles, came in while the city clerk was signing a receipt for the petitions, and was directed by Reading to tell the mayor that the names had been filed.

Meanwhile Mayor Bowles was in conference with Louis J. Colombo, an attorney, and it was believed that the mayor contemplated mandamus proceedings in an effort to halt the recall election. And after a conference with John Gillespie, his commissioner of public works, the mayor said he would immediately employ private counsel. It was inferred that an effort will be made to upset the recall on technicalities and plunge the movement into the courts for endless delays.

"Talkies" Path to Peace, Will Hays Tells Film Men

PARIS, June 19.—(AP)—Subcommittees of the international conference of film magnates and producers made such rapid progress this afternoon that another session of the joint committee will meet tomorrow morning under the presidency of Will Hays, American motion picture industry supervisor. Mr. Hays in his opening speech declared he thought the "talkies" would be a superlative instrument to promote world peace.

New York Gives Him Noisy Welcome.

Carmen land, but it is now established that there is no land there.

"Every inch of new land, and that is no exaggeration, was photographed. We have a complete picture record of every flight.

"The biologist made studies of the only sojourners on the continent. Beyond the edge of the continent we find only primitive lichen plants.

"There aren't any bugs in the water," Admiral Byrd said. "It is so sterile that doctors can use it just as it is without any fear of infection."

Missed Civilization's Noises.

"What did you miss the most down there?" one girl reporter asked.

"Well," he drawled, "we missed the ladies an awful lot."

He smiled and then spoke more seriously.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "I guess we missed the ordinary sounds of civilized life more than almost anything. Silence lies over the antarctic as though the sense of hearing had ceased to function. That is, it does until the temperature gets down to sixty degrees below zero, and then you can hear the ice begin to crack like cannon."

Admiral Byrd said he could not discuss his next expedition until the debts of the present one are settled. There is a deficit of between $50,000 and $100,000.

Glorious as was New York's attempt to erase the memory of the long, dreary days and nights in the limitless land of ice 17,000 miles away, it left Admiral Byrd and his followers tired out at the end of the day when they departed for Washington to be received as the nation's heroes. The party traveled in a special train.

Entire Day of Ceremony.

Admiral Byrd went to his train from the Hotel Astor, where he had been honored by 1,200 members of the Merchants' association of New York. The day's ceremonies began early in the morning when Admiral Byrd and his party stepped off the deck of the flag ship, the City of New York, to the city's welcoming vessel, the Macom, amid a deafening din of sirens and steam whistles of seventy odd craft. Until the day was done, Admiral Byrd was swept along at the will of the crowd with his fellow explorers excepting one. One man, too modest to face the crowd, remained on the ice battered old veteran of the antarctic and smilingly waved adieu as the Macom pulled away. He was George Black, supply officer of the expedition.

For the rest, separated from their kinsfolk for many long months, reunions had to wait, although some there were aboard who were anxious to see for the first time children born since they started on their great adventure into an almost unknown land. Admiral Byrd had no chance to greet his mother, Mrs. Eleanor Bolling Byrd, until the Macon was near her pier at the battery, and his wife he did not meet until he reached city hall.

Fire in the attic of the Niles public school, Touhy avenue and Milwaukee road, Niles, interrupted classes for an hour there yesterday. The teacher, Mrs. Alice Green, led her twenty pupils out quietly, after which the Niles volunteer firemen extinguished the blaze.

FRENCH DEMAND ULTIMATUM TO U. S. ON TARIFFS

Threaten Trade Boycott Unless Rates Drop.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 19. — With the ink barely dry on President Hoover's signature to the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill the French chamber today fired the first answering shot in the long threatened trade war.

The influential French tariff committee in an extraordinary session this afternoon adopted a unanimous resolution branding the American tariff as a cruel, unfriendly blow to French industry and calling on the government to issue a virtual ultimatum to President Hoover to start putting the duties immediately under the provisions of the bill's flexible clause. If the ultimatum is not heeded the government is instructed, in effect, to "give American industry the works."

Would Annul Treaty.

Exactly what is meant by "the works" is not certain yet, but the committee proposes as a preliminary measure, reprisal by annulling the most favored nation treaty between France and America.

It is reported that the government does not contemplate direct reprisals, such as by class, against the new American tariff, but will concentrate its attack on certain articles which are particularly vulnerable.

Auto Trade Might Suffer.

The automobile is the chief representative of this class. The American motor interests are already hard hit by the new French tariffs, but now it seems they may be driven out of the country entirely, and a selected group of basic American industries accorded the same treatment.

In the opinion of well informed political observers the action of the tariff committee can be taken as expressing the view of the whole chamber, and there is every reason to believe that the government feels the same way.

The resolution of the committee is believed to have been inspired by a communique issued by the American embassy here yesterday, which said the tariff bill will not cripple French industry. At a meeting this morning Minister of Commerce Pierre Etienne Flandin attacked Ambassador Walter E. Edge's figures, saying that it was impossible to ascertain exactly how hard French industry would be hit, but that he was sure that the embassy's figures were misleading.

List Three Objections.

The phraseology of the French resolution reads as follows:

"The committee on customs of the chambers, after examining attentively the consequences of the increase in customs duties decided upon by the United States, notes with regret:

"First—That the new American tariff, affecting especially the most active branches of production, will notably decrease French exports to that great, friendly country.

"Second—That it will seriously increase the difficulties which generalized economic nationalism is bringing about in international exchanges.

"Third, that owing to the injury to the equilibrium of their commercial balances, countries which have debts to settle with the United States risk a severe tension in the monetary system.

Would Boost Own Tariffs.

"In view of these considerations, the committee considers it necessary to adapt French duties on American goods to the same scale which French exports are subjected by America.

"The tariff committee further demands that the government immediately make representations to President Hoover to obtain diminutions of the duties necessary to preserve French exports, and in case these representations are unsuccessful the committee insists on the suppression of the most favored nation clause in the treaty with America, considering it illogical to allow that country to benefit without any of those reciprocal concessions which other nations are accustomed to make."

MORE WORRIES IN TARIFF.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—While a house committee today gave over the attempt to bind together the loose ends that have sprung out in a variety of proposals affecting tariff rates, new worries were accumulating for the tariff commission.

The state department prepared to forward all foreign protests against rates to the White House and the tariff commission. At the same time a measure was introduced in the house to widen the scope of the investigation the senate already has instructed the commission to make into the cost of production of a group of articles.

GRAVE OF THE REAL 'UNCLE TOM' FOUND IN WEEDS OF CEMETERY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., June 19.—Toronto's cleanup of an old cemetery by weed inspectors near Dresden, Ont., has revealed the monument erected years ago over the grave of the Rev. Josiah Henson, the man after whom Harriet Beecher Stowe modeled the hero character of her "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

While the location of the grave is known to many of the older residents of the Dresden district it has for the first time been communicated to the provincial authorities at Toronto, and some action may be taken this year by George S. Henry, minister of highways, to mark the spot, not only for the benefit of American tourists but for the information of Canadian history students as well.

The monument, which is close to the King's highway, carries the inscribed information that the original "Uncle Tom" was born July 5, 1789, and died May 5, 1853, at the age of 93. Above the inscription is the Masonic emblem.

YAWL WITH SIX ON BOARD RUNS ON THE ROCKS

The Circe, 55 foot auxiliary yawl, with six persons aboard went aground last night in the north gap in the breakwater off Oak street beach. The loss of a keel was the only damage to the craft. It was pulled off the rocks by Capt. J. O. Anderson and his coast guard crew aboard the coast guard's new nonsinkable launch.

In charge of the yawl was E. F. Kelly, a broker, who lives at 412 South Grove street, Oak Park. He said the boat belonged to Robert F. Grim of Riverside. Others aboard were Mrs. Kelly, J. C. McDonnell, 5555 Sheridan road, James Boudreau, a broker with offices at 160 South La Salle, and his wife, and a sailor, Erick Anderson.

SENATOR BAIRD AND PARTNER'S WIDOW MARRIED

Camden, N. J., June 19.—(AP)—United States Senator David Baird Jr. and Mrs. Francis H. Smith, widow of his former business associate, were married tonight.

Telegrams to close friends announced the marriage, but they revealed nothing else. They contained no intimation as to the whereabouts of the pair, where the ceremony took place or where they intend to spend their honeymoon.

Senator Baird, however, is expected to be in Trenton Tuesday for the state convention of the Republican party. It is known that he has passports permitting his wife and himself to sail for Europe, but they are not to be used until July 1.

LEAP FROM COURTROOM FATAL.

Charles Castillo, 39 years old, a Mexican laborer of 835 Cambridge street, who leaped from a window of the Des Plaines street court on Wednesday after being freed from a charge of intoxication, died of his injuries yesterday in the county hospital.

DIAL PHONE HAS SENATE FRIENDS, BUT BAN STANDS

Not Allowed to Make Their Choice.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—Kind words were spoken for the ostracized dial telephone in the senate today, but Senator Glass of Virginia, whose resolution to take them from the senate passed, indicated firmly he had not changed his attitude.

He insisted he was not sufficiently instructed in "algebra and Chinese puzzles yet" to permit consideration of a solution authorizing the retention of some dial phones in the Capitol.

Senator Tydings of Maryland sought unsuccessfully to get consideration of a resolution permitting senators who wanted the dial telephones to keep them. The senate ordered all the dial phones taken out within 30 days. That period expires on Saturday.

Have a Few Friends.

Senators La Follette of Wisconsin, Norris of Nebraska, and Barkley of Kentucky, spoke the first friendly words heard in the senate for the new dials. Glass indicated he might yield later to permit those senators who wanted the new instruments to have them, but he stood firm today in his opposition and showed a sheaf of telegrams and letters indohsing his stand.

"I am not going to bother with those fool dials," the Virginian said. "I had enough trouble with algebra when I was in school."

"It seems to me we are standing in the road of human progress," replied Norris. "I like the dials. I believe the senate makes itself ridiculous by standing in the way of a modern improvement. It is unfortunate the senator from Virginia did not study algebra when he was in school. I did. For those of us who are educated let us have the dials."

Not Ready for Lessons.

"I see the telephone company has been quite efficient in teaching lessons in Algebra to the senators," answered Glass. "It has been engaged in it ever since those new telephones were put in here. I can take any lessons in algebra to the senators," answered but I am not far enough advanced yet."

Ferocious Rock Island Blaejays Attack Women

Rock Island, Ill., June 19.—[Special.]—Attacked by a bluejay which perched on her head and pecked a hole in her scalp, Mrs. Chester Thompson, wife of the mayor, was painfully injured yesterday. Another woman, Mrs. W. E. Lowman, a neighbor, was also attacked by one of a flock of jays which have been annoying the neighborhood. The flock was put to rout and one killed by police.

Live Wire Kills De Kalb Man and Would-Be Rescuer

Fred Geffenbaugh, 45 years old, of De Kalb, was electrocuted yesterday at Sycamore when he picked up a coil of wire hooked to a line carrying 2,300 volts, and Oliver Conley, 30, also of De Kalb, was killed trying to save him.

Twenty-four girls, students of junior and senior high schools, who were on the honor roll at the recent civic assembly in the Civic Opera house, were entertained at a banquet given by the Woman's City club last night. Eleven of the girls representing the senior high schools were given membership in the junior auxiliary of the club.

CHILD, 2, KILLED AS SISTER ACTS AS STREET GUIDE

Two year old Patricia Pagodny, 1648 West 18th street, was struck and killed by an automobile last night as her 10 year old sister, Geraldine, was leading her across 17th street between Ashland avenue and Paulina street. Geraldine escaped injury. Marquette police held the motorist, Vincent Mozdzierz, 2310 West 19th street.

Mrs. Susie Minarcini, 40 years old, 2027 Canalport avenue, was fatally injured early yesterday when she was struck by an automobile driven by Thomas Webster, manager of the "Orphans of the Storm," the dog refuge conducted by Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin near Deerfield. The accident happened at Milwaukee avenue and Imlay street. Mrs. Minarcini was the mother of five children. Webster was held.

These deaths and one other yesterday raised Cook county's motor toll for the year to 419. The other victims:

I. L. Axelford, 80 years old, 4315 West 16th street, died at the Michael Reese hospital from injuries received on June 12 when he was struck by an automobile while crossing the outer drive at 39th street. The driver was Edward Good, 38 years old, 7400 St. Lawrence avenue.

In a three car crash last night at Laramie and Touhy avenues, Niles Center, Mrs. Irving Crashaw, 40 East Cedar street, and George Hartley, 431 Barry avenue, were seriously injured. Their car, driven by Mrs. Crashaw's husband, a chauffeur, was struck by the automobile of F. W. Anderson, 1114 Center street, Park Ridge. Anderson then collided with the car of Thomas Kelley, 435 Ashland avenue, Park Ridge. Several occupants of the cars suffered cuts and bruises, but no one was seriously hurt except Mrs. Crashaw and Mr. Hartley. Anderson was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Wears Smock in Congress Session and Wears It Well

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—Washington's well known warm weather today caused inauguration of a new feminine fashion on the floor of the house. Representative Edith Nourse Rogers wore a smock for a frock.

It was black with white collar, cuffs, and pocket facing, very trim and neat, although informal.

Mrs. Rogers, proud of her smock, explained it was made by four sixth grade girls of Lowell, Mass., her district.

CARAWAY GIVES CANNON REPORT, BUT NO DEFENSE

Says Bishop Must Do Any Explaining.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—Senator T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.], reporting to the senate today the refusal of Bishop James Cannon Jr. to tell the lobby committee how he spent a $65,300 fund intrusted to him during the 1928 presidential campaign, declined to defend the churchman against any "intimation" that he misappropriated the money.

Caraway, however, added his own opinion that the money, ostensibly contributed by E. C. Jameson, New York insurance man, was merely routed through the latter by the Republican national committee to finance a religious anti-Smith campaign under Cannon's leadership in southern states.

The Arkansas senator, himself a Methodist, did not mention recent revelations of Cannon's bucket shop speculations, but he did declare that "as to the $65,300" the southern Methodist dry leader "stands in an unenviable position, and he can answer for himself—I will not."

Refuses to Take Sides.

"It is intimated," said Caraway, "and I am not defending it nor making the charge; I say that it was made, insinuated at least, on the floor of the house, that Bishop Cannon misappropriated the funds. That may be true, but we are not a grand jury."

Submission by Caraway of the report, a transcript of the questions asked and the bishop's refusal to answer, together with the resolution in which the lobby investigators conceded by a vote of 4 to 1 they had no right to ask the questions, virtually ended the controversy over whether Cannon should be punished for contempt.

Vice President Curtis announced later in the day he has no intention of certifying the transcript to the federal district attorney for possible grand jury action. If the issue is raised, as it may be by Senator J. J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.], the one member of the lobby group who voted to punish Cannon, the Vice President will, he continued, hold that because the report comes from a mere subcommittee of the judiciary committee it is not a formal report, requiring action under the rule prescribing procedure against contumacious witnesses.

Caraway Denies Immunity.

"Under any circumstances," said the Vice President, also a Methodist, "it would be a strange thing to certify as ground for action the refusal to answer questions which a majority of the subcommittee by resolution agreed they would not compel the witness to answer."

Caraway angrily denied that Cannon was given immunity by the lobby investigators and he denounced the charge as "an unqualified and deliberate falsehood," adding that "whoever utters it does so with the knowledge that he is a common liar." He reiterated the contention that the lobby committee had no authority to investigate purely political activities and pointed out that the special senate committee appointed to investigate 1928 campaign expenditures secured the first evidence of Jameson's contribution but did not investigate.

Other Matters Dropped.

"We uncovered several things we did not pursue," declared Caraway, recalling that lobby investigators did not "pursue" the charges against C. H. Huston, Republican national committee chairman, after it was discovered that he had placed a Muscle Shoals lobby contribution in a personal brokerage account. Nor did the committee "pursue," he continued, evidence that W. H. Stayton, chairman of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, kept peach brandy available for fellow wet lobbyists, nor did it ask the state department to act against the Cuban government's sugar lobby, and, he continued, it did not ask the interstate commerce commission to move against a New England railroad shown to have contributed to a lobby.

"Now, of course, I am not defending the course Cannon took," asserted Caraway, recalling that the bishop appeared as a voluntary witness to answer charges lodged against him by Representative G. H. Tinkham [Rep., Miss.]. "Had Cannon or his organization withdrawn the request to come before the committee, I know the committee would have granted the request.

"After he came I think he was under obligation to answer every question that was within the purview of the committee authority to ask, and he did go fully into every question of lobbying. He frankly said he had been a lobbyist for 28 years. He was rather inclined to boast about it."

JUDGE M'GOORTY TO BE NEW HEAD OF CRIMINAL COURT

Judge John P. McGoorty of the Superior court, who for the last two years has been assigned to Criminal court work, is scheduled to be elected chief justice of the Criminal court at the annual meeting of the Superior court judges today. The agreement for Judge McGoorty to succeed Judge Normoyle of the Circuit court was reached at a caucus of the judges yesterday. Unless unforseen developments take place the election will be only a matter of form.

The new chief justice will not take office until the opening of the fall term of court in September. In expectation of an arduous year in the Criminal court, due to the present campaign against crime, Judge McGoorty has been authorized by his associates to take a long rest. He will leave early in July on his vacation.

Judge McGoorty is a veteran of the bench and has served many years in the Criminal courts. He has probably served more time than any other judge in actual Criminal court work. Judge McGoorty is a Democrat.

The judges have decided to send other veterans into the Criminal courts, it was learned. Judges Joseph Sabath, who has become known as a divorce expert, and Hugo Friend, who is also a veteran and has spent considerable time in the Criminal courts, are among those slated for that service. Judge Harry B. Miller, who has served continuously in the Criminal court and has established a reputation for being one of the "best workers," has asked to be relieved from that branch. Judge Otto Kerner, who was also recently commended for his industry by the Chicago crime commission, is also reported to have asked for an assignment to another branch.

ALDERMEN HEAR ALCOCK'S PLANS TO STOP CRIME

Chief Is First Witness Before Inquiry.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Acting Police Commissioner John H. Alcock told the city council investigating committee yesterday how he intended to run the police department. He was the first and only witness at the opening session, in which several vague charges were made of collusion between the police and the gangsters.

Police captains, a judge or two, are to be called in soon, and the old slot machine scandal is to be gone into. The next session is set for Tuesday, June 24. Chairman Thomas F. Byrne in the meantime will appoint a subcommittee to map out a plan of procedure.

Acting Commissioner Alcock said he thought a thorough investigation of the department would be a good thing. As he has ten surplus captains the loss of a few of them by this route would not hamper the department, he said. While there were indications of collusion between police and criminals, he said he had nothing but an opinion on the subject. His main purpose is to put his men to work again on an old fashioned basis of street work, and make the captains responsible for their districts.

Albert Raps State's Attorney.

Before Alcock arrived Ald. Arthur F. Albert [43d], attorney for the committee, made this comment:

"Alcock is a decent honorable man and he will tell the truth whether he is under oath or not. The state's attorney has slipped so badly that we can't rely on him for anything. He should have been doing this six months ago, taking witnesses before the grand jury. Now we must do it ourselves, with the aid of the United States attorney if necessary, and we may compel the state's attorney to act."

ALD. CRONSON—Suppose we hear from the chief.

CHAIRMAN BYRNE—The committee figures he is going to do the best he can. Let's hear what you propose doing, chief.

Alcock Tells His Plans.

ALCOCK—I am proceeding on the theory that I know something about police affairs. I am thoroughly familiar with the office of chief and the work that ought to be done by the chief. My ideas of how the police business should be conducted have been sidetracked for seven years, since June 1, 1923. New methods have been discovered which to my mind have utterly failed to accomplish their purpose. My experience teaches me that the people want to see uniformed police on the street. The presence of patrolmen on the street is preventive of crime. I expect to have three times as many men on the street in ten days as are there now.

CHAIRMAN BYRNE—That's good news.

ALCOCK—The detective department can't function in autos. The bureau is for the purpose of detecting crime, making secret investigations. It was never intended they should run around in cars with gongs notifying the criminals of their coming. We must have squad cars, but the detectives must detect. They must discover where criminals are living and bring them in.

Depends on Vagrancy Law.

"The vagrancy law," Alcock continued, "has been sidetracked for seven years. Properly applied, it will stand in court. I do not anticipate trouble with the judges. I am going to put that law into effect at once.

"I am going to put every man in the department where he will be working. The soft things are absolutely out. We have not sufficient men now to cover the city properly. A survey seven years ago showed we needed 12,600 men. If I had that many now I could man the city properly. I am not saying we cannot do police work with what we have got, but I hope the committee does not expect a 100 per cent police force in six months. It can't be done.

"Rebuilding the police force under present conditions would take five years of the best brains. If Theodore Roosevelt came in here with all his power and punch it would take him five years. I pledge you every patrolman I can possibly put on the street will be there in ten days. We have about 5,000."

Ald. Toman Gives Praise.

ALD. TOMAN—I am happy to find one man in the department that pleases me.

ALCOCK—Another thing. We will handle these 900 men of the detective bureau effectively. Now they don't know where half of them are. Squad cars used in this way are a waste. I am going to assign those not necessary to the bureau to the complete jurisdiction of the police captains. They will be responsible for manning them, and must answer for any negligence. If they don't find it before I do they will walk the plank. The captain and the district is the solution.

ALD. ALBERT—Do you think a full inquiry of the department will be helpful or will harm it?

ALCOCK—I would sooner not answer, but I will say that a full, complete inquiry by the council will be a good thing.

Assails Criminal Conditions.

ALD. ALBERT—Do you think a great amount of crime would be committed if the commanding officers was in full charge of the men in a district?

ALCOCK—He is in full command, but the criminal conditions that do prevail should not prevail.

ALD. TOMAN—They pass the buck.

ALD. ALBERT—If they understood there would be no shifting or passing the buck it would have an effect on the department?

ALCOCK—I couldn't answer that. There are 1,100 men in uniform now, about 400 to a shift. The captain can't function working only eight hours. I am opposed to the day and night captain system. I am going to issue an order today abolishing the deputy commissioners. There will be no such thing as roving squads. There will be detective bureau squads for the work of the bureau.

ALD. TOMAN—What are you going to do with the old men?

ALCOCK—The best men in the department, both officers and patrolmen, are the older men.

ALD. TAYLOR—Is the trouble caused by collusion between crooks and police or by poor distribution?

Blames Prohibition Law.

ALCOCK—I have no information as to collusion. That is one thing to be ascertained. Wherever I find it I will hunt it down and the man is out.

"The main cause of the trouble is the Volstead law," Alcock continued. "Prior to this we had our holdup men, safeblowers and robbers, but we put away 75 to 90 per cent of these and kept supervision of them on parole. It was four or five years after this prohibition law that they got into the beer and moon business and started making money.

"Others, without penitentiary records, came in, and the business was organized and perfected. Today it is the most perfect nationwide organization in the country. They syndicated this city, drove every honest man out of the saloon business by confiscating or bombing his place.

"The racketeers were in possession. They made millions. They drove the legitimate brewer out of business. No man could sell who did not buy from the syndicate. They made their own prices. The profits were so great that they were able to get the smartest men in the country to figure out protection for them. They protected themselves at every angle with that money."

ALD. ALBERT—It would be impossible to deliver beer on the highways unless there was some understanding with the police?

ALCOCK—I believe that is true, but only have an opinion on it.

ALD. ALBERT—If the police were in uniform and were made to understand that this gangster element had no influence in police circles or elsewhere, it would be an important step toward making a real police force?

ALCOCK—That is my belief.

ALD. ALBERT—It is common gossip that the police would be punished if they interfered with gangsters?

ALCOCK—I have heard of such instances.

"Police Don't Deserve All Blame."

ALD. ALBERT—Up until a few days ago the police felt they could not better themselves if they interfered with gangsters and took the course of least resistance?

ALCOCK—That's my impression. All the blame should not be placed on the police for this prohibition trouble. The courts insist on search warrants in all cases. A policeman can't stop to get a search warrant if he sees a load of beer. The government should set the pace and point the way we can prosecute. I think the transfer of prohibition to the department of justice will be effective.

ALD. ALBERT—Do you think it necessary for the police to notify gangsters they would be at a certain prize fight to pick them up?

Raps Reorganization Bill.

Asked about the pending ordinance reorganizing the police department, Commissioner Alcock said he had read it and considered it the "rottenest ordinance ever presented to Chicago, that it enabled the police commissioner to pass the buck to the aldermen."

He would only recommend one change, and that would be to define the duties of the assistant superintendent of police, so that an efficient man would always be on the job.

He said he would not order "shakeups" of the department once he had it organized on the new lines.

ALD. MELLIN—Do the police get sufficient salaries?

ALCOCK—They do not.

Will Place Surplus Captains.

The acting commissioner said he had ten surplus captains, but that he would find jobs for them and would not seek to get their jobs or to lower them in civil service.

ALD. JAMES B. BOWLER—We were advised that there was a good chance of cleaning up the Lingle murder?

ALCOCK—I have no information on that. I will begin on it today.

ALD. ALBERT—Any recommendation from this committee to remove an inefficient captain would not affect the department?

ALCOCK—Not at all.

ALD. ALBERT—There were 80 slot machines confiscated in the Hudson avenue district. They were given to the custodian and some of the same machines, by serial number, were later found in operation on the south side. Could that happen unless the syndicate worked with the police?

ALCOCK—I do not see how it could.

ALD. GOVIER—Do you know that gunmen who give their guns up to the court get them back, from the judge to the bailiff to the gunman—a triple play?

ALCOCK—I don't know.

ALD. GOVIER—I do.

SEVERAL ALDERMEN—Let's get the judge in.

ALCOCK—I will try to get the cooperation of the judges again.

Auto killings were then discussed. Homer C. Harris, a tractor salesman, presented a plan by which every solicitor would have to carry a police identification card with his photograph on it.

ALD. CRONSON—Let's adjourn for ten days to give Alcock a chance.

Albert Wants to Go Ahead.

ALD. ALBERT—I think we should go ahead. Let's call in the custodian and find out about these machine guns and things. And these slot machines. We know those police captains were guilty.

AN ALDERMAN—I know a spot in your ward where slot machines were running when other wards were clean.

CHAIRMAN BYRNE—One at a time—what is our first job?

ALD. GOVIER—The gunman—get the judge in.

ALD. ALBERT—No delay. Start somewhere. This was not started for the purpose of whitewashing. No alderman should stand in the way.

ALD. T. J. BOWLER—Albert is right. Let's get rid of the rotten eggs.

ALD. J. B. BOWLER—I suggest a meeting next Tuesday, with a subcommittee to work out a plan of procedure.

ALD. CRONSON—I hope to see a stop put to wholesale, illegal arrests.

ALD. TOMAN—I make a motion to have a subcommittee of three appointed by the chairman to plan procedure.

This was seconded and passed and the meeting adjourned.

SERGEANT BECOMES ASSISTANT POLICE CHIEF IN 20 MINUTES

James B. Scanlan was promoted yesterday to be acting first deputy commissioner of police. Until yesterday morning he was Sergt. Scanlan, secretary to First Deputy Commissioner Alcock, who had been made acting commissioner. The first step of Scanlan's climb to the post of second in command of Chicago's 6,000 policemen was his appointment as temporary lieutenant of detectives.

"I guess I'll make you assistant commissioner," said Alcock later. "Much obliged, boss," replied Scanlan, who had been a lieutenant twenty minutes. "You'll find me ready to do the work."

"He's a first class policeman, inside or outside," Alcock said in explaining the promotion.

Deputy Scanlan lives at 351 West 72d street with his wife and his son, James Jr., 14 years old. He has two married daughters, Mrs. Helen Cook and Mrs. Genevieve Baker. He has been a member of the police department for 23 years and was made a sergeant in 1921.

"I went to work at the old Harrison street station," Deputy Scanlan recalled. "Then I went to the Woodlawn where Alcock came as captain. When he was made First Deputy he took me with him to his office."

ALCOCK ORDERS 700 DETECTIVES TO WALK BEAT

and Deputy Chief Ryan to send 700 bureau men back to patrol duty meant that 1,500 others now in plain clothes duty or on special detail will be traveling beat today or within a few days.

Alcock said he would probably assign the demoted deputy commissioners to districts today, replacing captains now in charge. But he had not yet decided which five captains are due for removal or what he will do with them, he explained. He said he expected to find appropriate work for the ten captains who would be without districts to command.

"One thing is certain," Alcock announced. "The captain will not now be able to pass the buck to a deputy commissioner. Each captain will be held strictly to account for his district, and he must deliver the goods. "I don't intend to call them into any captains' meeting. I don't believe in that way of doing business."

Crime Fighters Hold Meeting.

In the afternoon Acting Commissioner Alcock, Chief Norton, and Deputy Chief Ryan were summoned to the office of State's Attorney Swanson for a conference. Others present were Coroner Herman N. Bundesen, Chief Investigator Pat Roche of the state's attorney's office, Assistant State's Attorney Charles Rathbun, who was appointed to handle the investigation of the murder of Alfred Lingle, TRIBUNE reporter, and Attorney James E. McShane, who was selected to aid Rathbun.

"The purpose of the meeting," State's Attorney Swanson announced later, "was to get the different agencies working on the Lingle case to coordinate themselves into a sort of clearing house to better effect our common aim.

"We were of the entirely harmonious and unanimous conclusion that all persons who have anything to do with it should operate through this central department which is in charge of Assistant State's Attorney Rathbun. He, with Investigator Roche, will spend whatever time is necessary—they will be wholly unencumbered by other duties—on this case until it has been satisfactorily disposed of.

"The central clearing bureau as such is already functioning. We cannot divulge at this time the results thus far obtained by those agencies which have been at work since Lingle was slain. If and when any news can be given out during the course of this investigation I shall be glad to give it out in formal statement. But all the news which is given out, if any, will come through me.

Calls Inquiry a Public Duty.

"Another consensus was that the officials and appointed persons in this investigation—the higher-ups—are not interested in the rewards. This investigation is a public duty for which we are being paid.

"The United States district attorney, George E. Q. Johnson, could not be present, but he has pledged 100 per cent cooperation in whatever capacity he may be able to aid us."

State's Attorney Swanson suggested that any persons having information which may be of value in the investigation should direct it to Prosecutor Rathbun in the latter's loop headquarters, which have been established at Room 503 Methodist Temple building, 77 West Washington street. The telephone number of Mr. Rathbun's office was given as State 3729. Any information received will be regarded as confidential, it was emphasized, and if it should lead to the arrest and conviction of the Lingle slayers those who give it will be entitled to the rewards offered.

Mayor Gives Out Statement.

Earlier Mayor Thompson had issued a statement on the subject of his appointment of Alcock "with full power and authority."

"Acting Commissioner Alcock stated to me today," the mayor's statement said, "that he desired to retain his civil service standing as first deputy commissioner of police in lieu of being appointed commissioner. Accordingly he will go forward as acting commissioner.

"My instruction to him is: Drive the crooks and gangsters out of Chicago.

"In carrying out this instruction he will have full cooperation of this administration and should have the support of all good citizens."

"Just Lit a Fag," Co-ed Driver Explains to Judge

Miss Blix Nichols, Northwestern university co-ed and daughter of Attorney Warren Nichols, 1424 Judson avenue, Evanston, was taking a smoke in her car when she crashed into that of Emma Siefert of 1314 Adams street, North Chicago, she told Police Magistrate Harry H. Porter of Evanston yesterday. She had been charged with reckless driving. "I had just lighted a cigaret," she testified. The judge continued the case to June 28 because Miss Siefert was not in court.

CHIEF NORTON IS VETERAN OF 39 YEARS, 4 WOUNDS

Surprised but Not Excited by Detective Command.

When Acting Police Commissioner John Alcock called Lieut. John Norton on the phone while Norton was at breakfast yesterday and told him he was the new chief of detectives the lieutenant was so surprised that he almost choked on a piece of his wife's toast.

"My wife was all excited—like women get," Chief Norton said last night as he sat in his new office in the detective bureau. "But I—well, I wasn't so excited," he remarked with a wry smile. "I've been in the department long enough to know that it's praise today, roasting tomorrow. "Not that I'm not satisfied. But then I was satisfied before."

Flowers for New Chief.

An enormous basket of blue and pink flowers stood on the floor beside the new chief and seemed somehow out of place in the presence of the spare but powerful figure in its comfortably worn blue serge suit. (The veteran detective has never worn a uniform in his life, he said.)

"Who sent you those, John?" a police reporter asked.

The telephone rang. Chief Norton picked up the receiver and said: "Hello, Lieut. Norton speaking." The conversation ended, he turned back to his desk.

"How long have you been with the force, John?" the police reporter asked.

"I joined Dec. 1, 1891."

"Why did you join?"

"I was a damn fool," was the prompt reply. "Like all kids, I thought it would be grand to be a policeman."

Shot in Battle with Thief.

Eight months after he entered the department as a detective, Chief Norton, who is now 67 years old, was made a sergeant. For the last nine years he has been a lieutenant of detectives. A year after he joined the force he was shot by George Seymour, a pickpocket, when Seymour tried to take Billy Mux, another pickpocket, from Norton, who had arrested him. Seymour was wounded by Norton.

The new chief estimated that he had killed "O, six or seven," that he had been shot four times and that he had 50 or more creditable mentions.

In THE TRIBUNE of Nov. 23, 1918, there is an item which says: "'Johnny' Norton's promotion to a $2,500 salary was a reward for bravery, a reward that Chief Alcock has been seeking for a long time to bring about."

Kills Robber, Captures Pal.

The item describes the fatal shooting of George Raymond, a holdup man, by Norton, in February, 1918, and continues: "Norton was wounded, but after shooting Raymond he pursued and captured George Moran, another member of the holdup gang, on a street car."

Norton, or "Sandy Hanley," as he is called at the bureau after a one time partner of his by that name, is known as a man who likes to work 24 hours a day, who expects his men to work, and who demands the most scrupulous honesty.

Deputy Chief Ryan a Veteran.

Capt. John Ryan, who yesterday was made deputy chief of detectives by Acting Commissioner Alcock, has been on the force for 24 years and worked with Norton in the old Harrison street station in 1911-1912.

On Wednesday night Lieut. Norton and Capt. Ryan had been among the detectives and police reporters who speculated on who would constitute the team Alcock would pick for chief and deputy chief. Between hands of hearts, the new chief's favorite diversion, they discussed the chances of various men. No one mentioned Norton or Ryan.

Chief Norton and his wife, Nellie, live at 6345 North Campbell avenue. They have three children: Walter John, now in California; Mrs. John Dunn of Ravinia, and Mrs. Norton Scott, 3202 Sheridan road. Capt. Ryan is married and lives at 1215 Carmen avenue. He is the son of the late Police Capt. Michael Ryan.

Seven hundred students of the Vanderpoel Elementary school, 9510 South Prospect avenue, yesterday took part in the school's annual spring festival, presenting a program of historical pageantry, music, singing, and children's plays.

Boy Missing, Clothes on Bank; Story Ends Happily

Logansport, Ind., June 19.—[Special.]—Search for the body of a boy believed to have been drowned when clothes were found along a river bank ended today when the lad, Robert Thurman, 10, reported to police that he had been required to use a newspaper as clothing to reach his home after some one had stolen his clothes while he was swimming.

JUDGE DIVIDES $200,000 ESTATE OF HERMIT PAIR

Probate Judge Henry Horner yesterday announced a tentative decision in the dividing of the $200,000 estate of the two Flynn brothers, Park Ridge hermits. The judge ruled that 20 beneficiaries each shall receive $10,000. Two of these will be James Butler, 70 years old, of Bird City, Kas., and Eugene V. West, 68 years old, of Marias, Mont., brothers, who were reunited after a separation of 32 years.

Final decision was withheld until September to permit any unknown heirs to enter a claim in the estate. Eighteen cousins of the Flynn brothers on their paternal side also will receive shares. Of these, fifteen live in Ireland, one in England, and two in the United States. At one time there were nearly 50 claimants to the estate.

In December, 1926, John Flynn died in his secluded Park Ridge home at the age of 72. His brother, James, 70 years old, committed suicide shortly afterward. A search revealed a fortune in currency hidden in the house.

CAPONE ADMITS AN ERROR IN HIS COURT EVIDENCE

So False Arrest Case Is Dismissed.

Miami, Fla., June 19.—[Special.]—Formal discharge of S. D. McCreary, director of public safety; admission by Scarface Al Capone that part of his previous testimony against McCreary had been untrue, and complete discomfiture of Capone's counsel were the net results today of the reopening of the McCreary false arrest case before Warren L. Newcomb, peace justice.

Capone's testimony, which lasted barely five minutes, merely sought to "correct" his previous statement that police had refused to permit him to use the telephone to call his attorneys. He said a conversation about using the telephone took place in the patrol wagon on the way to the station and not at police headquarters.

Says He Was Excited.

He explained that his testimony in contradiction to this was made because of the excitement attending his arrest.

Capone did not attempt to "explain away" any of the other testimony given at the hearing three weeks ago, which has resulted in perjury charges being brought against him. In answer to a question from his counsel as to whether the remainder of his previous testimony against McCreary was correct, the witness answered:

"It is to the best of my knowledge, but I wouldn't swear to it."

Richard H. Hunt, special prosecutor in the perjury case, who appeared in the McCreary case today and charged Capone's counsel with attempting a subterfuge to acquit their client of perjury charges, declared after the hearing that Capone's testimony today will not help to clear him, "but would on the other hand provide the state with an additional witness in the person of Capone himself."

McCreary Is Discharged.

Capone made his brief "correction" about his previous testimony regarding use of the telephone, adding that "he wouldn't swear to the rest of his testimony," although he believed it to be true, and the day's session came to a sudden end as formal discharge of McCreary was ordered.

During the session Nathan Grebstein, who recently served a month in jail for an alleged $5,000 bribe offer to Circuit Judge Paul D. Barnes, in connection with Capone padlock proceedings, entered the courtroom. Newcomb remarked to Grebstein:

"You have been in trouble enough. Don't you think you had better leave?"

BOND FORFEITURE IS SET ASIDE IN GUN TOTING CASE

The state's attorney's office yesterday vigorously opposed without success the setting aside of a $60,000 bond forfeiture against the bondsmen of Joseph Fiore, charged with carrying concealed weapons and with assault to murder. Judge Martin Isaacs in the Criminal court ordered forfeiture set side and also put the bond back to its original figure of $30,000.

Fiore, alleged hoodlum, was indicted with Robert E. Ryan and Louis Mathison on Jan. 31 for attempting to shake down Robert Barr, 100 North La Salle street, a broker, for $5,000

ROTARIANS PUT LAST TOUCHES ON CONVENTION PLAN

The executive committee of the Chicago Rotary club met last night in the Medinah Athletic club and discussed the final arrangements for the silver anniversary Rotary convention which will open on Monday night in the Chicago Stadium. An attendance of 20,000 is expected. The chorus of 600 girls from Lindblom High school who will take part in the opening night's pageant rehearsed yesterday in preparation for the dress rehearsal in the Stadium Sunday afternoon. Sixty-four of the girls will represent 64 countries in which there are Rotary clubs, and which will have delegates at the convention. Quin Ryan of radio station W-G-N will describe the pageant.

REED REPLIES TO JOHNSON ATTACK ON NAVY TREATY

Says Pact Gives Holiday from Shipbuilding.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—In answer to the radio speech of Senator Hiram W. Johnson [Rep., Cal.] last night attacking the navy limitation treaty, Senator David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.] went on the air tonight in defense of the agreement which he helped to negotiate.

"It removes competition in naval construction among the three leading naval powers in the world, and it does so in every category of ship," Senator Reed concluded after analyzing the treaty. "It gives all three countries a holiday from battleship building during the next seven years and saves the taxpayers of the United States an outlay of four hundred million dollars on replacement of battleships alone.

"It allows the peoples of these three great nations to rest secure in knowledge that no one of the three can be attacked in its home waters by any navy on earth. It makes it plain to all the world that none of the three countries is designing a war upon either of the others. It promotes to an important degree the international friendship that we all desire.

Calls Opponents of One Mind.

"It is, opposed in each of the three countries by the big navy party of that country. The same things that were said to you by Senator Johnson last night are being said in London by Admiral Jellicoe, Lord Bridgeman, and Mr. Winston Churchill. The same things are being said in Tokio by Admiral Kato and his colleagues. In each of the three countries the same clamor is arising, but in each of the three I am confident that common sense will prevail and that the treaty will be ratified."

Instead of surrendering to Great Britain and Japan at London the American delegation, said the Pennsylvania senator, obtained the concession that both those countries should stand still while we build up our cruiser fleet and replace our obsolete destroyers and submarines.

"Our naval board," Reed continued, "wanted the right to build 21 big cruisers against the British 15, whereas the treaty allows only 18 for us against the British 15. For the three 8 inch ships, which we surrender we have the right to build four large 6 inch gun ships, and this whole controversy in the last analysis comes down to the question of the advantages or disadvantages of that alternative.

"Tempest in a Teapot."

"If there was ever a tempest in a teapot it would seem to be here. The idea is preposterous that a great step forward in the cause of world peace should be rejected because of a disagreement as to the caliber of the guns to be placed on three ships out of our great fleet.

"So far as we can discover no shot has ever been fired in a naval battle in all the world's history at a range of more than 20,000 yards and the American experts on ordnance and gunnery have advised us without hesitation that under 20,000 yards the six inch guns have a great advantage because of their greater rapidity of fire. The six inch guns have been fired in battle practice by our fleet as rapidly as eleven shots per minute per gun. The eight inch gun, which is machine loaded, can not be fired faster than two shots per minute.

"This is not the first time that it has been necessary to disagree with the naval general board. At the Washington conference in 1922 they demanded a minimum of a million tons of battleships for the American navy, but were finally compelled to be content with 525,000."

The state department has undertaken to propagandize the country in support of the treaty. Secretary Stimson's radio address defending the treaty has been printed by the government printing office in an edition of several hundred thousand copies.

PROMISED DIVORCE

MRS. EDWINA D. MILLER.

Superior Judge Sabath yesterday indicated he would grant a divorce to Mrs. Edwina Dickinson Miller, nineteen year old daughter of Augustus S. Dickinson, president of the Indiana Limestone company. Her husband is Douglas D. Miller, an official of an eastern paper company. They were married nine months ago.

Mrs. Miller charged drunkenness and testified her husband struck her on several occasions at their home at 514 Briar street, Kenilworth. Since their separation she has resided at 244 East Pearson street. A property settlement has been arranged out of court, she told Judge Sabath.

KEEP "PARTYISM" OUT OF FOREIGN POLICIES: LEWIS

James Hamilton Lewis declared last night that President Hoover is being "betrayed" by his party leaders on international relations and he urged the dropping of party lines in the formulation of foreign policies. Addressing the Lake County Bar association and University club at Waukegan, the Democratic nominee for United States senator advocated united support of the administration on foreign affairs regardless of party lines.

"Political partyism is destroying national patriotism," said former Senator Lewis. "President Hoover is being betrayed by his political party leaders and discredited by his political opponents in the international relations of our country.

"This nation needs an American foreign policy, the first principle of which must be that in home affairs we may differ as party politics may demand, but in foreign affairs our people shall be united.

"The late naval pact made at London has lost to the United States the friendly spirit of France, Italy, and Germany. This was through the error into which the President was trapped in pitting the United States, England, and Japan against France, Italy, and Germany."

CHARGES PAJAMA PARTY ON TRAIN; WINS DIVORCE

Mrs. Jean Hippach Unander-Scharin of 1500 Lake Shore drive was granted a divorce by Superior Judge Sabath yesterday from Hjalmar Unander-Scharin, a former Swedish army officer. She charged her husband participated in a pajama party last year while en route to New York on the Twentieth Century Limited, and testified to other incidents of alleged misconduct.

Mrs. Unander-Scharin is a daughter of Louis A. Hippach, wealthy glass manufacturer. She did not ask for alimony but was granted custody of their three children, Harold, 9 years old; Jean, 4; and Louise, 7 months old.

REVAMPED SHIPS WOULD GIVE U. S. TONNAGE PARITY

Plan Modernization Work on 8 More Vessels.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—Absolute tonnage parity between the American and British capital ship fleets would be attained if the navy department's revised capital ship modernization program is carried to completion, it was disclosed today. Inquiry revealed that navy plans contemplate the modernization of eight more ships. As these allocations will add approximately 3,000 tons in armor plate and other modernization material to each vessel, the capital ship tonnage of the American fleet, under the London naval treaty, will be boosted to approximately 475,000 tons.

At present the British capital ship tonnage is 606,000 tons. Under the treaty, if adopted, Great Britain's battleship tonnage will be reduced to 472,000 tons. Two British ships, the Valiant and Barham, are undergoing major alterations which will add 2,200 tons to the two ships, bringing the total tonnage for the fifteen ships allowed Great Britain by the treaty to about 475,000 tons.

U. S. 83,000 Ton Shy for Parity.

The present tonnage of the American battleship fleet is 523,400 tons, 83,000 tons or approximately two and one-half battleships less than the British total of 606,000 tons. Under the treaty, the American total would be reduced to 453,000 tons and the British total to 472,000 tons.

When completely modernized the Tennessee, California, Colorado, West Virginia, Maryland, the five newest American battleships would average about 35,000 tons each. The Mississippi, New Mexico and Idaho, the three vessels for which Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams has asked funds with which to begin alterations would average approximately 33,000 tons each.

British Ships Will Be Speedier.

Comparisons of the fighting qualities of the two battleship fleets will be given the house naval affairs committee by naval officers when hearings on the Darrow bill, authorizing modernization of the Idaho class, get under way, probably tomorrow. Even when American ships are modernized British battleship fleet under the treaty would have the advantage of average speed two knots greater than United States ships.

The British ships, with the exception of the Rodney and Nelson, 16 inch gun vessels, will all have 15 inch guns. American ships, with the exception of three vessels armed with 16 inch guns and one armed with 12 inch guns, are armed with guns of 14 inch calibre. Naval officers, testifying before the senate committees investigating the London treaty, stated also that possession of the Rodney and Nelson gave Britain a big advantage.

Vote to Take Up Darrow Bill.

The house naval committee voted today to take up the Darrow bill with the idea of reporting it to the house this session. In disclosing the committee's action, Mr. Britten praised President Hoover for approving the modernization program.

"The U. S. S. Pennsylvania and Arizona now being modernized," he said, "will be placed in full commission next winter and be prepared to do themselves proud in any emergency against any first line ships on earth, and I am sure the country will applaud the intention of the Hoover administration to keep our first line battleship fleet second to none."

ILLINOIS SHIP ROUTE ASSURED BY SENATE VOTE

But Chicago Loses Its Diversion Fight.

which the state bond issue of $20,000,000 has proved to be insufficient. The waterway will be taken over by the federal government under conditions as set forth in a report by Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of engineers.

The Blaine amendment as adopted provides that the waterway "shall be so constructed as to require the smallest flow of water with which said project can be practically accomplished, in the development of a commercially useful waterway." It provides that "the water authorized at Lockport, Ill.," under the Supreme court decree in the lake levels case, "is hereby authorized to be used for the navigation of said waterway."

There is a further proviso that "as soon as practicable after the Illinois waterway shall have been completed in accordance with this act the secretary of war shall cause a study of the amount of water that will be required as an annual average flow to meet the needs of a commercially useful waterway." The secretary of war would report to congress on or before Jan. 31, 1938, "the results of such study with his recommendations as to the minimum amount of such flow that will be required annually to meet the needs of such waterway and that will not substantially injure the existing navigation on the great lakes to the end that congress may take such action as it may deem advisable."

Will Cause no Difficulties.

The Blaine amendment will cause no difficulties during the first years of the operation of the waterway which is expected to be opened within the next two years for the reason that the diversion of water at Chicago will not be reduced below an average of 5,000 cubic feet per second under the Supreme court decree until the end of 1938. At that time it is to be cut to an average of 1,500 cubic feet.

If the commerce committee amendments had been adopted the flow could have been adjusted by the secretary of war and the chief of engineers without further action by congress, the Supreme court decree offering no prohibition against an increase above the 1,500 cubic feet average as soon as the Illinois waterway becomes a federal waterway.

Flyers Nearing Half Way Mark in Endurance Flight

The half way mark was near early this morning as the endurance plane City of Chicago continued to circle over Sky Harbor airport in its attempt to beat the present 420 hour endurance flying record. At 12:40 a. m. the plane, piloted by John and Kenneth Hunter, had been aloft 200 hours. The engine was functioning perfectly.

Woman Who Routed Cops with Gun Gets One Year

Mrs. Caroline Czarnecki, whose gunnery routed a Brighton Park flivver squad when the policemen went to her home at 4419 South St. Louis avenue, to arrest her for disorderly conduct, was sentenced yesterday to a year in the county jail and fined $25 by Judge Samuel Heller in Stockyards court.

BOY EXPECTED TO LIVE AFTER FOUR IN FAMILY DIE

Physicians in the county hospital last night said it was probable that Kenneth McKittrick, 8 years old, who is suffering from a mysterious malady which caused the death of three of his brothers and one sister this week, would live. Early this morning the boy was given a blood transfusion. The blood was supplied by his father, Benjamin McKittrick, 2431 West Lexington street. This was the third time that McKittrick had given blood to save his children.

Dr. N. G. Shaw, house physician, said he believed he had found the bacillus in cultures taken from the chests and from the contents of the intestines of the children several days ago.

The possibility that the children were poisoned with "a heavy metal poisoning such as arsenic" was slight, Dr. Shaw said, but the health department laboratory yesterday began an analysis of the contents of the intestines of the dead children.

The dead children were: Paul, 10 months old; Raymond, 2; Evelyn, 5, and Donald, 3, who died Wednesday night.

There is a little dispute in well-bred circles as to whether the Derby rib in our famous French lisle socks was so named after the Earl of Derby who, as everyone knows, was one of the best dressed men in the world. Being especially strong on fine haberdashery and a trifle weak on history ourselves, we're frankly not sure. This we do know, however, that our Derby ribbed French lisles in smart solid colors at four dollars are a tribute to any gentleman's wardrobe. We recommend them heartily. BOTH SIDES FIRE VOLLEYS IN CAR FRANCHISE FIGHT

Eleven Days Left Before July 1 Referendum.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The contest for and against the proposed indeterminate transit franchise had some of the appearance yesterday of a real Chicago campaign. Eleven days remain before the ordinance is submitted to a referendum on July 1.

Against the ordinance formal statements were issued by Donald R. Richberg, a lawyer; Prof. Rodney L. Mott and Prof. Paul O. Douglas of the political science department of the University of Chicago, and by S. J. Konenkamp, chairman of the transportation committee of the Amalgamated improvement associations.

In addition, A. W. Stanmeyer, chairman of the transportation committee of the Cook County Real Estate board, began circulating that committee's criticism of the ordinance. Also, the criticisms of William Hughes Clarke, security dealer, were given some circulation.

More Indorsements Received.

There was activity in behalf of the ordinance. Twelve chapters of the Civil league gave to Ald. J. B. McDonough, chairman of the committee favoring the ordinance, indorsements of the transit plan from 21,960 persons. Among those who presented the indorsements were Peter M. Kelley, Dr. James Whitney Hall, George W. Underwood, Robert E. Tansey, Mrs. William Harrison Cade, Frank G. Hoyne, Benjamin Samuels, N. L. Piotrowski, George S. Foster, and L. J. M. Malmen.

A committee of the Cook County Real Estate board which is taking a referendum on the ordinance among the members of the board announced that 148 have voted for the ordinance and 25 against it in the returns already received. The Citizens' association began the circulation of its favorable report on the ordinance. The Northwest Traction Settlement league, formed to urge approval of the ordinance announced through its president, Harry G. Weimer, that it has started getting "thousands of indorsers" of the franchise.

Richberg Attacks Ordinance.

In his statement opposing the ordinance Attorney Richberg said:

"I oppose granting permanent control over local transportation to the Insull interests, which are chiefly responsible for the present Insull-Ettelson-Thompson city government, which is a disgrace to Chicago and a menace to the lives and property of all its citizens. These men have been proved unworthy of public trust.

"As long as there is not a traction lawyer or a single editor in Chicago who can answer this supreme objection to the ordinance, perhaps I should expect to be lied about."

Mr. Richberg declared the proposed grant is perpetual and said it is not necessary to grant a perpetual franchise to finance unification of the surface and elevated lines.

Fires on Freight Provision.

Mr. Konnenkamp, in a statement against granting the proposed new transit company the privilege to haul merchandise on the consolidated systems, asked:

"Why should the people of Chicago be compelled, in voting on the traction ordinance, to also declare for or against a comprehensive unified system of handling freight with universal transfer of freight during the perpetual life of the ordinance?"

The statement of Prof. Mott protested against the amount of compensation to be paid by the company to the city under the ordinance and against use of the city's transit fund for subways without direct rental therefor. The statement of Prof. Douglas was a protest against a perpetual franchise.

On behalf of the ordinance, Col. A. A. Sprague, a member of the citizens' transit settlement committee, urged the need of more transportation.

"Between 1920 and 1930," he said, "Chicago's population increased from 2,701,705 to 3,373,753. That is an increase of 24.8 per cent. In that same ten years the investment in transportation increased 5.75 per cent. In the last twenty years population has increased 54 per cent and transportation only 29 per cent."

Tells Benefits of Plan.

"A universal transfer system with no increase in fares.

"All improvements to be made without 1 cent of taxes or bond issues.

"Definite and insuring guarantees of more extensions and improvements within ten years than have been constructed in the last 75 years."

GOVERNMENT REFUNDS OVER 12 MILLIONS TAX TO CHICAGO PACKERS

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—Tax refunds to Chicago concerns aggregating more than twelve millions, of which the largest part goes to Swift & Co. and Libby, McNeil & Libby, were announced today by the bureau of internal revenue of the treasury department.

The refunds represent overassessments of income and profit taxes in 1918 and interest. All of the over assessments resulted from a judgment rendered March 12 by the United States Court of Claims in a suit brought by Swift & Co. against the government.

The awards for the Chicago companies were as follows:

Swift & Co. and two subsidary companies, $6,993,516; Libby, McNeil & Libby and nine subsidiary companies, $3,727,035; Omaha Packing company, $836,609; G. H. Hammond company, $624,094; W. F. Priebe company, $121,777; Consumers Cotton Oil Mills, Nathan B. Higbie, et al., trustees, $100,407; National Leather company (of Illinois), $53,215, and E. K. Pond company, $48,850.

The internal revenue bureau also announced refunds, based on the same court decision, of $1,543,797 to the Plankington Packing company and $40,876 to the Milwaukee Stock Yards company, both of Milwaukee.

REPORT BRITAIN READY TO SPLIT 'UNWIELDY' INDIA

Expect Simon Proposals to Urge Separation.

BY ROBERT SAGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 19.—Proposals of a far reaching character for the future of India, it is understood, are contained in the second volume of the report of the Indian statutory commission—known as the Simon commission—which is due for publication next Tuesday. The report, awaited here with the greatest public expectancy, will embody the final recommendations of the commission.

It is understood the report will deal with the questions of the possible separation of Burma from India; the relations between Indian states and British India; the position of the Mohammedans in the North West Frontier province; the unwieldy size of the constituencies under the existing system of direct election to the central legislature; the working of the diarchy, the chamber of Indian princes and the army in India.

Will Modify Election System.

The commissioners discuss the development, which may be hoped for in regulating the future relations between the states and the rest of India, but it is understood that no question will arise compelling any Indian state or Indian prince to adopt the new arrangement.

In dealing with the North West Frontier province the commission will propose "a mode of treatment which, while recognizing the special position of an area and its vital connection with India, will make such provision as possible for meeting the natural desire of some of its inhabitants to have a voice in the framing of the laws under which they live."

Modification of the existing system of election to the central legislature is believed certain to be suggested by the commissioners, who evidently agree that there are many difficulties in applying the British system of parliamentary government to such a vast and diversified area.

Bomb Blasts Wound Police.

BOMBAY, India, June 19.—(AP)—Bombs today became the newest menace to the administration of British authority in India. In Lahore, Amritsar, Lyallpur, Gujrnwala, and Rawalpindi explosions of deadly missiles have caused injuries to officers and been the cause of disorders.

Military activities continue on the northwest frontier. A column of regulars, accompanied by militia, went to Tangi yesterday and compelled an Utman Khel company to withdraw from the vicinity of the town into tribal territory.

Order Campaign to Continue.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BOMBAY, June 19.—Pandit Nehru, acting president of the all-India national congress, announced tonight that the civil disobedience campaign would continue along the present lines until the government listens. The authorities, on the other hand, continue making wholesale arrests of pickets and are inflicting heavier jail sentences.

Martial law continues in Sholapur. The Bombay grenadiers are being sent to Sholapur to relieve the troops who have been there for some weeks.

BRITAIN ORDERS U. S. PASTOR TO QUIT INDIA OVER GANDHI REVOLT

Fairmont, Minn., June 19.—(AP)—Because of supposed sympathy for Mahatma Gandhi's cause, the Rev. Ralph Keithahn of Fairmont, a missionary in India, has been ordered to leave that country by the British government, according to word received today by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Keithahn of Fairmont.

The Rev. Mr. Keithahn has been a missionary at Madura in southern India for several years. A telegram to the American board of commissioners for foreign missions from John J. Banninga, secretary of the Madura mission, said the minister had been ordered to return home owing to political causes.

Complete Indianapolis to Denver 1,450 Mile Highway

Denver, Colo., June 19.—(AP)—The final link in a 1,450 mile federal highway connecting Denver with Indianapolis was forged today when it was agreed to change the Kansas and Colorado markings of the highway to No. 36, conforming to the Missouri, Illinois, and Indiana markings. In Colorado this road has been known as Colorado state highway No. 102.

DENIES PROTEST ALTERS SUBURB WATER PROJECT

Plans of the Greater Chicago Lake Water company to supply suburbs with lake water will not be altered because of opposition of a group of Cicero citizens, Thomas J. Dolan, engineer of the project, said last night.

Dolan stated the Illinois commerce commission had approved the project after hearings lasting two and a half years. He said the company will start construction of the power plants and crib this fall.

Opposition developed in Cicero, according to Attorney John J. Sherlock, with the passage of an ordinance on June 2 providing for the purchase of water from the company. He said citizens have retained him to attack the plan before the commerce commission.

Project to Cost $30,000,000.

The company expects to supply water to towns within a 35 mile radius within six years, Dolan said. The total cost will be $30,000,000. The company expects to be serving towns north to Wilmette, west to Western Springs, and south to Cicero within two years. This will cost about $12,000,000. The water will be filtered and transported through high pressure mains.

The first step to reorganize the city's water bureau as recommended by a council subcommittee was taken yesterday. The subcommittee requested Corporation Ettelson to draft five ordinances.

The ordinances will eliminate the exemption of one and two family dwellings from meterization and the 15 per cent discount on water bills; establish the water rate on the basis of total expenditures and total pumpage of the previous year; set standard specifications for meters and provide that the purchase and cost of installing the meters can be met by the sale of water certificates.

The subcommittee, headed by Ald. Kaindl [34th], began a survey of the water bureau eighteen months ago.

Taft Widow in Vienna to Begin Tour of East Europe

VIENNA, June 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Helen Taft, widow of the late American jurist, today arrived in Vienna on a tour which will take her through Austria, Hungary, Poland, and Russia.

PAVING REPAIRS IN MICHIGAN AVE. BEGIN TUESDAY

Repairing of all pavement in Michigan boulevard between the link bridge and North avenue will be started on Tuesday, H. Otto Weege, superintendent of Lincoln park, announced yesterday. All sunken places, broken pavement, and traffic signals will be reconstructed and repaired. During the last week workmen have been repainting traffic lines, light poles along the boulevard and regulating traffic signals.

To offer a minimum hindrance to traffic, the work will be started at 3 a. m. and all workmen and equipment will be off the boulevard by 8 a. m. The northbound side of the avenue will be repaired first, as most of the early morning traffic is loop bound. The work will be completed in a week or ten days.

Traffic in the loop continues to be slowed by the openings made in the pavement by the Commonwealth Edison company to repair conduits and cables. In some places the streets have been narrowed to one traffic lane.

Dearborn and State streets, two of the most important traffic arteries in the loop, have suffered most. At no place has the entire street been made impassable, but the steel barriers protecting the openings have snarled auto and pedestrian traffic until two traffic policemen have been needed at each of three corners.

Three such places are now open—in Dearborn street between Madison and Randolph streets, in Randolph street a half block west of Dearborn street, and in State street, near Randolph street. The pavement at the intersection of Madison street and State street was replaced yesterday after being open for several days. At the intersection of Congress and Franklin streets a new opening in the pavement will be made today.

SEVEN INDICTED FOR SPURIOUS JENNINGS WILL

Accuse Ex-Convict Who Posed as Son.

Seven persons, four of them women, we charged in an indictment returned by the grand jury yesterday with conspiracy to commit forgery and perjury in connection with a recent effort to probate a spurious will of Edwin B. Jennings, eccentric multimillionaire, who died on Oct. 31, 1923. Assistant State's Attorney Henry Ayers, who has been investigating the case for several months, is said to have obtained a confession from one of the men, who served as a witness to the spurious document.

Those named in the indictment besides Edward C. Koester, former convict of the Michigan state penitentiary who posed as the son of Jennings, are:

Mrs. Mary Stahl Warner, former public stenographer at the Victoria hotel, whose name appeared on the will as a witness. At the will trial she testified that Jennings dictated his final testament to her in 1918. She has been arrested on the indictment.

"Secret Wife" Is Named.

Mrs. Mamie Maas, a cousin of the late Augusta Johanna Duewel of Wyandotte, Mich., who claimed to be the secret wife of Jennings. She testified at the trial. She, too, is under arrest.

Mrs. Minnie Rankey Allen of Wyandotte, Mich., who is supposed to be an aunt of Koester. She testified at the trial to the supposed marriage. She was arrested in Michigan.

Agnes Meers, who also told of the supposed marriage of Jennings in 1885.

Koester's Brother Arrested.

Charles Koester, a brother of Edward Koester. He also was arrested in Michigan.

Lester B. Ensign, a grocer of Grand Rapids, Mich., who testified that he was a witness to the Jennings' will, in which Koester was named as the sole heir.

William Lawrence, who was also a witness to the supposed will, is named as a co-conspirator in the indictment, but was not named as a defendant. He is also listed as a state's witness and it is reported that he is the man who related the details of the alleged conspiracy to Prosecutor Ayers and the grand jury.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Clyde Williams and James Miller, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary; James Petorella, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory, by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

Louis Maxwell, murder, sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary by Judge E. I. Frankhauser.

Woman Wins Continuance of Embezzlement Charge

Miss Catherine McCambridge, a bookkeeper for the E. E. Elmore Real Estate company, 7839 South Ashland avenue, was granted a continuance yesterday until July 2 by Judge John Sbarbaro in the Felony court in an embezzlement case. She claimed she only followed the directions of James Drury, her immediate superior, and that she received none of the $945 which, it is alleged, was stolen. Drury, rent manager of the company, has already been held to the grand jury.

HEAR EVIDENCES OF RED ACTIVITY AMONG CHILDREN

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—Having laid the ground work for its inquiry into communist activities at hearings ended today, the special house communist commitee announced it would meet in New York July 15 to hear representatives of the Amtorg Trading corporation, the official soviet commercial agency.

Three weeks of hearings were brought to a close today after Mrs. Mary Sherman Walker of Seattle, Wash., said the communists were training American school children in street fighting, military tactics and in propagandizing work to prepare them to lead a revolution.

Children's games such as "hide and seek" she said, had been changed to "hunt the capitalist" and "find ammunition" and songs of vicious language had been set to the tune of "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

BOY KILLED BY LIVE WIRE.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 19.—[Special.]—Jacob Dudley, 14, of Marion Heights, was killed when he fell on a traction wire. The boy had climbed a tree to look for a bird's nest.

Shot by Stepson, 15, for Beating Boy's Sister, 13

Earl Felton, 45 years old, former county highway policeman, was shot above the heart last night in his home, 6220 North Hermitage avenue, by his step-son, Earl Rogers, a high school student. Felton had been beating the boy's sister, Ruth, 13 years old, according to the police. Felton was taken, in serious condition, to the Edgewater hospital. The boy was held.

Hundreds of Thousands in U. S. A. Demand New Kind of Salts

Keeps You in Good Health All the Time, Skin Clear and Body Free from Fat.

Just think of it: these new, better and different salts were only introduced into America a few months ago—yet a host of intelligent Americans are healthier and happier because of their supreme goodness.

Kruschen Salts are the daily health dose of millions of people the world over—they are the largest selling medicinal salts in Great Britain.

One half teaspoon of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning gently but surely stimulates the liver, bowels and kidneys to healthy elimination.

But the six vitalizing and rejuvenating salts in Kruschen do more than cause regular elimination—the man or woman who takes them regularly need have little fear of poisons polluting the system which is the cause of many annoying and depressing ills.

One bottle of Kruschen Salts (lasts 4 weeks) costs but 85c and one bottle will prove of vast benefit to people who have constipation, headaches, indigestion, nervousness, rheumatism, depression, acidity and autointoxication.

Not only that but one bottle will bring about body activity—increase in energy, vigor and ambition, sparkling eyes and freedom from pimples and blemishes—millions know all this—you ought to know it.

BUY ON THE FACTS. Clicquot Club Pale Dry guarantees full measure. The label tells the story: 16 ounces in every bottle.

CAREFUL BUYERS OF GINGER ALE get 4 EXTRA OUNCES

They ask for Clicquot Club Pale Dry
It comes in full 16-ounce pints

TODAY, more and more women are learning about the most economical way to buy ginger ale. They are buying it in full size pints.

"When Clicquot Club Pale Dry gives you a full pint in every bottle, why accept ⅓ less?" they say. The little 12-ounce bottle is never quite enough to go around. Full-size pints are so much more economical.

And of all the nationally known dry ginger ales only one comes in this convenient size. It is Clicquot Club Pale Dry. You buy a pint. You get a pint!

Finer flavor too—In addition to this handy size bottle, Clicquot Club Pale Dry gives you a flavor unequalled in any other dry ginger ale.

Two vital factors make the rare and mellow flavor of Clicquot Club possible.

First, Clicquot Club is aged 6 months in the making. We long ago discovered that such ageing imparts a rich, delightful flavor to ginger ale.

Second, we take pure table sugar, fine Jamaica ginger, real fruit flavors, and blend them with pure spring water to a formula known to no other maker of ginger ale.

Make this comparison—Just go to your dealer today and ask him to show you a bottle of Clicquot Club Pale Dry. Compare it with a so-called "pint" of any other dry ginger ale. You'll note that the Clicquot bottle contains 4 ounces more. The label tells the story.

Compare them for flavor, too, and we're sure you'll always ask for Clicquot Club Pale Dry. In clean new bottles. No bottle ever used a second time.

MAKE YOUR DOLLARS GROW

REAL ESTATE makes a sound investment. Particularly in Chicago, real estate is a money making proposition.

Chicago has, in less than one hundred years, grown to be the fourth largest city of the world. Yet its growth has only begun. It is destined to be the commercial capital of America. In a decade 672,000 people were added to its population.

Settlement of the traction question will add definite value to property in the next few years. The World's Fair in 1933 will further stimulate the demand for Chicago real estate.

A few thousand dollars invested in real estate now may easily grow into a sizeable fortune within a decade.

Every day there are sound opportunities to invest in property advertised in the Real Estate Want Ad columns of the Chicago Tribune. You will find them worth investigating. Watch for these excellent opportunities for future profit in the

A Sincere Statement to every buyer of fuel

A QUARTER century ago, a horse drawn wagon lumbered across the old Rush Street bridge. It was supposed to contain a certain number of pounds of coal . . . but who could tell? The coal was supposed to be of a specified grade, unmixed with cheaper kinds . . . but who could be sure?

The unscrupulous dealer was free to deliver short weight without restraint. He could mix a portion of soft coal with an order of hard, swelling his profits without fear of being caught.

In 1905, the reputable fuel merchants of Chicago sensed the danger from dishonest practices to their entire industry . . . the business of supplying dependable and healthful comfort to the city's homes.

Nor did their efforts to protect the fuel buyer stop with pledges and promises. To assure you honest grading, they fathered a bill which has been written into the Chicago Municipal Code, making it unlawful to mix any inferior coal with a coal of higher grade, unless the driver bears a certificate showing in what proportion such cheaper coals have been mixed and the same information appears on all invoices.

To assure you full weight, these merchants again went to our city's lawmakers and again were successful in having an ordinance passed; this one providing that every load of fuel shall be weighed by a public weighmaster, under bond, whose certificate and seal must accompany each delivery. Moreover, they have permitted the Chicago Better Business Bureau to re-weigh any and all of their deliveries.

The Association guarantees unreservedly full weight by each and every member on every ton of coal you buy.

So that you would not have to pay your neighbor's fuel bill, these merchants formed their own credit bureau. By an exchange of credit information and by business-like collection systems, bad debts have been cut to the minimum, making possible lower prices on coal and coke to every honest purchaser who intends to pay for what he buys.

In months when the thermometer hovers around zero, bringing distress to our city's poorer homes, these merchants put unprofitable small deliveries to needy families before every other order of business.

Even now, their engineers are successfully working out ways of treating coal to free it from dust in handling and delivery, making their contribution to a cleaner Chicago.

There are unquestionably other merchants who are operating fairly, but there are also unscrupulous dealers. It is but natural that these efforts should bring slurs from them and complaints from the dishonest buyer. Yet criticism shall not deter the Chicago Coal Merchants Association from protecting the public it serves and the fuel industry.

Today its members number two hundred and forty. Within the city of Chicago and several of its suburbs, they deliver fully 95% of all coal used for homes. So that you may wisely choose your coal merchant, each member proudly displays on his trucks and in his office this Association's symbol with its white triangle bearing the words—Truth, Service, Full Weight.

Now a new service to Chicago citizens

An advertising campaign, telling the truth about fuel costs and proving that coal heat costs less, will start next week. It will be published in all Chicago newspapers and broadcast with Weather Forecasts over W-G-N at 12 noon and 7 P. M. every day.

GOVERNORS IN THE FUTURE.

It has been a long time since it made any difference whether the governor of Illinois was a Republican or a Democrat. It now is of little importance and likely to be less. During the civil war and for some years afterwards there were good reasons for having Union men at the head of the state government and Illinois Republicans were Unionists. Not all Illinois Democrats were.

There is an advantage in having state organizations of the national parties. It is a good thing generally for the country to conduct its political affairs on the two party basis. It keeps the democracy from scattering about rather futilely and a republic which can divide its opinion on one major line is better off than one which must have a multitude of parties for a multitude of opinions. The major party organizations in the state contribute to the form and substance of the party structure of the nation. These are good enough reasons for Republican and Democratic parties in the state and for Republican and Democratic tickets, but the tickets do not impose any obligations of the voters when other considerations arise.

It is apparent now that Cook county has a stake in the election of a governor which is important far beyond any party attachments. If the Illinois squirearchy continues to nullify the constitution and deprive this county of its representation in the general assembly, passing unjust laws with unlawful votes, the decisive qualifying factor in a candidate for governor will be Cook county residence.

It will not matter whether the candidate is a Republican or a Democrat. If he is an honest man and loyal to the interests of Cook county he will be the man for Cook county votes. The people of the metropolitan area will need the veto in Springfield. That will be the curb on legislation arising from a majority with fraud as its authority and lawlessness as its base. More than half the population of the state, as shown by the census returns, is in Cook county, and these people deprived of their just representation will have no protection except the veto. Their security and their welfare will require them to have the governor. He must be one of them.

The people of the metropolitan area cannot be aligned in this fashion at once. It is contrary to their political instincts to make residence a determining factor in qualifications. They have not been against a candidate because his residence was downstate, and with a lawful system of representation in effect it would be undesirable to make such distinctions, setting the city against the country. Unfortunately the distinction has been made, and if the squirearchy persists in its course the city will disqualify any candidate who does not live in Cook county.

This policy will be preached to the people until they adopt it. Their experience with unjust legislation and unjust taxation will teach them. The necessity will be emphasized by reiteration until it will become a fixed principle. It will have support outside of Cook county, in Lake, Kane, Will, and Du Page counties, and in others where there are metropolitan interests. It will find adherents in Peoria and Rockford, and other cities, and it will prevail.

The metropolitan districts will seize the governor's office and use the veto to compensate for their loss of franchise rights. If the squires want to make this inevitable they will continue in their present conduct.

ARTILLERY AT CAMP GRANT.

The purchase of more land at Camp Grant, to be used as an artillery range, would be a mistake. It is urged on the ground that infantry and artillery should have their training together, so that they may learn to coöperate effectively. The argument does not justify the establishment of an artillery range at Camp Grant. To the extent that it is valid it calls for the training of infantry at Sparta, where conditions are suitable to artillery practice. They are not suitable near Rockford. The people of that district should not be submitted to the hazard, or fear of hazard, or the discomfort of artillery firing. At Sparta the conditions are suitable, and our artillery should go there for training.

There is too much of a tendency in the guard to revert to pre-war conditions and standards. There is always a disposition to overdo the social possibilities of guard membership and emphasize what may be called the parade features. When the war came there was a sudden and drastic elimination of that weakness confronting the stern necessities of service in the field. The showy civilian in military disguise faded out, the true fighting man took his proper place. But with peace the swing is back again, and unless it is vigorously resisted in and out of the guard it will put the service back to the conditions caricatured in Hoyt's play, "The Milk White Flag." Guard service should have its social relaxations and pleasures. There is no objection to them if they do not disparage or interfere with military training, but the guard was created and is supported by the taxpayers solely as an instrument of military defense, and military considerations should at all times rule. The establishment of Camp Grant was largely governed by political or other nonmilitary considerations, and its location is by no means unexceptionable even for infantry training. But it is even more emphatically unsuitable for artillery, and military considerations are contrary to the proposal to make it an artillery camp.

END THE REIGN OF GANGDOM.

Little need be added by way of explanation The killers, the racketeers who exact tribute from business men and union labor, the politicians who use and shield the racketeers, the policemen and judges who have been prostituted by the politicians, all must go.

The first duty of any government is the protection of the lives and property of the citizens. Chicago must give that security. To do so, standards of conduct on the part of private citizens as well as public officials must be revised upward. That sounds easy, but in fact it is among the most difficult of achievements. Success depends, first and last, upon the will and the desire to bring about a change. The events of recent weeks have gone far, we believe, to convince the people of Chicago that the gangs must go. We propose to keep that flame burning.

THE SANITARY PAY ROLL.

In bringing to the attention of the Supreme court for disbarment proceedings the case of a number of lawyers who were on the pay roll of the sanitary district in circumstances incompatible, in the opinion of the Chicago Bar association, with professional ethics, the association has performed an act of courage and public spirit. It was unquestionably a distasteful and perhaps thankless duty involving a grave responsibility and certain to create bitter enmity. We have no disposition and it would be highly improper to prejudge the merits of the charges in any individual case. Judgment rests with the Supreme court upon evidence presented and substantiated, and until that judgment is rendered the public should and will reserve its own verdict. Nevertheless, the notorious facts of the sanitary legal pay roll have challenged the public conscience and have called for action by the bar, if that fraternity is to be regarded as having any public responsibility for professional ethics and the qualification of members of the bar. The association has faced this responsibility squarely and acted, we believe, conscientiously, in the public interest and with commendable regard for the honor of the legal profession.

SECRET NAVAL EXCHANGES.

The senate foreign relations committee has decided not to make the vote on the naval treaty conditional on information as to all correspondence regarding the conference. Senator Johnson moved that the committee withhold action until the correspondence was submitted. Senators Moses, Shipstead and Robinson of Indiana supported him. Fourteen members, led by Senator Borah, voted against him. The committee, thus, will act on the treaty without knowing what it means.

The administration's refusal to submit the exchanges between the various governments is based on the admission that they would be embarrassing. Mr. Stimson has said that the secrets are not ominous. The inference is that they cover the hidden purposes of the naval agreement. The country does not know the real objects sought in the treaty. It is apparent that none of the ostensible purposes of the conference have been achieved. It is not apparent what actual purposes have been.

Unless the senators are informed privately they are preparing to give their consent in ignorance. The treaty may be the framework of an alliance with Great Britain to guarantee the permanence of the British empire at a time when its internal strain is great and its bonds are loose. An American government might regard the durability of the empire a matter of great concern to the American people. Such a view might be correct, but the senate, if considerate of its obligations, would want to know what it was doing. It would want all the information relating to the agreement. Its foreign relations committee has voted that it does not.

Editorial of the Day

CHICAGO'S WAR.

[The Toronto Globe.]

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, following the murder of one of its reporters by gangsters, has made what is virtually a declaration of war against gangland. In this declaration it is joined by its local contemporaries.

The outside world will watch developments with increasing interest. But from this distance it would appear unlikely that THE TRIBUNE'S efforts will be of any more permanent effect than the hundred-and-one cleanup drives of the last few years.

Politics is Chicago's trouble. All of the Chicago papers support one or other of the political parties. And any one who knows anything about machine politics in the United States knows that when it comes right down to the political machinery in the slum districts there is an intimate relationship between the petty party bosses and the local gangland leaders. Each has something that the other wants—the one can deliver votes, the other political influence—and trades are the result.

There are times when demoralized democracy has to delegate its powers to the temporary dictator, and where the drumhead court martial and the power of summary execution must be applied to restore national stability.

Nowadays the law abiding character of the English people has become proverbial. It is impossible to read history without becoming impressed by the progressive improvement in this regard. This improvement is due partly to the fact that English law and government is more worthy of respect than it was of old. The corruption, for instance, of British parliamentary proceedings of 150 years ago was as bad as that in the Chicago civic area arena today. But England also carried out a wholesale slaughter of the incurable criminal class in the days of the notorious Judge Jeffreys. The latter was probably as heartless and cruel as history alleges. But he did save unborn generations a great deal of trouble.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

HEY, ADMIRAL, WATCH YOUR STEP!

We're worried to death about Dick Byrd, but we slept soundly when he was down at the South Pole. You see, we knew then that he was safe among the good, honest old penguins and icebergs and things, but New York—well, New York is different again. And all the receptions and bands and cheering of millions of people and confetti and pages from the telephone books tossed out of the windows. And flowers and shrieking flappers and speeches and banquets. Don't let them spoil you in New York, admiral. Remember, New York would get just as excited and throw just as much excitement over almost anything at all that comes sailing up the harbor and is met by a reception committee. A tattooed man from the circus, a cannibal chief who had married one hundred and forty-two wives and eaten twenty-four of them, a two-headed calf, or Jo Jo, the Dog Faced Boy—New York would give a wild, crazy, whooping, nerve-racking reception to any of 'em. It's their way down there.

But don't let 'em fool you, admiral! You're one of the biggest prizes ever held in captivity down in New York, and if they don't do something more than they usually do for visiting celebrities—such as blowing up the City Hall or giving you a seat when you ride in the subway—why, they're holding out on you; that's all.

THE CHILLY HEART.

A chilly heart, while wandering by,
Happened a glowing flame to spy.
Whatever chilly hearts may say,
They do not like to be that way.
So she approached the flame, by stealth,
And tried her best to warm herself.
The flame grew bright and brighter still;
The heart grew warm, and warmer, till,
Enchanted by his arden flashes,
She drew too close, and soon was ashes!

Oh chilly hearts! When will you learn
That what can warm, can also burn!

THE AGE OLD QUESTION of what books would you carry with you if you were shipwrecked on a desert island has been supplanted by what books would you keep in the vault if you were a cashier or teller in a suburban or country bank. Of course, it is to be supposed that the vault is equipped with an air hose of some kind so that fresh air may keep on coming in after the bandits have locked you up in there. Also the vault should be thoughtfully provided with some kind of light—either electric, kerosene lamp, or common candle. Likewise, a supply of hard boiled eggs, canned salmon or sardines, a loaf of bread, and a gallon of buttermilk should be cached in the vault. Now, with these things taken care of, what books would you prefer to while away the time until some one comes around with the combination, or a man from the factory, to open the vault and let you out? Our choice would be: This Freedom, Liberty, The Great Outdoors, The Canadian Rockies, The Universe Around Us, and This Way Out.

OUR NEW COMMISSIONER, Mr. Alcock, is going to put policemen back walking beats. We can hardly wait. When we see a policeman strolling easily along whistling the bars of a popular song, stopping at the fruit store to pick a couple of peanuts, and helping old Mrs. Bloomp across the street and telling her she ought to carry an onion in her pocket to cure her rheumatism, then once more we'll believe in Santa Claus and that the world is as nice and kind as it used to be.

A HA! Now we know who was to blame for the big stock crash of the last few days. Congressman Willie Wood of Indiana says, zezze: "I have reason to believe that John J. Raskob, representative of big business and chairman of the Democratic national committee, had a part in this drop, staged to give an impression that the new tariff is not good for business." Up to the hour of going to press, however, Mr. Raskob has not been charged with responsibility for the Mediterranean fly in Florida, the depredations of the boll-weevil in the cotton states, or the lack of rain in western Canada. But he will be, he will be!

HOT WEATHER CLOTHING FOR CHILDREN.

CHILDREN play hard and eat abundantly. They do not play as hard as they should, nor eat as much as they should, but they outdo adults in both particulars nevertheless. Even a baby works harder, kicking around, than does his male parent, the complaint of the latter to the contrary notwithstanding. The mother who nurses said baby supplies him with more calories for his weight than she gets for herself.

When the atmospheric temperature passes to 90 in its upward climb, baby has trouble getting rid of his surplus heat. If he goes naked the job is an easy one, so long as the atmospheric temperature is less than 100. Native mothers in the tropics have sensed this and nowhere else are babies so intelligently clad. They wear nothing but air and their garments fit perfectly. In proportion as a socialized mother dolls up her children in hot weather she adds to their difficulties and even their dangers.

From the standpoint of health and comfort no garment is better than one; one is better than two, and so on up the scale. Many children have prickly heat in very hot weather. This is a mild skin disorder caused by keeping sweat soaked garments in contact with the epidermis. Dusting with any dusting powder is helpful, as mothers generally know. What they do not know is that there is a preventive. If the sweat is allowed to evaporate promptly from the exposed skin, or to flow off freely, there will be no heat rash. If any garment is worn over the rash it should be one of a nonirritating material, such as cotton, and of a weave which drains off moisture promptly and does not become sopping wet. Any wet garment should be promptly removed from contact with the skin. Cooling the skin by bathing or dusting or fanning may help indirectly, but the prompt removal of sweat goes straight to the root of the trouble.

People of middle age and beyond get too much ultra violet during the summer. The overdosage tends toward senility, just as underdosage in winter tends toward pneumonia and colds. In summer they should wear clothing which will protect the skin against sunlight. This consideration is not so important when it comes to clothing for children. The job of growing is a year round employment and it calls for sunlight and the vitamins which the latter begets. Of course, the sun heat in midday may do more harm than the light does good. This much is true—that children's clothing does not need to be especially protective against light.

SODA POP AND CHILDREN.

M. M. writes: My children are always asking me for money to buy pop drinks and beverages that come in bottles. I think these drinks contain carbonated gas and if so, is this gas good for them to drink in quantity or is it harmful for them? Is it better for them to drink two or three bottles of these drinks in hot weather instead of spending their money on chocolate bars, etc.?

REPLY:

Your children will thrive better if they do not drink seasoned drinks nor eat sweet foods between meals. They should be kept on stable, wholesome foods and drinks, not highly seasoned nor greatly sweetened and taken at set times.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 20, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—All the various southern delegations here, as well as all provisional officers thus far appointed, are opposed to Negro suffrage.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Intelligence from northern Georgia and on the line of Sherman's late march through South Carolina states that many people are dying for want of food and it is feared starvation will prevail owing to the general destruction of houses, furniture, food, cattle, horses, fences and farming implements.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Gen. Sheridan is busy organizing the Texas expedition. Gen. Meredith, commanding the cavalry, is moving into Texas with a large force via the Red river and Shreveport. Gens. Granger and Weitzel and their staffs have left New Orleans for the Texas coast on the steamship Crescent. Weitzel goes to Brazos and Granger to Galveston.

NEW YORK.—It has been definitely determined that Jeff Davis will probably be tried in the civil courts before Chief Justice Chase.

CHICAGO.—The 82d or Hecker regiment has returned and was given an enthusiastic reception at Union hall.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 20, 1900.

LONDON.—A Shanghai dispatch announces that a United States transport with troops for Manila was diverted at Nagasaki and has arrived at Taku with 1,200 men. The situation in China is still surrounded with much mystery.

PHILADELPHIA.—With the close of the first day of the Republican national convention the politicians are evidently at sea as to the probable nominee for Vice President. It seems evident that Gov. Roosevelt is out of it, not because of any opposition but because he has declined to permit the use of his name in a way that meant business. The convention was called to order by Senator Hanna, chairman of the Republican national committee, who turned it over to Senator Wolcott. Both made long speeches. The platform as drafted will declare against improper trusts, but will commend combinations of capital which result in the extension of business.

CHICAGO.—Mayor Harrison issued an edict that there must be no betting at Washington Park during the coming race meet. Chief of Police Kipley received his instructions before the mayor left for the east and the police will interfere with the gayety of Derby day should pools be sold or sportsmen seek to stake their dollars on the horses.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

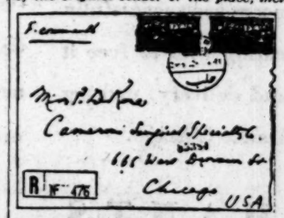

JUNE 20, 1920.

CHICAGO.—Street car fares will be increased to 8 cents for adults and 4 cents for children on July 1. The new fare, authorized by the public utilities commission, will be the highest on the surface lines since unification of the street car systems. By another order of the commission nickel telephone service will cease technically on July 1 as a consequence of new rates granted the company. By increasing the monthly guarantees on coin box service the rate is boosted to 6½ cents a city call.

CHICAGO.—Chicago within a few years must have a sewage treatment system costing between 150 and 200 million dollars, according to sanitary district estimates. In a decision by Judge Landis in federal court the sanitary district is enjoined from withdrawing more than 250,000 cubic feet of water per minute from Lake Michigan. More than twice that amount is used now to dilute the city's sewage. The case will be appealed.

INTERESTING LETTERS

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed and some information about the writer of the letter. If you have a picture of the original sender or the place, inclose it also.

Letter received by P. De Rosa, 714 North Western avenue, Chicago, Ill.

This letter came to Mr. De Rosa from a Dr. Altounyan, who operates the Altounyan hospital at Aleppo, Syria. He states that the doctor not only looks after the physical welfare of the inhabitants of this particular part of the world, but ministers to their spiritual well being as well.

Aleppo is the capital of the vilayet or state bearing its name. It is situated on a plateau in the valley of the Kuwaik river, which reaches its end ten miles away in a large salt marsh called the Matkh. About three-quarters of the population is composed of Moslems. The city lies half way between the River Euphrates and the Mediterranean.

The city stands on both banks of the Kuwaik. The older section is contained within a circular wall broken by seven gates. The European residents live outside of this wall. The climate is cold and dry and fairly healthy, although each year a swelling known as "the Aleppo button" breaks out on the faces of numbers of the inhabitants. This malady has been attributed to various sources, including flies and water.

Many of the European powers have consular offices at Aleppo, and it is also the residence of the Greek and Armenian patriarchs.

TO IMPROVE POLICE DISCIPLINE.

Chicago, June 16.—Heretofore the chief of police has been appointed from among the captains on the force. After he goes out as chief he goes back as captain. The latter fact in my opinion restrains him in his activities. He does not want to discipline his subordinate captains when occasion requires, because he knows what will be his fate when he goes back to his captaincy and one of the others takes office as chief. For his own future protection he must, without a doubt, use leniency at times when he should use force.

Why not pass an ordinance that will automatically retire every chief on a pension when he goes out of office? Then he could deal with all his subordinates in a proper manner and know that when he finished the job he would not be subjected to any retaliatory acts. GEORGE D. REESE.

ALLMAN FOR POLICE COMMISSIONER.

Chicago, June 17.—I do not know anything of the caliber of Mr. Alcock, but I do know of a certain captain in this city by the name of Allman who is at present located in the stockyards district. This man is known and respected by every one who has ever had the opportunity of meeting him, and if our so-called mayor and the city council are in earnest about cleaning up our city I would suggest that they appoint this gentleman to the task. Every one is his friend, but no one, even among his closest and intimate friends, has the courage to even ask him to do any fixing for them. R. D. CLINNIN.

THE FIRE ALARM.

Chicago, June 16.—In his letter Mr. W. S. Gerts states he saw smoke coming from a building at Congress and Wabash at 8 p. m. He further states he drove approximately one mile to a fire house, during which time he was trying to find a police officer. In doing so Mr. Gerts drove west on Congress to State and then west on Van Buren to Wells street, north on Wells to Monroe, then west to Franklin street, and then north to engine company No. 40 and truck company No. 6's quarters, where he finally reported the fire.

In driving from the fire to the engine house, Mr. Gerts passed ten fire alarm boxes, one of these boxes, box 65, at Congress street and Wabash avenue, the location of the fire.

CARL A. STERNAGLE.

ONE REPUBLICAN LOST.

Chicago, June 16.—Now that the Republican party has grown so confident of its power that it feels it can pass with impunity such an atrocity as the Smoot-Hawley tariff, there is only one recourse left to the voters—namely: to vote Democratic at the next presidential election.

Such a procedure would first of all remove this obnoxious measure. Secondly, it would notify the Republicans now in office that we are tired of their obtuse high-handedness. Subsequent Republican administrations would doubtless heed this warning, at least for a time, insuring more equitable government.

I have no pride in my affiliations with this party, which has latterly developed into a secretive, favorite playing, yes-man organization. R. L.

MODERN ARCHITECTURE.

Chicago, June 3.—It is gratifying to note that in the development of modern architecture logic plays, as it should, an important a part. Especially is this true in regard to the huge commercial structures now being erected in all parts of the country. The design of these structures is further influenced by law, building laws limiting the height and by the setback imposed determining, as a measure, the outline or silhouette of the building. There is, however, an esthetic or emotional side to architecture which is not fully gratified by mere logic. These huge commercial structures are erected, of course, primarily for gain, the purpose of their existence being thus one of necessity and not of glorification of an abstract idea or principle.

Accepting the conditions imposed by logic and law as a basis, it will, I think, be admitted that the gratification of the sense of beauty, inherent more or less in every human being, is also of great importance. If these structures can be made beautiful, it is our duty to make them so. They can be. The tremendous mass is a factor or element in their favor from the standpoint of impressiveness. All great art demands a certain bulk or weight (relative to the human figure) to impress us. In the pyramids of Egypt, the Parthenon of Athens, the Cathedral of Notre Dame at Paris, or any other notable buildings were reduced in size to one-half the present dimensions they would at once lose in majesty and sublimity of effect. Size and massiveness is therefore an asset in the design of these structures, but not the only thing needed to stir within us esthetic emotions.

We cannot get away from our old friends, form, proportion, rhythm, organic unity, harmony. These are the eternal verities which apply to all art. The element of color as an integral part of the material used in the building is subject to the same laws. The artificial lighting of these buildings now so much in vogue is a matter of evanescent duration and not strictly architecture. It corresponds to the transitory effects of changing sun or moon light and has nothing whatever to do with the merits of a building considered as a piece of architecture. F. P. DINKELBERG.

AND THEIR HATS.

Galesburg, Ill., June 16.—Having read with considerable interest your article on men's styles and clothing and noted your especial emphasis upon cool clothing for summer, allow me as one desirous of relieving us men as much as possible of the heat to say your suggestion of shirt and pants altered so as to appear more presentable without coat is a good one. But the hats men wear are no better than no hats at all. The brim is much too narrow to afford shade and the low crown is merely an excellent conductor of heat.

I would suggest that we adopt the Mexican style of sombrero with brim ranging from 10 to 13 inches in width and steeple crown from 10 to 12 inches in height. If you have never worn such a hat you may think it incredible when I tell you that they afford immense relief from the heat. For more conservative Americans the large style Stetson hat ranging from 6 inch brim 7 inch crown to 7½ inch brim 9 inch crown will be a boon in comparison to suffering in the almost tropical heat of this climate. JAMES BRIGHAM YOUNG.

THE EX-GUARDS SERGEANT TAKES UP FARMING

[London Passing Show.]

Troopers and Tanks Take Part in Rehearsal.

A bevy of fighting planes soared over the loop yesterday, signaling to Chicago's millions that the most spectacular military exhibition ever staged in the middle west is to start tomorrow at Soldiers' field. Modern warfare, with its accompaniment of booming cannon and the rattle of machine gun and rifle fire, will be demonstrated here for a week. Nearly 100,000 persons are expected to view the tournament tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Last night a rehearsal of the war show was held in Soldiers' field. Airplanes, tanks, artillery and infantry participated in a reenactment of the battle of Chateau Thierry. The historic village which gave the battle its name was rebuilt on the field, and 1,000 infantrymen fought the engagement. The scene was enlivened by fireworks and searchlights.

60 Planes on Parade.

Sixty of the United States army's fastest fighting planes dipped and zoomed over Soldiers' field. Forty-one of these planes were from the 1st pursuit group of Selfridge field, near Detroit. They arrived yesterday noon and gave an exhibition over the loop, being quartered later at Curtiss field.

Parachute jumping was one of the features of last night's rehearsal. A number of jumpers dropped from planes and drifted slowly to the ground. Lines of galloping cavalrymen dashed across the field in perfect formation. The exhibition included fire jumps, mounted calisthenics, and other stunts.

Tanks Join in Exhibition.

Tanks lumbered over hills and through shell holes. Great searchlights swept the skies, picking out now and then a speeding plane or balloon. The searchlights are five feet in diameter and are rated at more than one billion candle power. With such light, according to experts, a bombing plane can be illuminated six miles away. The sound locater, a new device which detects planes by the sound of their motors and propellers, also was put into use.

The receipts from the tournament and exposition, excluding expenses of staging, will be turned over to the Army Relief society, an organization that assists widows and orphans of regular army soldiers.

Traffic Group Maps Motor Routes to Air Race Field

BY ROBERT WOOD.

Plans for handling 30,000 automobiles and 100,000 spectators daily during the national air races from Aug. 23 to Sept. 1 were outlined at a meeting of the traffic control committee of the air race organization yesterday in the Hotel Sherman.

President Cermak of the county board was made chairman of the large committee of police and fire department officials, traffic experts, and motor club representatives whose task it will be to move the great army of air race fans 22 miles to the Curtiss airport at Glenview and back into the city again each day with the least congestion. President Cermak said the work of improving the highways leading to Curtiss field will begin at once.

Plan One Way Roads.

A total of 67 square miles of one way roads will be reserved for traffic to and from the races, according to Robert C. Kingery, secretary of the Chicago Plan commission, who detailed the plans evolved by traffic experts and air race officials. During the hours preceding the race program traffic will be moved into Curtiss field from all directions over five main highways.

According to these plans 1,000 cars will reach the field hourly over each lane and will be parked in three large parking lots with a total capacity of 30,000 cars. It is estimated that 120,000 people can be brought to the field in this manner. After the conclusion of each day's program the traffic system will be reversed so that all lanes will lead away from the field.

Plane to Survey Conditions.

For the first time in history the airplane, radio and telephone will be linked to aid in traffic control. One radio equipped plane will soar over the north shore surveying traffic conditions and relaying orders to the ground by radio. Police and firemen from Chicago and from a dozen north side towns will direct national guardsmen and sailors from the Great Lakes Naval training station in the work of guiding traffic.

Among the members named to various subcommittees are Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keehn, Acting Commissioner of Police Alcock, Sheriff Traeger, Brig. Gen. Gasper H. Conrad, Jr., commanding officer at Fort Sheridan; Col. A. A. Sprague, J. A. Ritchie, president of the Chicago Motor Coach company; Charles M. Mayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, Leslie J. Sorenson, city traffic engineer; and Maj. G. A. Quinlan, county superintendent of highways.

IMPORTANT REDUCTIONS

The 1930 Semi-Annual Sale of Jerrems will make tailoring history

The reductions that we have effected will make it possible for the first time to obtain the very finest custom, made-to-measure clothes at a cost heretofore thought impossible. Hundreds of men will take advantage of this unusual opportunity. These are two distinctive features.

FEATURE No. 1

An unrestricted choice of our entire stock of imported fabrics is offered, with extra trousers or knickers, AT THE PRICE OF THE SUIT ALONE. This feature represents savings from $15 to $30.

FEATURE No. 2

Three groups of suitings, including fine imported worsteds and cheviots, have been radically reduced. They are to be tailored to your individual measure in three-piece suits and are priced at

$58.50 $67.50 $76.50

With these unusually low prices is the same fine quality of hand tailoring, the same careful individual fitting, the same large unrestricted choice of imported woolens, the same service, and the same courtesy that Jerrems is noted for.

MOTORISTS VISIT NILES, MICH., ON HISTORICAL TOUR

City Under Four Flags in Last 250 Years.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Niles, Mich., June 19.—[Special.]—A tour of historical research and legendary inquiry in western Michigan, conducted by the Michigan Tourist and Resort association, the Western Michigan Motor club and others, brought a motorcade of five automobiles this afternoon to this city, that has been under four flags in 250 years.

The purpose of the tour is to acquaint the public, especially those who are seeing America somewhat hastily from their automobiles, with the events that led to making this country what it is today. A wealth of material was found in this city of 11,300 on the St. Joseph river, 98 miles from Chicago.

Indians Stage Massacre.

Late in the seventeenth century, La Salle claimed this territory for France after exploring the St. Joseph river and establishing a fort at its mouth, the site of the cities of St. Joseph and Benton Harbor. Three years later this fort was destroyed and the French built another, Fort St. Joseph, near the present city of Niles.

The English took possession of this fort in 1759 after the fall of Quebec, the Pottawattomie Indians massacred the garrison in 1763 and held the position for two years, until it was returned to the British by the Pontiac treaty. During the American revolution the outpost saw little activity but in 1781 a Spanish expedition, after marching across Illinois from St. Louis, seized the fort, plundered for four days and then burned it and retired to Spanish territory.

It is to brush the dust off such history, so as to make western Michigan more interesting, to its residents as well as its visitors, that the various chambers of commerce across Lake Michigan from Chicago are coöperating. They are also uncovering little known legends of interest.

In a grove of trees on the farm of Roy Cobb, near Kalamazoo, was found a powwow camp, judging from speakers mounds and traces of trails, of the tribes that once ruled the wooded hills, the streams and the lakes of this peninsula.

St. Joseph Is Next Stop.

In Kalamazoo, a tablet on the Michigan Central station reads, "city built on the Match-e-be-nash-e-wish reserve, given up in 1827 under Gov. Cass." It was there that three thousand Indians, chiefly Pottawattomies and Ottawas, in accordance with their treaty with the whites, assembled and started their march, men, women children, babies, dogs, ponies, and all their belongings, for new reservations west of the Mississippi.

The Chamber of Commerce exploitation will continue through Sunday, going from here to St. Joseph and then on the scenic coastal route up the east coast of Lake Michigan.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: The Calm Before the Storm

Attacks Envoy's Speech —Not Diplomat.

BERLIN, June 19.—(AP)—A spokesman for the power industry tonight answered the speech made yesterday by Ambassador Frederic M. Sackett, in which the ambassador said in effect that the cost of power to the consumer was 15 times that of the cost of production.

"The cost of a banana on the tree," asserts a statement issued by George N. Tidd, president of the American Gas and Electric company, "is infinitesimal, yet by the time it has been gathered and reached the fruit stand the ratio is nearer 1,500 to 1 than 15 to 1, and similar examples are common in all kinds of industries.

"The electrical industry is by no means the only, or even the most striking, example of this great difficulty [of the spread between production cost and the cost to the consumer]. In nearly every industry the cost of distributing and selling is much greater than the initial cost of production."

Attacks Ambassador's "Logic."

Although he attacked Mr. Sackett's logic, Tidd was calm in his references to the ambassador, whose speech was the storm center of the conference for a while. On the contrary, he concedes that "Ambassador Sackett has earned the gratitude of electrical engineers by drawing the attention of the public to the high cost of distributing electricity, which those engineers for years have been attempting to reduce."

Stating that the problem of cutting distribution costs is universal, the statement continues:

"Perhaps the best analogy is in the supply of water for domestic use. The cost of production when the water is in the hills is nothing, but by the time it has been collected and purified and transmitted to domestic users, high expenses inevitably have been incurred.

"A Chain of Costs."

"There is a continous chain of costs in the process of producing electrical energy from water in the hills or coal in the mines. By choosing any particular point in this chain for calculating the cost of production, any ratio you like can be obtained. The selling price may be not 15 but probably 150 times, if not 1,500 times, the cost of water in the lake.

"On the other hand, it would be just as logical to calculate the ratio, not at the generating station, but at some point between the central point and the customer."

Mr. Sackett's speech was delivered yesterday despite objections of the "fifteen to one" portion by Samuel Insull, utility man of Chicago.

TEXAS BOY KILLS WRONG MAN TO AVENGE FATHER

El Paso, Tex., June 19.—(AP)—Antonio Visconte, 40, a barroom waiter in Juarez, was shot to death last night when he was erroneously identified as Manuel Villareal, wanted in El Paso for the murder of W. H. Meers, federal reserve bank watchman. Jeff Mears, 22, El Paso, the watchman's son, is said by police to have confessed to shooting Visconte. He is held in jail at Juarez.

After the slaying Mears telephoned his mother in El Paso telling her he had shot Villareal. He learned later that he had killed the wrong man.

Sir Thomas Lipton, 80, Confined to Bed with Cold

BELFAST, Ireland, June 19.—(AP)—Sir Thomas Lipton, the famous yachtsman who recently celebrated his 80th birthday anniversary, was confined to his home today with a heavy cold. He was forbidden by his physician to go to Bangor bay to see his new yacht, the Shamrock V., racing in home waters prior to departure for the United States in quest of the America's cup.

Deaths of a Day

LAPORTE, Ind. — [Special.] — Mrs. William H. C. Higgins Jr., 56, prominent in Indiana Methodist women's circles, died here after an emergency operation for appendicitis. She is survived by her husband and three children, Mrs. George Hotton of Williams Bay, Wis., William of New York and George of Laporte.

DR. GEO. C. HALL FUNERAL RITES WILL BE TODAY

Funeral services for Dr. George Cleveland Hall, for thirty-five years a Negro leader of Chicago, will be held at noon today at the Grace Presbyterian church, 36th street and Vincennes avenue. Dr. Hall, who was chief of staff of Provident hospital and a close friend of prominent physicians, as well as being nationally known among his own race, died at his home, 3638 South Park way, on Tuesday.

Dr. Hall was born in Ypsilanti, Mich., in 1864. Following his graduation from the Lincoln university in Pennsylvania he matriculated at Bennett Medical school, now out of operation, and was graduated with the highest honors in his class.

Following the race riots in 1919, Dr. Hall was one of the first to whom the then Gov. Lowden turned for assistance. He was later appointed on the commission to investigate and bring about a more friendly feeling between the races. He served as a member of the Chicago library board under Mayor Dever, was a vice president of the national Y. M. C. A. and a director of the National Urban league.

Interment will be in Rosehill cemetery.

Polish Soldier Slain by German Border Guard

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 19.—According to a German report issued tonight a German border guard going his rounds on a bicycle discovered a Polish border guard near Gross-Prostken, near Lyck, on German soil. The Pole, according to the report, opened fire at the German, who fell off his bicycle at the first surprise shot and thus was not hit. The German returned the fire and killed the Pole.

MURDER CASE OF ROCKFORD MAN GOES TO JURY

Rockford, Ill., June 19.—(AP)—The case of John Pokosa, charged with the murder of his son-in-law, Gordon Saaf, May 4, went to the jury tonight at 6:22 p. m.

The jury retired after hearing a three hour plea by Roy F. Hall, attorney for the defense, urging insanity. Karl C. Williams, assistant state's attorney of Winebago county, who prosecuted the case, did not ask the death penalty in his closing plea, but asked "a punishment consonant with the crime." He rejected the insanity plea.

The trial began Tuesday. Saaf had eloped with Estelle Pokosa to Chicago, where they were married four days before Saaf was killed. They returned to the Pokosa house to get the girl's clothing. The two men began to quarrel, it was testified, and Pokosa shot Saaf.

Niemoth Still Further Implicated in Old Holdup

Baltimore, Md., June 19.—(AP)—Willie Niemoth, alleged Chicago gangster, already identified by four witnesses as a participant in a $47,000 holdup here in 1926, was further implicated today by a handwriting expert. James W. Taylor, Alexandria, Va., chief of the bureau of identification of the navy, said he believed Niemoth wrote a note ten days prior to the holdup, sent to J. W. Banks, the bandits, alleged "layout man." Banks later was found shot to death in the abandoned robbery car. The note said "On our way. Will arrrive on time. Bill."

FOREIGN WAR VETS VOTE AID TO SWICK BILL

Charleston, Ill., June 19.—(AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting here in their three day eleventh annual encampment, voted today to support the Swick bill now pending in congress, which pertains to pensions of veterans of all foreign wars. The order sponsored the introduction of the bill.

The first business meeting of the encampment was held today with Department Commander Hal L. Carr of Aurora presiding. Commander in Chief Hezekiah N. Duff of Lansing, Mich., spoke on the Swick bill.

At the same time the woman's auxiliary opened its meeting with Mrs. Kittie B. Nolan of Chicago in the chair. Julia L. Pitcock of Cleveland, O., national judge advocate, is attending.

ALFONSO TURNS INTO DUKE JUST FOR PARIS JAUNT

Spain May Hold Elections During King's Absence.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Spain, June 19.—A certain duke of Toledo, better known to the world as Alfonso, king of Spain, left Madrid tonight on a jaunt to Paris and London, to be gone, according to his present plans, about a month.

As the name he has chosen to travel under indicates, the monarch is making what to all appearances is his annual excursion to the northern capitals and will look in on the Grand Prix, the biggest race of the French turf.

First Trip Since Primo Died.

Since this is the first time that Alfonso has left the country since Primo De Rivera's dictatorship fell and the "transition regime" of Gen. Damaso Berenguer came in, the political wiseacres read deep signficance into the journey due to the fact that sooner or later "something" will have to happen in Spain.

The "something" that is projected, of course, is the elections which the government thinks will possibly be held in November. But in the meantime, the monarch has fences to mend and the two leaders most talked of to head the first constitutional government after the elections, are both abroad.

One is Santiago Alba, the foreign minister who fled when Primo's coup came off, and who has not come back since, and the other is Francisco Cambo, the Catalan industrialist.

Family Sees Him Off.

There was nothing momentous about his departure at the station tonight when the "Duke of Toledo" said good-by to his family and boarded a special car attached to the regular train. He wore a sack suit. Gen. Berenguer, also in civvies, and the rest of the government, the court and representatives of the diplomatic corps in uniform, were there as well as the royal family. Queen Victoria kissed his cheek and the Infantas Christina and Beatriz, and Infante Don Jaime did the same.

The regular passengers on the express including American tourists, were thrilled and excited by the royal presence, but they were astonished to see no pilot train sent ahead and that the only guards were a small detachment of the gendarmerie in the baggage coach.

Despite the usual rumors that dire things are about to happen almost immediately, the political barometer is calm and probably will be until elections, barring accidents. The biggest cloud in the sky is the fall of the peseta, which Gen. Berenguer said today was not warranted by the financial situation of the country.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

DUBLIN, June 10.—To avoid a possible fuel shortage on his trans-Atlantic flight westward, which will start as soon as the weather permits, Maj. Kingsford-Smith intends to refuel in the air on the American coast if the necessary preparations are completed in time. Explaining this latest change in his plans, he said:

"I have provided for a start only when adverse winds over the Atlantic average 15 miles on hour. With this wind I would have enough fuel to reach my destination. By refueling in the air, however, I could start against a headwind averaging as much as twenty miles an hour. Assuming I will have to meet such conditions my petrol will last for a distance of a few hundred miles from the Maine coast where I could take on more fuel."

The flyer's plans call for a refueling about 600 miles north of Maine. To carry out the operation the wireless operator will be provided with a hammer and chisel to punch a hole in the top of the main tank for the insertion of the fuel line.

HITS CONGRESS FOR FAILURE TO END IDLENESS

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—The present congress was termed an "absolute failure so far as dealing constructively with the problem of unemployment" is concerned in a statement issued tonight by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Green said the federation was "deeply disappointed" over the house judiciary committee action in voting to refer the Wagner employment agency bill to a subcommittee.

"We construe such action," he said, "as an expression of hostility and opposition to this proposed measure." He also expressed regret at the committee's amendments to the Wagner bill for long range planning of public works, terming the amendments "highly objectionable to labor."

HITCHCOCK WILL OPPOSE NORRIS FOR U. S. SENATE

Omaha, Neb., June 19.—(AP)—Declaring that an emergency exists in which the agricultural middle west and the country at large should turn to the Democratic party for relief, former Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Omaha publisher, announced today that he will oppose Senator George W. Norris for the latter's seat in the fall election. Hitchcock, who will seek the Democratic nomination, was for eighteen years a member of the senate and during the world war was chairman of the foreign relations committee. His father was a Republican senator from Nebraska before him.

WOMAN, ILL, HANGS SELF.

CRIME ABSENT IN ICELAND, UTOPIA OF NORTHERN SEA

28 Policemen Only Armed Force of Country.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, June 19.—Sitting up here on top of the world, Iceland is almost as much of an Ultima Thule as it was in the time of the ancients, as far as anything is known about it in Europe or America.

Iceland has no unemployment. She has no liquor problem. She has no crime problems and no slums. Everybody is sober, everybody has a job, and the police have nothing to do.

No Army, No Navy.

Iceland is not worried with an army and navy and has no foreign complications. Her sole armed force is 28 policemen in Reykjavik, who are very proud of the new uniforms which have just been served out to them in order to impress visitors to the celebrations for the millennium of the foundation of the althing, the oldest parliament in the world.

The prime minister in this ideal state is Tryggvi Thorshallsson, formerly a Lithuanian minister, who has devoted his life in recent years to Iceland politics. He is a member of the Farmers' party, which, while it has not a complete majority, is kept in power by the Socialists' support.

Looks Like a Viking.

Mr. Thorshallsson fulfills the idea of a viking. He is tall, broad, blue-eyed and slow spoken, but with a complete grasp of all problems. He explained that his government believes in the great natural opportunities of Iceland. The country is only half populated and could easily support twice as many people. The present population is 100,000, a quarter of whom live in the capital.

Iceland's two great industries are farming and fishing, and the latter almost monopolizes the export trade.

Dry, but Imports Wine.

There is prohibition in Iceland and it is harder to get a drink here than to avoid one at home. However, under a treaty with Spain, which is the greatest consumer of salted fish from Iceland, that country must admit wines. No hard liquor may be imported.

Iceland is blessed with low taxation, and only about $200,000 is raised by direct taxation, while the balance, $3,000,000, is raised indirectly, most of it by duties on wines, tea, sugar and coffee. During the past four years there has been a budget surplus of from $250,000 to $500,000.

At present practically all cloth is imported, although some rough material is made in two mills. There are hopes, however, that the mills will be able to make the best qualities of materials, as Iceland wool is unsurpassed.

Call on Illinois Lawyers to Fight for Dry Law Repeal

First steps to enlist Illinois lawyers in a nationwide movement opposed to the prohibition amendment were taken yesterday by a group of prominent Chicago attorneys meeting at the Chicago club.

The meeting was sponsored by the Chicago members of the National Voluntary Committee of Lawyers, Inc., organized in New York more than a year ago to fight for prohibition repeal. A letter signed by the Chicago members was sent to all lawyers in the city, urging them to support a resolution before the Chicago Bar association favoring repeal.

For State Liquor Control.

"The purpose of the committee," said Attorney Charles Y. Freeman, "is to make clear to the public that the 18th amendment constitutes an overextension of federal power, with the resulting abrogation of inherent civil rights. The organization is for the repeal of the amendment and of the Volstead act and for the return of liquor control to the states."

Mr. Freeman declared that since the organization of the committee in New York the bar associations of that city and of Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, St. Louis, and New Jersey have gone on record for repeal.

Mr. Freeman declared the Chicago movement had particular significance in view of the meeting of the American Bar association here Aug. 21 to 22. Efforts will be made to enlist the Chicago and Illinois associations in favor of repeal by that time, and then the question will be voted upon by the 30,000 members of the national body, Mr. Freeman said.

Foreman Explains Purpose.

The interest of the legal profession in the prohibition question was explained by Gen. Milton J. Foreman, one of the Chicago attorneys signing the circular letter, as follows:

"It is the purpose of attorneys, as officers of the courts, to secure the respect for law and the administration of justice. It is obvious to every lawyer that the eighteenth amendment has created a disrespect for law and authority and has eaten into the respect for the constitution, the backbone of the nation.

"We attorneys believe that this amendment should be repealed and the control of liquor returned to the states where it belongs."

INVADE FLAT, STAB OCCUPANT.

Arthur Johnson, alias "The Fish," was probably fatally stabbed yesterday morning by three unidentified men who invaded his flat at 2644 Emmett street. Jean Laski, 20 years old, 2629 Cortland street, his companion, told the police the men beat Johnson unconscious, one of them wielding a knife.

AWAIT MORROW WORD TO DRAFT WET PLATFORM

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—If Dwight W. Morrow, Republican senatorial candidate in New Jersey, wishes a wet plank written into the party's platform next Tuesday, when the G. O. P. committee meets in Trenton, it will be written in, E. Bertram Mott, chairman of the committee, announced today.

The fact that Mr. Mott now has gone on record makes it almost certain that the platform will be wet.

With the unofficial count completed today in all but 16 election districts, the vote in Tuesday's primary election for Republican nominee for United States senator was:

Morrow	419,464
Fort	118,256
Frelinghuysen	48,058

The Republican county committee voted by an overwhelming majority tonight to advocate a plank in the Republican state platform for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

The resolution was applauded by nearly all of the 300 members of the committee when it was presented by Gen. James G. Harbord, chairman of the Republican advisory committee of Manhattan. Mr. Harbord read the statement, and stated that the plan for the repeal plank had been approved on Tuesday at a meeting of the advisory committee.

Joseph Levinson, Republican leader of the First assembly district, led the contest for approval of the resolution.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—Senate supporters of the house bill to liberalize compensation for world war veterans failed in an attempt to bring up the bill today, but indications were that the senate will start debating it after disposing of the rivers and harbors bill tomorrow.

It has been tacitly agreed among the senate leaders that the veterans bill should be the next order of business. At adjournment time today the controversial Blaine amendment in the harbors bill was out of the way and it was expected that the bill itself will be voted on early tomorrow, making way for consideration of the veterans' measure.

Hoping to rush through the veterans' bill ahead of the rivers and harbors measure Senator Charles L. McNary [Rep., Ore.], assistant Republican leader, at noon today asked consent to call it up with a vote at 4 o'clock. Senator David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.] objected. Senator Reed likewise objected when Senator McNary proposed to make the time 5 o'clock and lastly 6 o'clock.

Asks Time for Debate.

"There are some parts of the bill which I strongly favor," Senator Reed said. "There are some parts that I think are wholly wrong. I do not believe ten senators on the floor understand what is in it. It ought to be made the unfinished business immediately after the rivers and harbors bill is disposed of; I believe that in two days debate at most we can thrash it out and pass it."

Sponsors of the legislation today were asserting openly that they are fighting against time and the danger of a pocket veto by President Hoover, who, they fear, will not favor an expensive bill. As reported by the senate finance committee, the bill is estimated to involve a cost to the government of fifty to a hundred million dollars annually in the form of payments to disabled ex-service men.

Ten Days to Sign.

The President, under the law, has ten days in which to sign or veto a bill after it has passed both houses. As the veterans' bill must still travel back to the house and possibly to conference before it reaches the White House, and as plans call for adjournment of congress the end of next week, the adjournment might take place before the ten days are up and before the bill is signed, in which case a pocket veto would be effective.

Responding to appeals from the American Legion and other groups, supporters of the relief bill declare they will make a fight to pass the bill and hold congress in session the full ten days.

In a statement today Representative John Rankin [Dem., Miss.], house leader of the bill's sponsors, declared that the "majority of both houses seem to have adopted the slogan expressed by veterans throughout the country that a vote to adjourn before this bill is passed and goes to the White House and back is a vote against veterans' relief."

Auxiliary Asks Support.

Springfield, Ill., June 19.—(AP)—Telegrams were dispatched today to several Illinois congressmen and the two Illinois senators in congress by the twenty-first district convention of the American Legion auxiliary, urging them to vote for the veterans' relief legislation called the Rankin bill.

Seeks Auto Sniper; Fires at Passing Windshields

South Bend, June 19.—[Special.]—South Bend and Mishawaka police are seeking the identity of the sniper who fires at motorists from the safety of a speeding automobile. The third mysterious shooting in as many nights last night shattered the windshield of a car driven by Claude Logan, Pontiac, Mich., who suffered lacerations above the eyes. The attack occurred about ten miles west of the city.

CHINA DEMANDS BRITAIN ARREST CUSTOMS 'PIRATE'

Protests Port's Seizure by London Author.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, June 20.—[Friday.]—The Chinese Nationalist government last night protested to the British government regarding the action of the British writer and novelist, Lennox Simpson, or better known by the pen name of "Putnam Weale," who seized the Chinese customs house at Tientsin. The government formally asked the British authorities to arrest and deport him.

Mr. Simpson, under the orders of Gen. Yen Hsi-Shan, northern rebel leader, took over the customs house and ousted Col. Hayley Bell, the appointee of the central government, in a coup last Monday. He was aided by Shansi troops in mufti.

Powers May Intervene.

Concerted action by foreign powers may result from this unusual situation because of the fact that double duties must be paid for imports. The ships dock first at Shanghai and full import duties are paid for other ports.

At Tientsin the rebel appointee insists upon a duplicate import tax. The powers charge these demands are nothing short of piracy.

The Nationalist government also sent an official communication to Tientsin temporarily closing the Tientsin customs house and ordering the complete withdrawal of the foreign and Chinese customs staff.

Government Clearance Ordered.

The government official notice declared:

"The customs house at Tientsin has been closed and the staff withdrawn. Cargo destined for Tientsin is releasable upon the liquidation of all fiscal obligations."

Local officials declared this action was taken following full consideration of the situation that cargoes destined for Tientsin must obtain clearance from Shanghai or some other port controlled by the Nationalist government, such as Tsingtao or Dairen.

HOYLAKE, England, June 19.—Bobby Jones, with his two day card reading two under fours for the 72 holes, was leading the best golfers of two continents tonight in the British open championship which will be decided tomorrow in a final round of 36 holes. Only the 61 leaders are left in the running, the rest of the field of 110 having been disqualified at the end of today's play.

Jones had the second best card of the day with a par 72 this afternoon, which, combined with his 70 yesterday, gives him a total of 142. He has a lead of one stroke over his nearest competitor, three over the next, and a margin of five strokes over several players who earlier in the week were regarded as serious obstacles in his march to the title.

Moe in 147 Division.

Fred Robson, 45 year old British pro, follows Jones with 143. Horton Smith is one over par for the two rounds with 145 and is in third place.

Five strokes behind with 147 are three pros and one amateur, the 20 year old Don Moe turning in 73 this afternoon to join Jones as the only amateurs in the upper tier.

Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente pro and United States professional champion, also had 73 today. There are one American and two Britons with him. MacDonald Smith of New York came in with 77 after yesterday's 70. Archie Compston played around in 73 and had 74 yesterday. Phil Rodgers reversed Compston's scores.

Jim Barnes, New York pro, followed with 148, having trouble in the bunkers and on the greens. Henry Cotton, who thrilled Britons yesterday with 70, shot 79 today and he is now seven strokes behind Jones, with half the championship rounds played.

Field of 61 Remains.

The rest of the field trails at intervals, the last qualifying group having 158. Sixty-one managed to get in, the championship committee selecting the first 60 and ties for 60th place.

There are seven Americans remaining. F. C. Stevens of the Lakeside club qualified with 158. George Von Elm is the only one who failed to win a place in the finals. Von Elm had 81 yesterday and his card today was only two strokes better.

It is almost an even bet among the bookies that Jones will take the cup. There is little hope in England tonight that any British player can stop him.

The gallery is increasing daily. Three thousand followed Jones today. His last round tomorrow doubtless will bring out a crowd as large as the 15,000 who cheered him after he won the British amateur at St. Andrews two weeks ago.

Jones' round today was better than

The Cubs' victory over the Braves yesterday enabled them to cut Brooklyn's lead in the National league to 2½ games. The Robins lost to the Reds, 5 to 0.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The sight of ten Cubs romping over the plate in the first three innings yesterday was more than sufficient to discourage the Braves in the homecoming of the champions. Having accomplished that number of runs in the time mentioned, the title holders subsided and played out the game for a 10 to 4 decision which will go into the personal ledger of Guy Bush.

Hanging up ten runs in three innings necessitated considerable work with the bat. It also necessitated the removal of squatty Harry Selbold, who has been known to hurl with more than average skill. Right in the opening frame Seibold ran into a salvo made up of two homers and a triple, one of the former being Hack Wilson's No. 19. Then he surrendered completely in the midst of a five run riot in the second and after this the Cubs conducted themselves as gentlemen, barring the third when Ki Cuyler picked up a couple with a homer off Rescuer Willie Sherdel.

Bush Stops 'Em Cold.

Bush began his day's work in such dazzling fashion that for a spell 12,000 spectators anticipated the sight of a no hit affair. For five innings the swarthy southern lad didn't permit a Brave to reach base. During these sessions there was only one ball really hit and Capt. Grimm smothered this with a great stop. In the sixth, however, a couple of puny hits broke Bush's charm, a run scoring. Then, having no good reason for exerting himself, he slowed down and four hits in the eighth, one a home run by Chatham, gave the visitors their other three tallies.

The first inning began to declare a dividend as soon as Blair was out of the way. English ran the string to 2 and 2 and then lined an emphatic drive into the seats in right. Woody was hardly back to the dugout before Cuyler tripled in the same direction. Wilson spurned one pitch and then propelled the next into the open space behind the flag pole in right.

Guy Starts It Off.

Bush, who dearly loves his base hits, had the pleasure of starting the five run affair in the second round. He singled to center and Blair singled to right. English flied out, but Cuyler hit a single and Bush scooted home. This was where Seibold went away. Sherdel managed to nail Wilson on an infield grounder, but Blair scored on the play. A hit by Stephenson sent Cuyler home. Grimm flied to left and Berger went in pursuit but got his feet in fly paper and fell. This gave Grimm a double and Stevie registered. Grimm scored the last run of the inning on Hartnett's double past third base.

Cuyler's third blow in as many successive chapters enabled the champs to suspend a deuce from the scoreboard in the third. Blair slapped a single to left with one out and was forced by English. Cuyler swung his bat in the path of Sherdel's first pitch and the ball sailed high and far to left, finally vanishing behind the brick barrier for a homer to complete the day's scoring so far as the Cubs were involved.

Braves Score in 6th.

The first Brave batter in the sixth knocked down Bush's house of hopes. Richbourg lifted a fly to short center and either Beck or Blair could have grabbed it with ease. Both insisted on getting a piece of the play. The result was a collision with no catch. Richbourg made two bases on his powerful wallop. Maguire followed with a slow, looping single to right, Richbourg going to third. Sherdel then bounced into a fast double play started by Blair and while this bit of defense was being staged Richbourg ran home from third.

Three useless runs for the Braves in the eighth started with Chatham shooting his homer into the bleacher in left. Cronin singled and Richbourg bunted. On the latter Bush heaved wild to first base and the two runners scored when Maguire singled to left.

Yale Oarsmen Picked to Win from Harvard

New London, Conn., June 19.—(AP)—Yale and Harvard, most ancient of American college rivals, close their 1929-'30 athletic competition on the Thames river tomorrow with the Elis strongly favored to outrow the Criminal varsity crew.

ED LEADER.

Yale is a favorite to capture the honors by anywhere from five to ten lengths in the four mile varsity pull down the river from Bartlett's cove to the finish at the railroad bridges.

The morning races, at two miles, for the freshman and junior varsity crews, figure to develop an even break. Harvard's freshman and Yale's "Jayvee" crew are the favorites in the preliminary events scheduled to start at 9 a. m. The varsity race was carded for 6:30 p. m.

Since Ed Leader came out of the west in 1923 to reorganize and revive Eli rowing fortunes, Yale has monopolized the celebrations in this ancient whaling town with monotonous regularity. In fact, during the past seven years of Leader's régime, Harvard has captured only three out of twenty-one races rowed on the Thames—one in each class of competition. Harvard's last varsity victory was in 1927 when the crimson rowed a smashing race in the last mile after one of Eli's oarsmen was unfortunate enough to catch a crab. In 1926, Harvard showed the way in both morning events. Otherwise the blue tipped oars have swept the river.

It is no novelty for Yale to enter the final regatta with an undefeated varsity crew and this year's unbeaten boatload appears to be one of the best that has come out of New Haven.

The prediction was fair weather tomorrow. If a postponement of the varsity race is necessary, it will be rowed at 10 a. m. Saturday.

SIXTEEN REACH QUARTER FINALS IN TRIBUNE GOLF

Colorful Matches Feature First Two Rounds.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Sixty-four of Chicago's best public links golfers met yesterday at Jackson and Garfield parks and after 36 holes of match play eight men and eight women were left in the running for THE TRIBUNE'S public links championship.

The large galleries which followed the competitors through a morning and afternoon of dramatic encounters were at a loss to forecast the champion who will emerge Saturday and could agree only on the fact that they had witnessed a great show.

Those who went to Jackson park saw the favorites, Ted Lloyd and Gus Fetz, move through the first two rounds in decisive style. They saw Frank Fiegel sink a 30 foot putt for a birdie 3 when faced with a dead stymie; again and again they watched Robert Carter all but drive the greens on par four holes; and they saw 19 year old Johnny Toman fight his way from 4 down at the turn to 1 up on the 18th.

Close Matches Plentiful.

Those who went to Garfield park watched Mrs. C. H. Seay go through twelve holes with nine pars and two birdies to beat Ann Young, 9 and 6. They watched Mrs. Bill Wallace and Florence Jacob trade stroke for stroke through 18 holes, the former winning, 1 up.

At Jackson park one match went to four extra holes and another to three. In the former case Frank Fiegel withdrew when within a single stroke of certain victory because he is unable to play today and did not wish to eliminate Robert Carter after the latter had battled him in such sterling fashion for 22 holes.

In the 21 hole match F. J. Lubin defeated Frank Baughman after the lead had seesawed throughout the afternoon.

Matches Full of Color.

But it wasn't only the close matches which roused the galleries to enthusiasm. One of the largest gatherings followed the second round match between Gus Fetz and Johnny Toman, which the former won, 5 and 4. Johnny's great rally from 4 down to 1 up in his first round match had made many believe that he was the dark horse who would turn back one of the favorites.

Despite the score this match was one of the most colorful of the day. Until late in the match the crowd was waiting for Johnny to begin one of the rallies such as he made in the morning, and he made some masterful shots to get out of difficulties. On the 8th hole Fetz laid his tee shot on the green. Johnny's just cleared a creek and rolled back down the bank. He was still almost a hundred yards from the hole with a very bad lie. He took an unsteady stance on the steep bank of the creek and swung his mashie. The ball plopped on the green twelve feet from the pin, and he sank the putt to halve the hole.

Play Two Rounds Today.

Harry Peters sank a fifty foot putt for a birdie three during the second round match in which he defeated Edmund Lust, 2 up. All through the day Peters was putting with uncanny accuracy and driving with great power.

Today will see even more dramatic encounters now that the less skillful have been eliminated. The quarter-finals will be played this morning, the semi-finals this afternon, and the finals on Saturday.

Ted Lloyd, who won the state amateur championship in 1921 and 1922, will match his strokes against Percy Swanberg, while Gus Fetz is meeting Harry Peters. F. J. Lubin will play William Chambers and Chuck Schroeder will take on Robert Carter.

Schroeder played a remarkably con-

Stribling, Von Porat Meet at Last—Tonight at Stadium

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Otto Von Porat and Young Will Stribling fight ten rounds, possibly less, at the Stadium tonight. It was estimated yesterday by Stadium officials that 21,000, a record crowd, will see the heavyweights in their "battle of postponements."

Young Stribling and his parent-manager anticipated tonight's fight in yesterday's workout at the Arcade gymnasium. While Stribling did no boxing, he set a fast pace in his exercises, and apparently his mental attitude was improved.

"My boy's hand is much better," Pa said. "He feels he is ready for Von Porat."

Stribling Sr. also recalled that his son defeated the Norwegian three years ago in a ten round no-decision bout and predicted that boxing lesson would be repeated.

Otto and Ed Optimistic.

Von Porat and his manager, Ed Stevenson, who set the precedent in postponements, which the Illinois athletic commissioners vetoed by forcing them to keep their verbal agreement to fight Stribling, were optimistic. Realizing Von Porat is not an infighter of ability, Stevenson will set his fighter at a task of long range punching.

The world's attendance record for an indoor professional fight is held by the Stadium. That mark was established Aug. 2 last year, when 20,699 paid to see Tony Canzoneri fight Sammy Mandell. Sidney Strotz, president of the Stadium corporation, predicted last night all seats would be sold before the doors open tonight.

"We expect to break our own record," Strotz said. And, he added, "the fight will gross about $90,000."

Stribling will receive 25 per cent of the net, expected to be $18,000. Von Porat's 30 per cent will bring him approximately $22,000.

The fighters on tonight's card will weigh in at the commission offices this afternoon at 1:15 o'clock. Stribling is expected to weigh 188 pounds. Von Porat should scale about 205 pounds, an advantage of 17 pounds.

Babe Stribling, Will's younger brother, wired yesterday he would fly from Wichita, Kas., this morning. Other members of Strib's family have been here during his training.

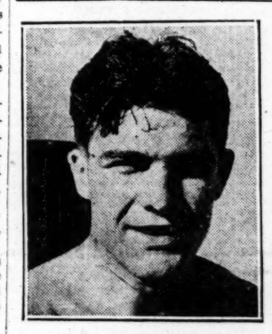

Hein Mueller, German heavyweight, meets Armando De Carlos of Italy in the ten round semi-windup. It is De Carlos' first bout in America. Mueller recently returned from a visit to the fatherland.

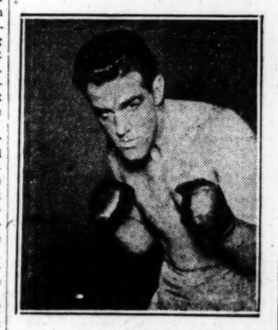

Ross Meets Norman.

Ted Ross and Edgar Norman, both of Chicago, are expected to provide one of the best fights in their eight round battle. They are light heavyweights. Mike Maurer of Chicago meets Fred Caldori, Philadelphia heavyweight, in a six round preliminary. Earl Folke, Janesville, Wis., and Andy Shanks, Grand Rapids, Mich., open the show in a four round bout.

The principals will enter the ring at 10 o'clock. The fight will be broadcast over a national hookup of stations, the first in the Stadium's history.

MAKE PLANS FOR ANGLO-AMERICAN TRACK MEET HERE

J. Lyman Bingham, assistant to Avery Brundage, president of the national A. A. U., was host to officials and newspaper men at dinner last night at the C. A. A. Plans for the track and field meet between the British empire and the United States which will be held at Soldiers' field on the night of Aug. 27, were discussed.

K. K. Rockne, Maj. John Griffith, Big Ten commissioner, and Ald. George Maypole, chairman of the committee on conventions, were speakers. It was announced that the $25,000 expenses of the meet have been underwritten by a group of Chicago business men headed by Sheldon Clark.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—Our White Sox opened their second eastern invasion in strict accordance with the form sheets. The unfortunate young men from Chicago took it on the chin at the hands of the Washington Senators, 3 to 1, but the day was of more than usual interest because of the uniform shuffling exercises.

The great Shires, Alvin Crowder and Heinie Manush made their first appearances in Washington home bloomers, and Benny Tate, Emil Barnes and Garland Braxton donned the Comiskey denim for the first time. Braxton was the only one of the aforementioned gents who didn't get into the lineup.

As had been anticipated, Shires stole the show, though Crowder's pitching was more important, perhaps, than the three singles which C. Arthur propelled in four times at bat. Whichever way you figure it, however, the fact remains that Crowder allowed the whole White Sox team only one more hit than those personally socked by Shires.

Reynolds' Homer Avoids Shutout.

One of the four hits the Sox made off the former St. Louis right hander was Carl Reynolds' tenth homer of the year. Aside from Carl's touching up on the trip around the bases, only Clancy reached second.

It is anticipated that the Sox should win about three games on this trip and one of these tomorrow when Ted Lyons faces the Senators. He will oppose Hadley.

There were two out in the first when the Senators decided to make a pair of runs. Loepp had walked to start the Washington offensive, but was forced by Rice, who in turn was forced by Manush. Cronin knocked a triple, scoring Manush. Then the Great Shires made his first appearance at the plate as a Senator and bounced a single off Cissell's shins, Cronin scoring.

Cissell Throws Past First.

All was peaceful until Watwood had finished striking out at the start of the fourth. Reynolds then stepped up and knocked the ball for the aforementioned homer, a sizeable swat into the far distant bleacher in right center.

The Senators made a run following an error by the fast fading Mr. Cissell in the sixth. Shires opened the inning with his second hit, a single to right, but was forced by Myer. Bluege then sent a hot grounder to Kerr, and an easy double play was in prospect. Myer was forced at second, but Cissell threw the ball into the boxes, Bluege proceeding to second, whence he scored when Reynolds fell on his face in going after Spencer's liner to left.

$104,130 Is Max's Slice of Fight Melon

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 19.—One week after the event, the New York prize fight commission today decided that Max Schmeling had actually won the heavyweight championship of the world in his prize fight with Jack Sharkey and ordered that both young business men be paid their wages for their twelve minutes of service, amounting to $177,600 each.

MAX SCHMELING.

Accordingly, the two boys presented themselves at the offices of the Madison Square Garden corporation and received their checks, minus deductions, which, in Schmeling's case, reduced his purse to $104,130. The Garden firm, by order of the prize fight commissioners, deducted 33 1-3 per cent of Schmeling's money for distribution among his various managers, active and honorary, according to their shares of interest in him.

Arthur Bulow, the German manager who brought Schmeling to this country and distributed batches of stock in him among a number of curbstone and fireplug capitalists who promised to put him in right with the prize fight commissioners, was awarded 20 per cent of the total. Mr. Charles Rose, who seems to have seen Bulow first on these shores, bobbed up with a small block of stock and was awarded a 6 per cent share, and Joey Jacobs, Schmeling's present manager, was voted the other 7 1-3 per cent which he, in turn, will divide according to the terms of a private agreement, with his partner, Uncle Will McCarney.

Schmeling's check actually amounted to $118,400, but the United States department of internal revenue and the income tax department of the state of New York, with very nimble footwork, had scored claims of $9,348 and $4,886, respectively. The Garden corporation, which conducted the bout as agent for the New York milk fund, protected itself in this clinch by exacting Schmeling's check for $14,270 before turning over his money to him.

Schmeling received $6,250 for his share of the moving picture rights, $4,250 more than Sharkey got for his share, but these transactions came under the heading of separate business, and the governments, federal and state, will have to make their own arrangements for the collection of the tax on this revenue.

His training expenses were met by the daily gate receipts and by the generosity of Mr. George Johnson, one of those millionaires with a dark brown social taste who enjoy the activities of prize fighters' training camps beyond the attractions of Newport and Palm Beach.

Schmeling lost one precinct in the election that made him heavyweight champion, old Mr. Muldoon of the prize fighting commission voting against him on the general ground that he had won the fight by a negative process. Mr. Farley, the chairman, and Gen. J. J. Phelan, the other two commissioners, voted down three resolutions which Mr. Muldoon presented, the last of which would have declared the fight no contest, leaving the championship still vacant.

But the prize fight commissioners, by a previous action, had promised the Madison Square Garden corporation a Schmeling fight in defense of the title, and this would have repudiated their word. In the end, therefore, Schmeling won the title by a plurality of one vote and hurried over to the garden to obtain his money lest some one demand a recount and alter the result.

Now old Mr. Muldoon probably will be indignant, as this is the first vote that has gone against him in several years, and some of the business men are a little afraid that he may pick up his marbles and go home. It is understood that any time Mr. Muldoon decides the prize fight industry is be-

BY FRENCH LANE.

Jean Valjean, a son of Stefan the Great-Jeanne Bowdre, won the Casa Granada purse at Washington Park yesterday by four lengths.

His owner, John Oliver Keene, master of famous Keeneland stud in Kentucky, didn't have enough confidence in the 4 year old to stay around and watch him race to victory. He had saddled Jean Vanjean for three other engagements here and always watched him trail his field home. So yesterday morning he left word with his stable foreman to saddle the big chestnut for the Casa Granada and left hurriedly for Kentucky.

It was just a gallop for Jean Valjean to win. Cheers led him for a time down the back stretch, but on the lower bend Jean Valjean moved up to a contending position. At the head of the stretch Jean Valjean was on even terms. Then he went on to smother his field. Cheers hung on to be second and beat Sidney Grant by five lengths. Edward R. Bradley's Buttered Toast and J. J. Coughlin's Who Win were the trailers.

Keene Asked Too Much.

Before Mr. Keene left for Kentucky he talked sadly about Jean Valjean.

"I made him work too hard as a 2 year old or he might be one of the great horses of the time," Mr. Keene said. "But, like a lot of other owners, I was greedy. I wanted him to win the Juvenile and the National Stallion stakes down at Belmont when he was a 2 year old. Jean split Blue Larkspur and Jack High at the finish of the National Stallion and he was giving Blue Larkspur five pounds. Jean hasn't been worth much since that day. I had high hopes for him last year, but he could only win overnight handicap affairs. He gave me great promise this season, but something always happened."

Lost to Toro.

Of course Mr. Keene made all this talk before Jean Valjean raced to his victory yesterday. It may be that the son of Stefan the Great has just hit his stride. He ran a powerful race in the Sweitzer handicap two weeks ago after being all but left at the post. Toro beat him in that engagement, but Jean Valjean was running faster near the end.

The crowd liked Jean Valjean in the Casa Granada and plunged on him until he was only at 3 to 2 in the betting. His time was 1:24 4-5, just a second off the track record, and had there been any reason for a faster effort he probably would have delivered it.

Martha Jones Wins.

Martha Jones, the Kentucky filly owned by Looney and Jones and a daughter of Wise Counsellor, smothered her field in the Daisies purse for 2 year olds at five and a half furlongs. Martha won by six lengths from Johnson N. Camden's Bagiel, with Nisia also racing in the Camden silks, third. The time was 1:06, the fastest 2 year old race run here this season.

Martha Jones was a prohibitive favorite, paying only 1 to 4 in the betting, but she won like Man O' War did back in the olden days when he was quoted at 1 to 100. Neal had Martha Jones in front all the way and she showed more speed than any 2 year old to ever race here with the possible exception of Anita Peabody, which went on later to win a Belmont Futurity.

Hammond Merchants Beat American Giants, 6 to 5

The Hammond Merchants defeated the American Giants, 6 to 5, at Turner park in Hammond yesterday. Kinderman and Dougherty were the batteries for the losers, while Powell, McDaniels, and Polsey worked for the Giants.

OAKLAND RECOVERS PITCHER.

Reveille Boy, Gallant Fox Named for Cup

Johnny Paul, trainer of Reveille Boy, the long shot American Derby winner, made the statement before he departed with the colt yesterday for the Latonia track in Kentucky.

"It makes me sad to think about it, but my own carelessness was the cause of Reveille Boy being left out of the entries for the rich Classic to be run at Arlington Park on July 12."

"I think the race would have been a romp for Reveille Boy. He's the best 3 year old since Reigh Count. I didn't realize we had neglected to name him in the Classic until it was too late, but luckily the entries for the Arlington cup did not close until last Saturday night.

"I hustled over right after the Derby and nominated Reveille Boy for the cup. I learned later that Gallant Fox had also been nominated for the mile and a quarter race at weight for age.

"Reveille Boy will be in that battle. Our only hope is that Gallant Fox wins the Classic and meets us in the cup."

The private van in which Reveille Boy traveled to Latonia was dressed up like Astor's pet horse. There were lace curtains in the windows, rugs on the floor, uniformed attendants, hot and cold water in the wash room and enough hay and oats of the choicest brands in the feed box to make Reveille Boy think the holiday season was under way.

It is the plan of Trainer Paul to send Reveille Boy after the Latonia Derby on June 28 and return him immediately to Arlington Park to await a clash with Gallant Fox and Whichone.

HERMAN TAKES STEVIE'S PLACE IN BIG 6 HITTING

[By the Associated Press.]

Hits were scarce in the Big Six yesterday, although only two members were out of action. Chuck Klein, the leader, and Paul Waner were rained out. The three American league members got one hit apiece, Babe Ruth showing the way with his 22d home run of the year. Cochrane dropped to the .395 mark, Hodapp to .394, and Ruth to .376. Babe Herman of Brooklyn, who hit two out of four for a .397 average, became the day's new member, replacing Riggs Stephenson in second place. Stephenson hit one out of five and dropped off considerably. The standing:

CREWS WORK OUT FOR ANNUAL RACE AT POUGHKEEPSIE

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 19.—(AP)—Every crew entered by the nine college navies in the intercollegiate rowing regatta on the Hudson river, June 26, was on the water today. Most of the eights went through short workouts but Coach Wray sent his Cornell crews through a longer session.

Washington, with three crews, and Wisconsin, with its varsity, took to the river for limbering up over short distances after arriving at the scene of the rowing classic last night.

Three times trials late yesterday gave Pennsylvannia, Cornell and California easy schedules today. Syracuse, Navy, Massachusetts Tech and Columbia were out only a short time, the water being rough.

Hornsby Gets Lighter Cast for Ankle Today

Rogers Hornsby, Cub second sacker, whose left ankle was broken in the morning game of May 30, will have the cast removed from his leg today. The cast will be replaced by a lighter one. The foot also will be x-rayed so that the doctors will be able to tell just how well the break is knitting. The rajah expects to discard his crutches in about three more weeks but will not don a uniform before six more weeks.

GRUNOW ADDS SIXTY HORSES TO SHOW STABLES

William C. Grunow, wealthy Chicago radio magnate, yesterday added sixty horses to his show horse string now assembled at Majestic lodge, Mr. Grunow's place near Lake Geneva.

He purchased the horses from Wade H. Harley of Lexington, Ky., and when they arrive at Majestic lodge Mr. Grunow will have nearly 100 show horses on his farm, including 20 royally bred brood mares. Two well known stallions, King's Fancy and Mountain Peavine, will also be in the lot.

Mr. Grunow has acquired 250 acres at Majestic lodge and has two training tracks on the farm.

Grove Hurls Ninth Win of Season.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 19.—(AP) — The champion Athletics bunched their hits effectively on Willis Hudlin today and took their second straight win from the Cleveland Indians, 4 to 2. A two run attack in the opening inning gave the Mackmen a lead the Redskins were never able to overcome. Grove hurled his ninth win of the season.

Jones Adds 72 to 70; Leads British Open

it appears, because he held himself to fours where the others took fives. His threes came on short holes where they went as par, but he played fours on all but one of the last five holes and covered them in 21 strokes.

Bobby was out in one over fours, taking a five on the first when his second shot overran the green into the grass, and six on the third. He went into the rough from the tee on the sixth and his second shot lodged in a tuft of grass at the top of the bunker. His mashie shot was short and he was on the green in four. Threes and fours were recorded the rest of the outgoing holes. He settled down to the same routine coming in.

Horton Smith played as he did yesterday, talking over his game with the gallery and kidding his friends, but he was more careful in selecting his clubs. He took his first five, going out at the fifth with three putts. Smith had another three putt green at the short seventh. He was bunkered on the ninth for another five, and turned with 37.

Gets String of Fours.

Smith's card coming in showed fours for seven holes, short and long alike. On the 17th his second shot was out of bounds into the road, and he lost a stroke there, but he made up for it on the 18th. His iron shot dropped 10 yards from the pin and he holed out for a birdie three.

Don Moe was out in 38. He encountered two fives and a six on the way out, his worst hole coming at the eighth, where his brassie trickled downhill into a bunker. His explosion was too long and it found another trap on the other side of the green. He was on in four and down in two putts.

Moe had birdies on the first two holes on the trip home, sinking long putts on the tenth and eleventh for three and two. The last five holes gave him three fives, but he still was one under fours for the second nine and holed out with a round of 35.

Diegel Hammers at Par.

Going out, Diegel took threes on the short holes and fives on the long ones, and turned with 36. Then he started hammering at par and picked up three strokes in the next four holes. He putted 30 feet for a birdie three at the 10th, played short on the 11th and 13th for par threes and took the 12th in four.

Diegel made the 511 yard 14th in another birdie, earning his four with a pitch from the rough to five feet of the pin. Then he went to pieces, going in the rough on first one side and then the other on the next two holes. Two sixes were written on his card before the spasm was over. The last two holes were played in fours and he finished in 37.

Chicagoland Farmers Wage War on Crows

BY BOB BECKER.

With the crows continuing to increase in Chicagoland because of the few campaigns directed against them, the song and game birds are having a difficult time to raise their young. Backing up the depredations of the crows in their attacks on the nests of useful birds are scores of roving house cats and stray dogs, which are accounting for the loss of many pheasants, quail, and other ground nesting birds.

Fortunately there are a few sportsmen interested in the crow situation. While on a large farm west of North Chicago a few days ago, we saw an anti-crow campaign in operation. Poisoned eggs placed in false nests were exterminating many of the "black pirates" of the air.

"Gamekeeper," a resident of Chicagoland who has many opportunities to observe the battle between pheasants and egg stealing crows, has the following interesting comment on the plucky fight which the cock pheasant makes against his enemy:

"I am inclined to think that the survival of the ringneck pheasant is due to the fact that it is the only game bird which can exist in the presence of the crow. The crow is the chief enemy of all other birds.

"The cock pheasant fights for his families. One of the male birds on my farm never strays far from his happy home during the nesting season. As many as four crows at a time have been seen in combat with him, swooping down from the sky to strike at him with their claws. He, in turn, strikes at them with his spurs and wins his fights."

Gus Novotny Tops District Golf Tourney

Gus Novotny of Edgewood Valley, with 34—36—70, and Johnny Lehman of Olympia Fields, with 46—34—70, one under par, tied for the low gross prize in the Chicago district invitation meet yesterday at Westward Ho.

Leo Levinson of Green Valley, a Texas champion now residing in Chicago, had a round of 35—39—74, but was given no rating. Walter S. Corbly of Glen Oak had 38—37—75, which was tied by Joshua D'Espisoto Jr. of Illinois. The scores:

R. R. Oliver, Casa del Mar	81	17	64
John Lehmann, Olympia Fields	70	4	66
Herbert Spanheimer, Westward Ho	74	7	67
Winn Day, Elmhurst	80	12	68
Walter Crowe, Green Valley	75	6	69
Walter S. Corbly Glen Oak	75	6	69
Gus Novotny, Edgewood Valley	70	1	69
W. W. Decker, Westward Ho	90	20	70
Joshua D'Esposito Jr., Illinois	75	4	71
Frank Justin, Edgewood Valley	76	4	72
C. S. Scribner, Brier Gate	84	12	72
Art Sweet, Ridgemoor	77	4	73
R. S. Harris, Brookwood	86	13	73
T. H. Wilkinson, Casa del Mar	90	17	73
Merritt Joslyn, La Grange	78	4	74
Tom Frainey, Edgewood Valley	77	3	74
R. R. Hanley, Brookwood	83	8	75
Ray Duggan, Lincolnshire	80	4	76
Vincent Huntington, Brookwood	80	4	76
Jack Couch, Glenview	82	5	77
Norman Fortney, Maywood	100	19	81
George Conover, Beverly	107	20	87

One hundred players, representing 25 clubs, played in the annual Itasca tournament at the Itasca Country club. Cy Anderburg won first low gross. His scores were 77—73—150. Second low gross prize went to W. W. Burgess, club champion. Burgess' scores were 79—80. Paul Aubineau captured third prize with 79—81.

J. Knight won low net for members with a 75, while L. Buckley won low net for guests with a 75.

Edmunds Wins Medinah Golf Tournament with 162

F. J. Edmunds won the club members' championship yesterday in the second annual Medinah Athletic club golf tournament at Medinah Country club. His score was 162. More than 200 players competed. O. W. Wendell shot 150 to win the individual low gross. I. N. Soper took second low gross with 154.

D. Schmidt, W. O. Smith, R. E. Reddy, and G. D. Mueller captured the low net foursome. The quartet's total score was 571. D. E. Cedarquist, P. Pearson, H. Rust, and O. Anderson were second with 582.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

"RABBIT" BALL.

DEAR WAKE: About these big league baseball games with scores like race horse odds, 15 to 2, 11 to 1, etc. I don't blame any ball player for trying to equal Babe Ruth's or Hack Wilson's home run record. Nor do I blame any team for fighting to win. But how about the fans who do not care about these big scores, who think home runs are due to lightning balls and short fences, and that baseball is losing its science? Won't they begin to stay at home on Sundays, day of biggest crowds, and get the score over the radio?

I don't say make it a pitchers' battle, but certainly cut down these ridiculously large scores so the contests may become more interesting. They changed the official golf ball, making it lighter and larger, so it would not carry so far. Now what about changing the official baseball the same way, or else take out some of the rubber core? A. T. L.

Despite denials of manufacturers that the official baseball has been made livelier, home runs certainly are more numerous than they once were. In fact, home runs are common instead of being events, as once. The Wake feels much of the strategy of our national sport has been sacrificed in the process. When any batting rally, punctuated by home runs, may yield a half dozen markers, there is less incentive to steal bases, to bunt sacrifices, and to struggle for the one run which in the past often has decided keen battles. We sympathize with the plaint of Helper A. T. L.

"What-a-Man" Shires.

The great Shires, self-admitted great until the czarlike powers of organized baseball curbed this colorful chap who was at times a "bad boy," is victim to the great baseball trust governing our national pastime. One cannot sympathize with his breaches of club discipline, many could not condone his braggadocio, but The Wake liked the freshness and originality of him. For one, we wish him all success in his new berth.

* *

The Great Shires.

There was a man who guarded first base sack,
He was on the White Sox team;
His arrogant stride and grin are gone,
In his eyes is a beaten gleam.

O what have you done to Arthur Shires,
Ye great ones of baseball ken?
In him you've killed something fine and rare,
The boy-heart that's in all men.

Jane Ellen.

Skeptical?

A chap who had paid $26.25 for a seat to the Schmeling-Sharkey fight accosted us in New York with "What's this milk fund benefit anyway?" We explained it was a charity to furnish milk to poor babies. "Zat so?" he remarked skeptically. "The only babies I've seen in New York were in 'speakeasies' and they were drinking hootch."

Do You Remember Way Back When:

LORD DERBY'S BOSWORTH WINS ASCOT GOLD CUP

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, June 19.—Under brilliant skies, in contrast to yesterday's deluge, Lord Derby's Bosworth won the gold cup at Ascot by a length this afternoon, marking the first time in his long career as a race horse owner that Derby has won the world famous trophy. The French colt, Hotweed, was second.

MAX AND BOARD OF DIRECTORS CUT $177,600 MELON

coming sordid he has only to report his opinion to the governor to have the business abolished. Efforts will be made to mollify Mr. Muldoon, possibly with a banquet marked by speeches calling him the grand old man.

Sharkey also appeared, offering to fight Schmeling for 12½ per cent of the gross receipts, allowing Max the champion's share of 37½ per cent if Schmeling would meet him in September. To subdue Schmeling's objections on the ground of Bulow's participation in his earnings, Sharkey said he would even agree to pay Bulow's share of Max's purse out of his own resources, leaving himself a probable margin of somewhat less than no per cent at all.

Nothing was done about this, however, and the boys, having received their money, presently took their feet down off the desks and went away.

Milk Fund Profits Also.

Incidentally, the milk fund reports that its net profit will be somewhat less than $150,000, and somewhat more than $135,000, so all concerned have made money, including Col. Jake Ruppert, the owner of the Yankee ball yard, and the Garden corporation, which charged a fee for the use of its charter and a price for the waiver of a prior claim on Sharkey's services.

The customers alone were denied satisfaction, but this was according to custom, too, so the entire proceedings seem to have been consistent with the best traditions of the sport which Gene Tunney so lately ennobled for good and all.

Extracts of the Standard Statistics Company's advice to its clients since September 30, 1929

Warnings

September 30, 1929: . . . "We advise still further emphasis upon conservative policies in security market operations. We would seek to further augment cash reserves. We would go through portfolios with a fine tooth comb and weed out all issues which were not of first rank merit, which did not have unusually good prospects immediately ahead of them, which were not of the character that we would be willing—if necessary—to carry through a further reaction in average prices.

. . . "In a word, we lack faith in the present structure of stock prices . . . we foresee a period of anxiety and uncertainty, in which the repressive factors of short term duration will be steadily becoming more numerous. With all the emphasis possible, we caution against an over-extended position. We believe that the unbridled enthusiasm for so-called 'equities' is not a thing which can endure indefinitely, and that ultimately prices of even the best common stocks must return to a level where they can either be justified by current income, or by probable income at some reasonably near future date."

April 7, 1930: . . . "However, a temporary recession, of greater severity than any witnessed thus far this year, is a distinct near term possibility."

April 14, 1930: . . . "Under the circumstances, it is important that reserve buying power be created to take advantage of opportunities which are almost certain to become available within the next few months."

April 28, 1930: . . . "We do not regard the decline in average prices which has occurred as of sufficient proportions to have corrected the earlier over-discounting, and therefore look for further near term weaknesses."

May 12, 1930: . . . "Our feeling that the majority of stocks is likely to drift toward somewhat lower levels before the current period of uncertainty is over, remains unchanged."

Buying Recommendations

November 18, 1929: . . . "The time has arrived to consider placing a portion of reserve funds—not more than 50 per cent as the absolute maximum—in high-grade, dividend-paying common stocks."

January 27, 1930: . . . "We believe that, temporarily, at least, a more confident attitude is warranted.

. . . "Furthermore, in event of a broad upward movement—even if such strength should prove purely temporary—a number of these issues should be among the leaders."

February 3, 1930: . . . "While it is apparent that many uncertainties are still present in the outlook both for business and the stock market, a number of recent developments . . . afford grounds for guarded optimism."

Isn't this a time to find out the real value of your securities?

HAS it occurred to you that there are at least three tests to which you might well subject every stock before you decide to hold or buy it in this market?

1. At its current price and dividend rate, does it give a satisfactory yield?
2. If it does, is it the stock of a company which will come through this period of business recession with its earning power substantially unimpaired and with bright prospects for the ensuing period of prosperity?
3. If it passes both of the above tests, what are the chances of getting it well below the present price?

These are the sort of questions we believe the prudent investor should be asking himself today, whether his primary concern is to secure a satisfactory yield from his investments or to build up his estate through long-term appreciation in the value of his holdings.

The period that lies immediately ahead is going to witness the development of more profitable opportunities for investment than have existed for a long time.

A Special Service—Immediately Available

If you have been successful in the management of your investments, during the critical period of the past year, then you know the difficulties of judging security values, and the cost in time, in concentration, in worry and in effort which has been demanded of you.

If you were caught in the crash of last autumn or in the recent severe recessions, then you know that a fee of $1500 or more is a small price to pay for guidance which will help you to avoid losses and to build up your investment capital.

This advertisement describes how the work of the world's largest fact-gathering and fact-interpreting organization—the Standard Statistics Company—can be brought to a focus on your personal investment problems, watching your security holdings, warning you of dangerous situations, recommending new investment opportunities and, in brief, functioning as if this organization were your personal, research and advisory staff.

NEW STANDARD STATISTICS BUILDING NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION

The World's Largest Statistical and Advisory Organization

For nearly a quarter century the entire efforts of the Standard Statistics Company have been concentrated on the task of providing facts and unbiased counsel for investors, bankers and business executives. No part of the fact-gathering or advisory work of the Standard Statistics Company is delegated to any other organization. The Standard Statistics Company spends several million dollars for research and administration. It employs over 1100 trained people. It has its own news-gathering staff, statisticians, its own industrial analysts and research specialists.

Of particular value is its field investigation staff—a group of highly trained analysts, located at strategic points throughout the country, who are continually studying industrial and other properties at first hand, through intimate contact with corporation executives, bankers and others. Their function is to "beat" the news. And they are highly successful in doing just that. As a result, its clients in many instances have the benefit of vital information long before it becomes public property.

Finally, its economists and counsellors, who apply the vast fund of organized information to the special problems of its clients, are recognized everywhere as authorities on industrial trends and security values.

Standard Supervisory Service

For a limited number of individual and institutional investors with capital of at least $100,000 we are rendering a strictly individualized investment service.

The service rendered to Supervisory clients is literally built to order to fit the special requirements of each client. Briefly—and in a very general way—this Supervisory Service would bring you, among other things, the following tangible features:

First—an intensive analysis of each security you are now holding, with a definite recommendation—in view of your particular problems—whether it should be held or sold, together with reasons for such advice.

Second—in each case where a selling recommendation is made, we further tell you what security should be bought to replace the one disposed of, unless it should seem desirable, at the time, to build up your cash position.

Third—every security on your list would be under continual observation, so that if anything should occur to alter the status of one of them, you would be notified promptly and advised what action to take. Final decisions to buy or sell would always rest with you.

Fourth—you would be encouraged to call upon us for information and advice regarding any securities or matters of investment policy.

Fifth—our entire staff of investment analysts and field investigators would be constantly on the alert to discover issues that would be more profitable to you than those you were holding. This last phase of the Supervisory Service, is perhaps, its most important function—to discover and bring to your attention new opportunities which we believe should prove more profitable than the average.

If you believe the service outlined above might help you to safeguard and build up your investment capital, please fill out and mail the coupon below.

RESERVE BANK MAKES HISTORY IN RATE SLASH

Rediscount Down to 2½% in N. Y.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The New York Federal Reserve bank made financial history yesterday. It reduced its rediscount rate, which is the charge at which its member banks may borrow, from 3 to 2½ per cent. This latter rate is the lowest ever made by a reserve institution since the federal reserve banking system was established in 1914.

The reduction came as a distinct surprise to Wall and La Salle streets. While it was interpreted as another move in the policy of the reserve authorities to stimulate trade and industrial recovery by easy money rates, it drew comment that successive reductions in recent months have had little effect in that direction or in bolstering up securities prices. However, it is designed to foster business recovery at such time as it may appear.

Big Drop in Brokers' Loans.

The reduction was the more of a surprise because it came without a corresponding cut in the 3 per cent discount rate of the Bank of England and coincided with a drop of $211,000,000 in brokers' loans. Recently and because of world-wide ease in money rates, the New York and English institutions usually have acted in concert. England has had difficulty with its gold reserves, and now the lower New York rate may influence a shift of gold to London.

But the drop in brokers' loans, which was the largest reduction of the year, would appear to indicate that speculators do not want even easy credit particularly more than do business men. At least, the recent crash in the stock market has made them more cautious and conservative. Brokers' loans now total $3,787,000,000, according to the weekly report of the federal reserve board, a decrease of the last week, which is natural with the decline in security values, brought the total back to the figure of the middle of March and also $1,633,000,000 below the total of a year ago.

Interior Withdrawals.

Heavy withdrawals of funds from the call-loan market by interior banks and nonbanking lenders were responsible for the big decline. The interior banks drew down $147,000,000 and nonbanking lenders, including corporations, withdrew $115,000,000. On the other hand, the New York banks partly offset these withdrawals by increasing their own loans by $51,000,000. They now are lending $967,000,000 more than a year ago, whereas interior banks and other lenders are furnishing $636,000,000 and $1,914,000,000 less, respectively.

Further evidence of the reserve bank's easy money policy was contained in the weekly statement of the reserve system, issued last night. As a result of slack commercial demand for credit, borrowings of the member banks declined $3,690,000 to a total of $208,794,000 and the reserve banks' holdings of bankers' acceptances reduced $15,396,000. But these reductions were offset by the purchase of $21,041,000 of governments' securities, thus releasing credit.

Increase in Deposits.

Deposits increased $1,433,000 but gold circulation dropped $27,733,000, while gold and total reserves declined $12,300,000 and $10,293,000 respectively with the ratio of reserves to liabilities down to 82.3 per cent, compared with 83 per cent last week.

The report of the New York reserve bank showed a decline of $4,062,000 in member bank borrowings, bringing the total to $24,078,000. Bankers' acceptances receded $8,079,000. Deposits increased $12,604,000. Reserves exceeded $8,712,000 and the reserve ratio rose to 88.9 per cent, compared with 85.7 per cent a week ago.

The report of the Chicago reserve bank showed a decline of $889,000 in member bank borrowings, bringing the total to $15,622,000. Bankers' acceptances receded $1,892,000. Deposits rose $4,737,000. Reserves declined $7,000 but the reserve ratio rose to 86.9 per cent, compared with 86.9 per cent last week.

Apple Assoc. Protests Article by W. A. Sherman

The board of directors of the National Apple Advertising association, meeting here yesterday, adopted a resolution condemning a recently published article by Wells A. Sherman, Washington head of the fruit and vegetable division of the United States bureau of agricultural economics, as "unjust and unfair to the apple industry." The article, entitled "A Discussion of Some of the Falacies and Misunderstandings Upon Which the Apples for Health Movement Has Attempted to Build an Advertising Campaign," was declared by the resolution to be based on "unsound and immature reasoning of a government official, who, in effect, says that the apple should not be advertised because it might take away some of the profits now enjoyed by fully advertised citrus fruits and other foods."

Discusses Rate Basis for Electricity in Home

BY SCRUTATOR.

When former Senator Sackett, now ambassador to Germany, asserted to the world power conference in Berlin that costs of generating electricity were only three-tenths to four-tenths of a cent per kilowatt hour, or perhaps one-fifteenth of the price a small customer pays to consume current, he was not far wrong.

There is a qualification that must be added, however. The low figures mentioned cover only operating costs of the generating station of the modern type. According to the statistical department of the Commonwealth Edison company, they do not include fixed charges on the plant, such as interest on investment or obsolescence..

Cost Distribution.

To discuss rates in a short article is rather futile. Still, it is not fair to leave any implication that operating costs in generation of electricty are the most important in determining what the customer pays. The Commonwealth Edison's statistics show that operating generation forms one-seventh of the cost to the domestic customer, transmission and distribution a little less than 10 per cent, and general operating commercial and utilization charges approximately 40 per cent.

Fixed charges, including taxes, retirement, interest and dividends account for 36 per cent of the cost applicable to the customer's meter.

It should, perhaps, be added that the total distribution costs of the local utility are lower than the average for the country, due to the density of population in its territory. But even this concern has only one-third of its capital investment in station generating capacity and two-thirds in transmission, distribution, and equipment that has no direct bearing on generating capacity.

Domestic electric rates cannot in any logic be kept as low as industrial use. The home makes use of distribution facilities only half the number of hours the average industrial user does. Fixed charges on the domestic service must be twice as high to get the basis even.

A summary shows that Commonwealth Edison sells to domestic customers at the rate of 4.70 cents per kilowatt hour, on the average, and that the average domestic bill is about $30 a year, or 60 cents a week. The average rate to the whole of the customer list is 2.12 cents a kilowatt hour. Figures are slightly higher for all companies in the United States in both classifications.

No matter how rates are made, they are always governed by competition to some extent. The domestic service at its present rates is farther from effective competition than the industrial use. Gas, oil lamps and candles could be used to light the home, but they would be more costly as well as far less convenient than electricity. No smaller power unit for household use approaches the electric motor in efficiency.

For Large Power User.

For the large power user, the utility company must make greater concessions. He can make his own power if he has to and he is nearer able to do it on an economical basis. There are firms in Chicago that make their own power. If enough of them did that and the utility company had to exist on the domestic and small commercial business there is little doubt the little fellow's rates would have to be increased.

Whether rates should be lowered is controversial. Mr. Sackett, who has had experience in the utility business, may be right in demanding the lowering. But the subject is too complicated to demand it on the ground, alone, that the small customer pays seven or ten or fifteen times the operating generation cost.

Postpone Lake Cargo Coal Rate Hearing Until Oct. 6

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—The western Pennsylvania coal traffic bureau and the Ohio lake cargo rate committee concluded submission of testimony today in their application for a revision of the freight rates on coal shipped to lake ports from southern and northern bituminous coal mines. Examiner Bardwell of the interstate commerce commission adjourned the hearing until Oct. 6, when southern operators will reply to the allegations of "unjust and unduly preferential" rates now applying on shipments from the two competing districts. Chicago was tentatively selected as the hearing city, but counsel agreed to select another place if the commission deemed another city more advantageous to witnesses.

City State Bank Dividend of 20 Pct. Is Due in July

A dividend of 20 per cent will be paid some time in July to depositors of the defunct City State bank, Gen. Abel Davis, receiver, said yesterday. The bank was closed by State Auditor Nelson last November. Some 14,000 depositors had $4,000,000 in the bank. No payment has been made to depositors thus far.

MICH. CENTRAL, BIG FOUR RYS. BOOST DIVIDENDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 19.—The Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis [Big Four] and the Michigan Central, both members of the New York Central system, today increased their dividends. Directors of the Big Four declared a semi-annual dividend of $5 on the common stock, increasing the yearly rate to $10 from $8 paid previously. The regular quarterly dividends of $1.25 a share on the preferred stock also was declared.

Michigan Central directors placed the capital stock on a $50 annual basis compared with $40 paid previously by the declaration of a semi-annual payment of $25. Last year Michigan Central paid $100 extra. There have been no transactions in Michigan Central stock on the New York Stock Exchange this year, but yesterday the bid price was $1,010 a share.

Travelers Insurance company declared an extra dividend of $4 a share. Virginia Fire and Marine Insurance company voted 50 cents extra. Muskegon Piston Ring company declared an extra of 25 cents. Federal Knitting Mills declared their usual extra of 12½ cents.

FORD WILL IMPROVE, EXPAND AT COST OF $30,000,000 THIS YEAR

Detroit, Mich., June 19.—(AP)—New branch plants, additions and other improvements to present facilities and equipment planned by the Ford Motor company this year will represent an expenditure of substantially more than $30,000,000, officials said today.

Work involving $24,500,000 already is under way or in the hands of architects. The expansion program contemplates new branch plants in various parts of the country as well as improvements in the parent plants here.

Branch plants on which work already is under way or for which plans have been drawn will involve an expenditure of $18,000,000. Included in this program is a branch plant at Edgewater, N. J., another at Richmond, Cal., another at Seattle, Wash., and three new plants whose location will be announced shortly.

Besides the expenditures for new branch plants the company is spending $3,000,000 this year on a water tunnel, intake house and pump house at Dearborn, near here. Said to be the largest industrial tunnel of its kind in the world, it will be two miles long and have a capacity of a billion gallons a day.

A million dollars is being spent in the improvement of Bon Vista, the Ford rubber plantation in Brazil. Another $5,000,000 is being spent on the Edison Institute of Technology and other activities of Henry Ford not directly associated with the automobile and air plane plants.

The Ford company announced that its offices and plants in the Detroit area will be closed for two weeks beginning July 12. The announcement said the shutdown was to enable all employes to take vacations simultaneously and that a complete plant equipment and machinery inventory also would be made. The salaried employes will receive pay for the idle period, but the wage earners will not.

Martin Insull Speaks Good Word for Holding Firms

San Francisco, Cal., June 19.—(AP)—Martin J. Insull, president of the Middle West Utilities company, Chicago, told the delegates to the National Electric Light association in convention here today that if it had not been for holding companies, operating companies could never have carried on.

"Regulation of the operating company with freedom of the holding company is to the best interest of the public," said Insull. "The public is thus protected against monopoly and has the advantage of the initiative and enterprise that financially strong private business brings."

Whiting Corp. Merges with Goslin-Birmingham

Consolidation of the Goslin-Birmingham Manufacturing company of Birmingham, Ala., and the Whiting corporation of Harvey, Ill., was announced yesterday. Both companies manufacture railroad equipment cranes, foundry supplies and sugar refining machinery.

Chicago Stocks Swing Upward; Volume Lags

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

An abrupt rally shared in by nearly all the issues in the list carried prices on the Chicago exchange yesterday forward from one to four points. Volume of sales fell off about fifty per cent from the total rolled up in Wednesday's sharp decline.

While stocks in all sections of the list participated in the recovery there were a few notable exceptions. One of these was Marshall Field, which sold off to a new low and finished the day at 38¼. H. O. Stone dropped to 7 and closed a fraction above that point.

Jumps Six Points.

Outstanding among the lower priced stocks was U. S. Radio which moved ahead more than 6 points to close just below 20. Trading in the stock was not particularly heavy, sales amounting to only about 1,500 shares. Grigsby-Grunow was actively dealt in and closed with a fair gain at its day's high.

Improvement was made by all the lower priced issues of the Insull group. Middle West Utilities, Central and Southwest and Insull Utility made gains of a point or more in active trading. Middle West was the most active stock on the board. Commonwealth Edison, which succeeded in bucking the current yesterday in moving up 10 points, lost half of its gain today and the other high priced Insull stock, Public Service no par, eased a fraction on light trade.

The latter company has been granted authority by the state commerce commission to issue $15,000,000 of 4½ per cent bonds for which application was made recently.

Substantial Gains.

Among the industrial stocks substantial gains were scored by General Theaters, Jefferson Electric, Castle corporation and Standard Dredge. Great Lakes Dredge fluctuated between 215 and 250 on light sales and closed the day about half way between the two extremes. Majestic Household got above 50 at one time during the day, but closed near 49 with a net gain of 2. Transactions in Swift International fell off to less than 1,000 shares as the price moved up to 31⅞.

Heavy trading in Chicago corporation continued. The issue improved a fraction and was the only stock in its group which received attention.

Auburn and Winton were the best ground gainers among the motor and accessory shares. Winton rose 2¼ on good buying and Auburn recovered nearly 6 of Wednesday's loss. Cord was unchanged at 7 and Borg Warner slightly higher.

Announcement was made that General Laundry Machine corporation will dispose of its laundry machinery division to the American Laundry Machine company.

REORGANIZATION OF POWER BODY NOW ASSURED

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—Reorganization of the federal power commission into an independent agency of fire commissioners to devote their entire time to the administration of the nation's water power resources was assured today when congressional action was completed on legislation relieving the present organization.

Final action by the house on the conference report of a senate bill marked the fulfillment of another request of President Hoover in his annual message to congress. The measure will relieve the secretaries of war, interior, and agriculture.

The reorganization will become effective after three of the commissioners have assumed their posts. Not more than three may come from one political party and the appointments are from one to five years successively. Each is to receive $10,000 annually.

SURFACE LINES' MAY RIDES SHOW 8,908,267 DROP

Chicago Surface Lines yesterday reported a decline in rides during May from the corresponding month of 1929, for the fifth consecutive month this year. Total rides for the month were 130,857,722, a drop of 8,908,267, as compared with May, 1929.

Gross earnings of the system for May were $5,012,190, a decline of $342,058 from May last year. After operating and other expenses and 5 per cent interest on purchase price there remained divisible receipts of $295,777, of which $162,677, or 55 per cent, was the city's share and $133,099, or 45 per cent, was the company's share.

Brokerage Firm Announces Cut in Margin Requirements

That the recent lull in speculation may lead to a general downward revision of margin requirements by brokerage houses is indicated in the announcement yesterday by E. A. Pierce & Co. that their margin requirements have been cut to approximately 25 per cent. All branches and wire correspondents have been notified of the change. Under the new schedule stocks selling at 40 or below can be margined on 10 points, on stocks from 40 to 49¾ 12 points are required, and for stocks selling at 50 or more a 25 per cent margin will be sufficient.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Holding Company Buying.

It is regarded as fairly certain that some of the strictly holding companies have lately been increasing their interest in other concerns. It would be surprising, for instance, if United corporation had not taken advantage of prevailing low prices in Consolidated Gas to add to its investment. United's management bought Consolidated Gas not very long ago at an average price of over $120 a share, because the stock was considered cheap at that price. It also bought Electric Bond and Share some time ago.

General Electric, Ltd.

General Electric, Ltd., has held in comparatively narrow limits, not only during normal markets, but in the prevailing period of uncertainty and declining prices. The stock has proven one of the most stable of the lower priced issues. The corporation has just made public its report for the fiscal year ended March 31, in which its business was shown to be satisfactory, with a fair uptrend in profits.

Canadian Marconi.

At one time there was plenty of public interest in Canadian Marconi and there are still many who believe this stock has a promising future. Comparatively little change in earning power occurred last year, although officials reported improvement in traffic carried via the Beam system. Net income was $162,807, after depreciation, federal taxes and other items had been written off. This was equal to three cents a share on the 4,554,682 shares outstanding.

4% CITY OF CHICAGO

20-Year Serial Gold Bonds

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the City Comptroller at 11 o'clock, June 30, 1930, for:

		Dated	Maturities
$8,715,000	North and South Ashland Ave. Improvement Bonds	July 1, 1930	1932 to 1950
4,115,000	North La Salle Street Improvement Bonds	July 1, 1930	1932 to 1950
6,140,000	North and South Western Avenue Improvement Bonds	July 1, 1930	1932 to 1950

These bonds are exempt from the Income Tax. They bear interest at the rate of 4% per annum and are payable in gold coin of the United States of America of the present standard of weight and fineness. Both principal and interest are payable at the office of the City Treasurer of the City of Chicago, or at the fiscal agent of the City of Chicago in the City of New York, the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. They are coupon bonds and may be registered as to principal in the office of the Comptroller.

The bonds are issued in accordance with ordinances passed by the City Council February 26, 1930, and were approved by the voters at the election of April 8, 1930. They are issued in denominations of $1,000 each and are dated July 1, 1930.

These bonds are offered for delivery, when, as and if issued, subject to the approval of counsel.

Bids without conditions or qualification will be received for the whole or any part of said issues and each bid should be accompanied by money or certified check on a Chicago bank, drawn to the order of the City Comptroller for 2 per cent of the par value of the bonds bid for. Other things being equal, that bidder shall be deemed the highest and best bidder who shall offer to pay the highest price. The Comptroller reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

All information pertaining to these bonds may be had on application to the City Comptroller.

GEORGE K. SCHMIDT, Comptroller,
V. S. Petterson, Deputy Comptroller,
501 City Hall.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 19.—An unconfirmed report that a group of important bankers had met in secret conclave and pledged themselves to protect the stock market in its new extremity was sufficient to put a period to speculative Wall street's latest attack of hysteria today.

The market turned abruptly about and drove forward in the most impressive rally since the decline got under way some three weeks ago.

Gains ranged as high as fourteen points and extended to every group of the list.

HIGHER CLOSE ON COTTON

Cotton prices moved upward yesterday and, although the top was not fully maintained, there were net gains of 22@45 points in Chicago, the latter on July, while other markets were up 15@36 points on new crop futures and 24@34 points on July. There was an advance of 30 points on the active trading futures early in the day, part of which was lost on profit taking sales.

Spot cotton in New York was up 25 points to 13.95c; New Orleans gained 35 points to 13.10c, with Houston 13.05c and Galveston 13.25c. Prices follow:

Graham-Paige Motors.

I bought Graham-Paige at $10.50 per share in January. It is now $7. Should I hold or take a loss? Please answer as soon as possible, because I will await your decision.—K. W.

As a result of general business recession in the fourth quarter and the consequent movement among distributors and dealers to reduce inventories, Graham-Paige Motors corporation was forced to reduce its production schedules radically in the latter part of last year. Although earnings equivalent to 65 cents per share had been reported for the first nine months of 1929, the consolidated income account for the full year showed a net loss of $1,463,587, compared with net profit of $1,055,678 for 1928. After provision for preferred dividends there was a deficit for the year amounting to $1,835,591, against a surplus of $678,254 the year before.

Sales last year totaled $64,489,904, against $61,464,397 in 1928 and $23,957,702 in 1927. The company is the successor to Paige-Detroit Motor Car company.

The company produced 4,797 cars in May, 1930, against 6,754 in April. In the record month of May, 1929, 11,677 cars were produced. In the first four months of the current year about half as many cars were produced as in the corresponding period of 1929.

At the end of last year current assets were $14,554,284 and current liabilities were $3,455,534, leaving a net working capital of $11,098,750, which compares with $6,358,305 a year before.

During 1929 the company increased the number of its dealers from 2,270 to 2,956. In 1929, 77,089 units were produced, compared with 73,195 in 1928.

In his report to stockholders the company's president attributed the unsatisfactory final result for 1929 to reduced income and cost of liquidating car inventories at branches during the final quarter, together with additional write-off for dies and other items incidental to decrease in anticipated volume.

Dividends are being paid on the first preferred stock, but not on the common, which is highly speculative.

We cannot advise you whether to hold or sell, because we do not predict the course of the market, nor do we attempt to guess what the future price of any stock will be.

HALT DECLINE IN WHEAT MART; PRICES STEADY

Winnipeg Closes Higher on Short Covering.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

While the grain markets made only a feeble response to the strength in stocks in Wall street, there was a much firmer undertone and also less disposition on the part of the trade to press the selling side, although a good part of the news was favorable for a lower level of values. Wheat backed and filled within a range of around 1½c with considerable rapidity, and closed unchanged to ⅛c higher, with July, 96½@96⅝c, and September, 99⅝@99½c.

Winnipeg wheat showed strength and closed ½c higher on short covering, which more than offset showers in sections of Alberta where they were most needed, and prospects of further precipitation overnight.

The country showed more disposition to sell new wheat to arrive, local handlers booking 20,000 bu to come here at equal to 3½c under September, while a house with southwestern connections bought 50,000 bu No. 1 hard in Kansas, partly at 1c under Kansas City July, and hedged by sales of July here. Harvesting was reported as general all over Oklahoma. Wichita, Kas., received 2 cars of new No. 4 hard, which sold at 3½c under Kansas City September, a slight excess of moisture preventing it from grading No. 2.

Foreigners Buy Cash Wheat.

Foreign buying of North American wheat was reported as fair, with 700,000 bu claimed to have been taken at the seaboard, including Manitobas, durums, and new crop hard winters, and some business was also put through at Winnipeg, although the quantity was not given. Wednesday's sales were placed at 1,000,000 bu, largely durums and hard winters, Manitobas being neglected.

There was considerable change in the character of the crop reports on wheat from Europe, with Germany and Poland needing rain, while France and Italian prospects were said to be less favorable. Liverpool closed 1⅛d higher.

The farm board will not sell cash wheat as long as prices remain as low as at present, according to a statement made by Chairman A. A. Legge at Salina, Kas. Nothing was said, however, as to what would be an acceptable price.

Corn Closes Strong.

Corn market broke away from the influence of wheat, and prices averaged higher, with the July going to ⅝c over the September on further short covering. Local selling was effective in checking an early bulge, but the close was strong, with prices about the best figures of the day, with net gains of ⅜@⅝c, July finishing at 76¼@76⅜c, and September, 75⅝@75½c. Trade was largely of a local character.

Spot corn was in good demand, with the basis steady to 1c higher, white showing the most strength. Country offerings were generally held at 1@2c above buyers' views.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Heavy liquidation in grains is regarded as over but sentiment remains bearish in the main. There is more disposition, however, to give attention to foreign news, which has become bullish and all markets showing more resistance on breaks. Strength in Winnipeg and a better tone in the security and cotton markets all contribute toward a better feeling, reducing selling pressure and at the same time inviting shorts to take profits on breaks and limit their selling to bulges. The market is due for a moderate rally after the extreme break.

Traders are giving more attention to two factors: the necessity of intermittent rains throughout the season in the spring wheat section of the American and Canadian northwest, and to absorption of wheat on breaks by foreigners. A decided improvement in the flour demand with 200,000 bu of cash wheat bought by mills at Minneapolis, tends to give holders of wheat more courage.

HIDE FUTURES

Futures on the New York Hide exchange continued active, closing unchanged to 15 points lower. The exchange will be closed July 4 and 5. Total sales were 3,560,000 lbs. Prices follow:

LARD PRICES HIGHER

Trading in lard futures, while not large, displayed a better feeling yesterday. The close was at net gains of 10c on the active futures. Receipts of hogs were liberal but less than last year. Bellies were bid up 20c for July but closed only 10c higher.

Lard in Liverpool was 6d to 1s lower and export clearances from the seaboard were 1,420,000 lbs. Long cut hams and American hams were 1s higher. Domestic trade in meats was said to be slow but in lard showed fair volume. Prices follow:

CHICAGO CURB EXCHANGE STOCKS

Chicago curb stocks broke away from recent low ground yesterday and showed good gains in a wide range of issues with Walgreen and Hammond Clock in advance of the rise. American Beverage and Grand Rapids Metalcraft were the principal exceptions to the dominant trend.

BUTTER AND EGGS LOWER

Butter futures on the Chicago mercantile exchange weakened ¼c or $48.00 per car, despite early strength in the November contracts. Fresh production was down over 10 per cent and receipts were light, but the storing continued heavy, indicating reduced consumption. Sales were 52 cars and receipts, 8,695 tubs.

Increased arrivals and unsteady spot market pulled November egg contracts down ¼c, or $30.00 a car, though storings in the four markets were less than half the input a year ago. Sales were 58 cars and receipts, 13,032 cases. Prices follow:

50,000 HOMES NEEDED BY CITY, ROSENTHAL SAYS

Builder Discusses Plan to Aid Unemployed.

Chicago needs a minimum of 50,000 small homes for small wage owners and the business of supplying this demand would be an important factor in alleviating the present serious unemployment situation, Benjamin J. Rosenthal, vice president of the Central Realty and Investment company and expert on housing matters, stated in a discussion of economic conditions yesterday.

With building material costs lower than they have been for some time, to start a construction movement it would be necessary for the building trades to accept lower wages for a temporary period—possibly six months—in the opinion of Mr. Rosenthal. Such an action by the building trades, he believes, would help bring about a general employment improvement.

To Sell at $5,000.

"Chicago needs 50,000 homes that can be sold for $5,000 each at a small profit and at a small financing cost on long terms, while throughout the nation fully 1,000,000 of such homes are badly needed and could readily be sold. The workingman must pay rent, and if he can buy a home on a basis practically the same as if he paid rent, naturally he would buy.

"Ten years ago a small group of Chicagoans, of which I was one, financed and built 175 homes which were sold to small wage earners. Though the average wage at the time the homes were sold was $5 daily, not one of these home owners defaulted on monthly payments, and their property has risen in value.

"I am reliably informed than 20 per cent of the building workers of Chicago are employed and that 80 per cent are earning nothing, living either on their capital or a dole from a union. Building construction has always been an important factor in national prosperity. Whatever may be said of industrial production being in excess of consuming power, this cannot be held true with respect to the production of small homes at reasonable prices.

Expects Bankers' Aid.

"If the building mechanics would accept temporary lower wages I am satisfied construction dealers, bankers, and insurance companies would cooperate on a home building program which would mean the expenditure of $250,000,000, of which 75 per cent would go to wage earners. And the furnishing of these homes would bring the expenditure of $300,000,000."

Mr. Rosenthal attributes the present situation to overproduction and to overpurchases through extended payments by wage earners who believed their pay would be increased indefinitely.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, June 19.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was unchanged today as far as store sugars which were available at 3.24c delivered were concerned, but forward deliveries duty frees were firmer, with operators showing increased interest. After opening unchanged to 1 point lower, with the July position selling into new low ground for all time, raw futures rallied and closed at net advances of 1 to 2 points. Approximate sales, 61,250 tons. Prices follow:

Rumors of Bank Support End Selling.

There was no real news to back the recovery. Even the rumor of the bankers' meeting was denied by one of the reported participants, but the street evidently believed that some such development had taken place and pitched in on the buying side accordingly. This impression was emphasized by the substantial orders placed for United States steel, Consolidated Gas, Can and other so-called "blue chip" favorites.

Short Covering.

Short covering was undoubtedly a factor of considerable weight, too. It was noticeable that the widest gains of the day occurred where the short interest was most crowded.

Copper Shares had the benefit of a restoration of the 12-cent rate on the red metal and this group gave about the liveliest performance they have attempted in many moons. The leaders were prominent in the forward moving procession at all times and gains of 2 and 3 points were registered without any apparent difficulty.

Announcement of the suspension of a small stock exchange brokerage house was hardly noticed in the popular enthusiasm over the general improvement of the market.

Brokers generally were sending out more hopeful advice to their clients. Few, indeed, would venture the opinion definitely that the lowest prices had been seen, yet it was generally agreed that the worst of the liquidation that has been on the market is probably over for the present.

SYNOPSIS.

Catherine Wert of Boston, on her way to Paris, meets Geoffrey Macadam in the have to Paris train. Catherine tells him that she is going to visit her cousin's widow, Mme. Belmont Bender. She is apprehensive about the coming visit, because she had received just before sailing a letter from Hermione Cushing, who tells her that Mme. Bender is far from well. Macadam is a lawyer and he tells Catherine that his firm handles Mme. Bender's affairs. He has heard that she was ill. Arrived in Paris, Catherine is disappointed when her cousin's chauffeur is not at the station to meet her. Geoffrey sees her into a taxi. He tells her that he will be anxious to know how things go at the Bender apartment and she promises to call him. Arrived at Mme. Bender's apartment, she is treated coldly by the servants. Jeanne, Mme. Bender's maid, tells her that Mme. Bender attempted to commit suicide the night before. The next morning Catherine goes in to see Germaine, who is pathetically glad to see her. She tells Catherine she had taken poison by mistake.

Geoffrey invites Catherine to dine with him and she tells him of her vague fears.

The next morning Catherine calls on Miss Cushing, who takes her to her milliner, where she sees a man she has noticed hanging around the Bender apartment. Back in the apartment she finds the gallery open for the first time and she goes in only to discover a number of pictures and tapestries missing. She asks Jeanne about them and the maid says they were sold shortly before Mr. Bender's death. Catherine feels she is being and believes she and Eduardo are thieves. She finds Jeanne is exerting a baneful influence on Mme. Bender.

Geoffrey again takes Catherine out to dinner and she unburdens herself to him. He has already put an investigator on the case. He asks her to marry him, but she wants time to be certain of her feelings. Catherine goes to visit Geoffrey's sister.

Geoffrey discovers Blom, the mysterious person seen around the Bender apartment, is making a possible heir to the Bender fortune. Shortly after this discovery Blom's engagement to Mme. Baron, Miss Cushing's milliner, a widow, whose maiden name is the family name of Mme. Bender, is announced.

A fire breaks out in Mme. Bender's apartment early in the morning and she is rescued to death. Most of the building is saved. Catherine had returned suddenly to Paris the night before. The servants deny to Geoffrey that she came to the apartment. Geoffrey follows Eduardo, the butler, to Blom's office. He sends for his investigator to watch the pair, then calls his father and together they call on the commissarial de police, who assigns Inspector Bazin to hear their case. Geoffrey returns to see if the servants have meanwhile heard from Catherine.

Catherine did go to Mme. Bender's apartment on her return from Fontainebleau. It was after midnight, and entering the side door she reached her room without encountering the servants. Shortly after, smelling smoke, she investigates and finds it is coming from her cousin's room. The door is locked. She dashes to get the keys and arouses Jeanne, who fights with her to prevent her from opening madame's door. She sees the latter carrying a heavy candlestick, and then a crashing blow on her skull robs her of consciousness.

Geoffrey meets the inspector at the Bender apartment and they question the butler and Jeanne. She intimates Catherine placed the candles in Germaine's room that set the bed curtains on fire. Geoffrey is barely able to control his indignation. They leave and Geoffrey calls his sister Elspeth, who says she will meet him at the apartment.

INSTALLMENT LXXXI.

EXAGGERATED CONCLUSIONS.

"We are completely in the dark," said her brother. "All we know is that the maid and butler deny having seen her. Come along up, they are waiting for us."

They overtook the inspector at the lift, and a few seconds later the three were admitted to the apartment. They made their way to the distant bedroom Catherine had occupied.

One by one Elspeth picked up and examined a frock of beige kasha, a tweed skirt and jumper to match, an old cardigan, an afternoon gown of parchment colored velvet, and two evening dresses. The onlookers watched her intently, saw her reject the lot with a shake of the head, then turn to a

"No," she said decidedly, "she had none of these with her. I am certain, because I helped her pack last night."

There were not many of these, merely a few bottles, an almost empty powder box, and a small pot of cream for chapped hands. Again Elspeth shook her head, instinct telling her that here was the unimportant flotsam one leaves behind. Then she turned towards the open cupboard where the squirrel coat hung lonely from the rod, let her eye wander over the shoes at the bottom, and the two last winter's hats on the shelf.

All at once Elspeth's eyes gazed round the room as though desperately seeking some confirmation of her belief, and came a second time to rest upon the despoiled cupboard.

"What is in that?" she asked suddenly, indicating the flowered hat box.

The next instant Elspeth uttered a cry. Inside the box, resting upon smooth layers of tissue paper, was a small green felt hat. She snatched it forth tremblingly, turned it round on her hand.

"Don't you see? It's hers, the one she was wearing. O, there's not the least doubt of it! I can prove it to you. See here——" and displaying the lining, she pointed to a black silk tag sewn inside on which were embroidered the words "Jane-Mary, Boston."

Geoffrey stared transfixed. He, too, knew this hat—had noticed it on many occasions. For a second there was no sound in the room.

"She was here, then. She came home and went away again soon afterwards, leaving nothing behind her but her hat and this——" he indicated the coat, "Her tone was one of puzzled reflection. "Why her hat?"

"She could have worn another one," suggested Elspeth impatiently. "I do not know what other hats she has."

"Then let us say she changed her hat. But does that help us to a solution?"

On the contrary, it seemed to deepen the mystery. Expressions of complete blankness met him. Elspeth spoke with suppressed eagerness.

"If she took the trouble to put on a different hat, don't you see what that may mean? That for some reason she changed her mind about spending the night here, carried her bags down again just as they were, and went somewhere else."

"It looks damned odd," Geoffrey remarked stonily. "It must have been some strong motive to make her quit the place with her luggage at that one in the morning."

"It's simply this, if you must know: Jeanne suggests that perhaps Catherine found out about the fire and Mme. Bender's death before any one else was aware of it, that she got into a panic and took herself off because——" here he hesitated painfully "——because she was terrified lest blame should attach to her. You see, she insinuates that it was Catherine who supplied the poor woman with the candles which caused the fire."

"O!" She stifled a horrified cry. "Do you believe that?"

"Not for a moment," replied Geoffrey between set teeth. "It is not in the least like Catherine to do either one thing or the other."

There was an uncomfortable silence. He could see Elspeth grappling with this new idea, her eyes narrowed in thought.

"I wonder?" she whispered slowly. "Geoff——you don't know. She might have done it, in utter innocence. Remember, she did not believe that Bender was insane. And supposing she did discover what was happening, mightn't she have been so overwhelmed by the shock that she lost her head completely? Her one idea may have been to rush away and hide, and she had not been home at all. One can't say how one would behave if faced with such a crisis. She may have been temporarily thrown off her balance."

A steely light had come into the young man's eyes.

"Does it not occur to you," he said slowly, "that if what you suggest is true, she may not turn up at all?"

"You don't mean she might . . . No, Geoffrey! She wouldn't do anything so mad!"

GASOLINE ALLEY—CHICKEN STEW FOR DINNER

Lavish Tastes Seen Cause of Hospital Slump

Fewer Patients Because They Can't Buy Best.

Rumors of a slump in the patronage of hospitals throughout the country were both confirmed and explained yesterday by Dr. Bert Caldwell, secretary of the American Hospital association, with headquarters at 18 East Division street. Dr. Caldwell, who in his professional capacity visits institutions all over the United States, was not inclined to be pessimistic and presented at least one valuable suggestion for modifying the situation.

"It is less," he suggests, "the high cost of hospital service that is to blame and more the class of accommodations demanded by even the financially restricted patient. People confuse the high cost of hospital care with the high cost of an entire illness, and thus hospitals have come to represent a luxury in the average mind, which in reality they are not.

"If those in a moderate situation of life would be content to accept the class of service they can afford to pay for, things would be different. The hospitals would have more patronage and business would be better, to say nothing of health. For the past several months any number of persons who should undergo operations have put them off and are simply going along without. These are the people who feel that when they go to a hospital nothing less than the very best will do.

"They don't buy shoes that way—they can get serviceable, good looking shoes for considerably less than the best will cost. But the same man who is sensible in that regard will demand a private room in the hospital, with a day and night nurse and all sorts of service, and then be shocked at the cost, when he could just as well have had a semi-private room and attention from the floor nurse.

"The drop in patronage in the hospital field has taken place since last September, when the market broke. It affects the general hospitals rather than the custodial—the contagious, cardiac, tuberculosis and similar classes of institutions. We have statistics on 2,800 hospitals showing that the average occupancy has dropped in that time from 75 per cent to 66. To make a moderate profit a hospital should average about 80 per cent occupancy.

"As for the situation in the nursing field, the tendency the nursing profession hopes to promote—to have hospitals use graduate nurses increasingly rather than student nurses—will result in lowering the costs of hospital nursing service rather than increasing it. For one thing, a graduate nurse who is competent can care efficiently for more patients, and then, too, there is a point in hospital administration where maintaining a training school for nurses is good—beyond that point it becomes a liability."

Of recent months Dr. Charles Mayo of Rochester, Minn., has written articles on the drop in patronage noted at the Mayo clinic. Salaries have been reduced all along the line at the institution, it is said.

Dr. Caldwell called attention to the fact that hospital costs vary with each institution. Average costs of one day's service to one patient in Chicago institutions were found to vary from $3.09 in one small hospital to $15 per day in one of the largest.

Los Angeles Will Welcome Aimee with Orchestra

Los Angeles, Cal., June 19.—[Special.]—W. J. Sanborn, president of the Los Angeles city council, will officiate as chairman of a civic welcoming committee and lend official prominence to a depot reception being arranged for the Rev. Aimee McPherson here Saturday. Besides the council head, a band, a choir, an orchestra, and a throng of Aimee's church flock will be on hand when the train arrives.

Only one jarring note intruded in the expectant arrangements today, when James E. McKeand, elderly uncle of the late Catherine McAdams, filed suit in Superior court seeking to break his niece's will. Miss McAdams bequeathed $10,000 to Aimee's religious activities, but Mr. McKeand charges that the bequest was the result of undue influence.

Methodists Give More Money for Dry Law Battle

Increased funds for the educational program of the board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church were authorized yesterday by the world service commission of that church at its seventh annual meeting in the Chicago temple. The amount in excess of the last fiscal year was set at $50,000. The total budget of the commission will reach $10,000,000.

The commission issued the following budget committee's recommendation, which was passed as a statement:

"In view of the present emergency in the field of national prohibition, and in view of the vigorous propaganda now being waged against the 18th amendment, your committee recommends that the world service commission give hearty approval to the proposed plan of the board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals to strengthen and expand its educational program, and hereby point out the desirability for increased funds for this purpose."

Opera Star Weds Her Husband Two Times Within Year

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 19.—Marrying her own husband twice within a year is the novel experience of Marie Williams, Scottish born operatic singer, who today underwent a second wedding ceremony with Sergei Radamsky, Russian-American tenor, both members of the Manhattan Opera company.

During a concert tour in Russia last year the couple were married in Moscow. But, instead of receiving a marriage license, they merely received annotations on their passports stating that they were married. When they left Russia they were obliged to turn in their domestic passports, and were left without a marriage record.

Then the bride found that the American authorities were unwilling to recognize the legality of the marriage. So the newlyweds were obliged to get married again. They left for a second honeymoon in the Riviera.

Lindy and Anne Take Short Airplane Jaunt

Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., June 19.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh flew to Hartford and back today in their Lockheed Sirius monoplane. The Lindberghs arrived at Teterboro airport about 11 o'clock this morning and took off a half hour later. They were gone a little more than three hours. At Brainard field, Hartford, the Lindberghs were met by A. L. MacClain, chief test pilot for the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft company, builders of the engine in the Lockheed Sirius. The colonel chatted with MacClain while mechanics went over the motor.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

If you were police commissioner of Chicago what would be your first step toward the banishment of crime?

The Answers.

E. H. Helenius, 1838 Euclid avenue, Berwyn, chief rate clerk, B. & O.—As my first step I would clean house, starting with my own department, after which I would have the gangsters chased from the city, and when they came up for trial at any time try to see that they received the maximum sentence. If this system didn't work I would resign.

Miss Miriam Burns, 1365 Sunnyside avenue, clerk—My first steps would be toward the overthrow of gang rule and a uniform enforcement of prohibition. I would banish supposed gangster power over the police department and aim at a larger and more competent police force, especially a large force of patrolmen who would launch a systematic and thorough campaign in their respective districts.

P. M. Van de Voorde, 2048 Cleveland avenue, clerk—I would first ask all the citizens of Chicago for their cooperation, and then would start with the closing of all the blind pigs and hangouts for hoodlums, and if any policeman didn't fulfill his duty I would see that he was suspended. If the gangsters' hangouts are continually raided they will soon get disgusted and leave the city or break up.

Miss Merry Payne, 5920 North Clark street, stenographer—My first move would be to find the crooked policemen and get them ousted. I would then make a survey of the department to see that all the captains and other district supervisors were doing their duty, telling them to close all saloons, bookies, and hangouts of crooks and gangsters.

F. M. McClement, 229 North Catherine avenue, superintendent—The first thing I would do would be to see that I was given a free hand to do as I saw fit, then I would revise and clean up the police department, assigning honest and faithful men in place of the crooks, and appoint a couple of assistants to do nothing but check on the district commanders to see that they were carrying out my orders.

Church Battle Decided; Pastor to Be Recalled

Dr. Heyworth's Supporters Gain Control.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The Rev. John R. Heyworth, resigned pastor of the New England Congregational church, Dearborn street and Delaware place, will be recalled again to lead his former congregation. This fact was admitted last night by members of what was formerly the minority group of the congregation.

It was stated that at a meeting Wednesday night the former minority group gained control of the historic parish. A shakeup of leading committees of the council followed, as the first step toward Dr. Heyworth's recall, "if he can be induced to return."

Since April 6, when the Rev. Mr. Heyworth presented his resignation to take effect June 30, the church has been torn by controversy between the minority group supporting Dr. Heyworth and the majority group led by the Rev. Dr. Ernest Graham Guthrie, head of the Congregational Missionary and Extension board, the holding corporation of the church's endowment funds.

The minority group charged that Dr. Guthrie "had used his custodianship of the endowment funds as a club over Dr. Heyworth" and that the majority group under Dr. Guthrie had used improper methods in forcing Dr. Heyworth's resignation. In a recent ecclesiastical court Dr. Guthrie was cleared of the charges against him, but, according to minority statements, the court asked that Dr. Guthrie resign from the church council.

It was also charged by the former minority group that the Guthrie forces had called in the votes of old time members who had moved out of the congregation and no longer attended or supported New England church in order to maintain its majority. At the meeting Wednesday night the minority group challenged the suffrage of voters who were nonresident and noncontributing, with the result that the Guthrie majority was overthrown.

Allen C. Nesbitt, a Sunday school teacher and staunch supporter of the Rev. Mr. Heyworth, stated last night that the New England church now stands in a fair way to make the progress it should "in the event the Rev. Mr. Heyworth desires to return." The Rev. Mr. Heyworth declined to comment.

CARDINAL'S APPEAL OPENS DRIVE OF CATHOLIC CHARITIES

Cardinal Mundelein, in making his appeal for the annual budget of $1,000,000 to maintain the Catholic charities of the archdiocese of Chicago, which he founded twelve years ago, last night reminded business leaders that the unemployment situation has made conditions among the poor more serious and their needs greater than ever.

"The cardinal spoke at the annual dinner held at the Hotel La Salle, attended by 200 priests and laymen. D. F. Kelly, president of the charities, presided. The meeting officially opened the drive.

"It will be a most difficult year for our charities," said the cardinal in his address. "There is the great mass unemployment. Savings have dwindled in many families which never before turned to the charities. We have 4,000 children in our institutions alone, and many more in homes with widowed mothers. We cannot expect much help from the city or county."

Cardinal Mundelein appointed Father R. C. McQuire diocesan chairman of the charity appeal. During the year on every Sunday Fathers Dussman, Fuerst, Hischen, and Gorman will visit the Catholic churches to tell of the accomplishments and needs of the charities.

Beauty Title of "Miss America" Just Will Not "Take"

Miami, Fla., June 19.—(AP)—C. A. Trice, president of the Miami International Beauty Pageant association, said tonight that he had placed before contest judges claims of R. B. Brossier, Orlando, Fla., publisher, that first and second places in the contest here to select "Miss America" had been awarded to entrants ineligible to compete.

Trice's statement followed upon receipt of word from Fort Worth, Tex., that Miss Janet Eastment, who was awarded the title of "Miss America" after entering the contest as "Miss Texas," was divorced last summer. Brossier charged that she was married and that fact made her ineligible to enter the list of beauties.

Trice said officials of the pageant had decided to disqualify Miss Eastment and Miss Alberta McKellop, who, as "Miss California," won second place in the contest. Brossier charged she was not a resident of California.

Orville Wright and Gilbert Honored at Harvard Graduation

Cambridge, Mass., June 19.—(AP)—Orville Wright, airplane inventor, and Seymour Parker Gilbert, agent general for reparations under the Dawes plan, were given honorary degrees of doctor of laws by Harvard university at its 294th commencement exercises here today.

President A. Lawrence Lowell presented the degrees. Of Mr. Gilbert he said:

"A young man called to the relentless task of carrying out the reparations settlement, who achieved the incredible."

Of Mr. Wright he said: "Like his brother, a navigator whose persistent faith and work gave to men highways in the sky and, the age of discovering new countries having passed, taught men to shorten to a quarter the spaces on the earth."

J. J. Rohler Elected Head of Illinois State Eagles

Outline Plans to Show World Treasures.

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Specific details of the ambitions they cherish for the art section of the World's Fair of 1933, comprehending a collection of masterpieces unrivaled in all history, are set forth by Chauncey McCormick, chairman of exhibits, and Robert B. Harshe, director of the Art institute, in letters to Rufus Dawes, president of the exposition. Their greatest problem at present, they emphasize, is the decision as to whether the treasures will be housed in a permanent or a temporary building.

At present the State Supreme court is pondering whether the Art institute may legally erect an extension to its present building, doubling its floor space of 320,000 square feet, or whether the land in Grant park shall be kept free of additional structures. It is the contention of the art officials, Harshe and McCormick, that a permanent and adequate art museum can be erected east of the present one for a minimum of $5,000,000, or $250,000 less than the estimate of the temporary building under consideration.

"We feel certain," they state in their communication to President Dawes, "that the trustees would also be infinitely more pleased to spend this large sum of money to achieve a great permanent museum for Chicago and one that will stand for many years as a moument to the achievement of the organizers of the Century of Progress, than to spend it for a temporary building."

"We have felt," they state further, "that you were in sympathy with our plan to have the greatest art exhibit the world has ever seen. This is possible for us today in a measure that it has never been possible before, first, because there is a vast volume of great art in this country today whereas, for example, in 1893 there was very little that would be included in a permanent exhibition in a class A museum; in the second place, because for the first time we are promised access to the treasures of the great national museums of Europe.

"We have done a year's 'missionary work,' and we know that this great opportunity is open to us. We feel that 640,000 square feet, double the present capacity of the Art institute, is the minimum space in which we can present an adequate display. There are some advantages in limiting us to a building of this size, in that we will have to eliminate many fine things we have been considering, but we feel that in the final result the quality will be very, very high."

It is pointed out by these officials that the first queries put to them by foreign governments who are asked to send their art masterpieces concern the handling and housing of the exhibits. A trained personnel to care for the objects and a fireproof building with machinery for cleaning the air and controlling the temperature of the rooms will be demanded.

Administration and all other expenses of the art exhibit will require, according to the estimates submitted to President Dawes, a budget of $2,500,000. The suggestion is made that at the Barcelona exposition in Spain last year, and at some other expositions, a charge was made for entrance to the art exhibit.

"We are all agreed," Chairman McCormick sums up the situation, "that it would be a calamity to build so fine a building for temporary use, and I do not think there is any one interested in the fair who will not be pleased, if it be possible, to salvage from the fair as a gift to Chicago a great museum, particularly where the gesture of making such a gift would not cost more than the construction of a temporary building."

BEG YOUR PARDON!

THE TRIBUNE on June 7 said that Joseph Stokas, whose wife reported to the police he had tried to hang himself, lived at 3936 South Talman avenue. The correct address is 6936 South Talman avenue.

Officials of the Manhattan Hat company say their hat shop was not damaged by the fire that swept through the building at 174-176 North Michigan avenue last Tuesday. It was reported that the girl employés of the hat firm were forced to flee to the street. The building partly destroyed by fire was occupied by a number of hat and dress shops.

WHEN WORDS FAIL YUH

Meat Eating Holds Its Own, Packer Avers

BY PAUL POTTER.

Contrary to the lay understanding of trends in food consumption, meat eating has not fallen off appreciably in this country, in spite of the steady curtailment in quantities of live stock fed in comparison with increasing population.

This is the conclusion of W. W. Woods, president of the Institute of American Meat Packers, Chicago, who calls attention to the "remarkable increase during the last few decades in the efficiency of live stock and meat production and marketing." Mr. Woods was recently nominated to the advisory committee on live stock for the federal farm board.

"The number of beef cattle on farms today, according to figures of the United States department of agriculture, is considerably smaller than in 1900, and the number of hogs and sheep are not appreciably greater than they were then," he says. "Meanwhile the population of the United States has increased by more than 50 per cent—from approximately seventy-six millions to more than one hundred and twenty millions."

Notwithstanding this increase in population and lack of increase in the number of meat producing live stock on farms, consumption per person of all meats in the United States last year was less than 5 per cent lower than thirty years ago, he reports. Present meat consumption is still above the average of the last ten years, in spite of small declines in the last three or four years.

* *

Handled More Efficiently.

"The explanation of this apparently paradoxical situation lies in the fact that live stock are raised more efficiently and marketed earlier than they were formerly," states Mr. Woods. "This increases the producers' turnover and makes it possible to market a much larger number of animals from a herd of given size. Calculations made by the federal department of agriculture indicate increases of herd productivity between 1907 and 1926 of 48 per cent for cattle, 27 per cent for sheep, and 43 per cent for hogs."

Production of pork, beef, and mutton has never become stationary, or uniform, year after year. The trends of increased feeding and breeding of animals seem to run in fairly definite cycles, economists find. About every four years we find a bumper crop of hogs, while the beef cattle cycle runs about seven years. At present graphs indicate we are in periods of rather low production in both beef and hogs, and about the average in number of lambs.

Mr. Woods referred to a study made by the institute of general relationships between price, production, and consumption of the nation's meat supply. In practice, this study reports, the price of meat—speaking generally—is adjusted to a level at which it will move into consumption. The perishability of meat forces this policy on the packer.

* *

Wholesale Prices Lower.

Over a period as short as a year, any shortening of consumer demand will affect relatively slightly the quantity of meat eaten, but will affect the price at which it is eaten. Later, the reduced prices, reflected in lower prices for live stock, may reduce live stock production, and hence meat production and meat consumption.

Although Mr. Woods declined to discuss current meat prices, as a matter of institute policy, the writer found a striking example in searching for the relation between wholesale and retail price trends. At present quotations wholesale meats range from $2 to $8 per hundred pounds less than a year ago. Yet retail quotations, reported in the National Provisioner, show almost no change in prices to consumers, here and there a cent or two change up or down from last year indicating the only notice butchers have taken of the wholesale values being reduced.

Fresh beef, according to government quotations, is 4 to 5 cents a pound less than a year ago. Corresponding figures for steer yearlings are 5 to 6 cents less; for fresh veal, 7 to 8 cents less; for lamb and mutton, 5 to 6 cents less, and for pork, 2 to 3 cents less. In no case does the government report any increase in wholesale prices in meat cuts over last year. Yet the lagging in retail changes, said to be the same whether prices go up or down, has not as yet passed this saving along to the consumer. This situation exists even as summer weather is credited with causing decreased consumption of meats.

I have found that a permanent typewritten list of necessities serves for all camping and picnic trips throughout the year, and saves our group the inconvenience of doing without the salt and pepper, can opener, coffee strainer, deck of cards, etc., etc., which mean so much on such an excursion and are so easily forgotten. A little check opposite each item when packing informs me that we are all set and dispels that lost feeling of having forgotten something.

FOOD PRICES STILL FALLING, STATISTICS UP TO MAY 15 SHOW

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—Retail food prices are still falling, although the decrease on May 15 as compared to the month ending April 15, were slightly less than three-fourths of one per cent. Figures made public today by the bureau of labor statistics showed decreases in 22 food articles, including a precipitate decline in cabbage of 26 per cent. Such staples as pork chops, eggs, flour and navy beans fell slightly. Oranges, onions and potatoes increased in price.

Eggs May Appear Labeled and in Fancy Wrappings

Trademarks on eggs may be one of the next widespread developments in the poultry industry, following announcement through an eastern marketing agency of the Pacific Egg Producers corporation that a hand operated stamper has been perfected that will permit labeling of a dozen eggs per minute.

The stamps are plain with little blurring during the operation, it is said. Little danger of cracking the eggs with ordinary pressure also is reported to be the result of various experiments.

Another new process is that of wrapping egg cartons in cellophane wrappers, the chief value in which is that cellophane conserves the carbon dioxide gases escaping from the eggs and thus curtails deterioration. High class New York trade now is receiving these cellophane wrapped egg cartons.

1,500 CLAIMS HAIL DAMAGE.

Sioux City, Ia., June 19.—(Special.)—Insurance adjusters today announced that they have more than 1,500 claims resulting from the hail storm which visited this city last Friday morning when floods caused property losses of approximately half a million dollars. The hail losses, they estimate, will approximate $100,000.

California Lettuce Makes Up One-Fourth of Nation's Supply

Science saved the lettuce industry in its infancy eight years ago in the Imperial Valley in California and thus permitted growers to develop their cropping system so that now nearly one-fourth of the lettuce of the nation is produced in the fruit and produce valley. This statement has been issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

In 1922 growers were faced with disaster. Brown blight, a strange new disease, caused plants to dry up and turn brown, becoming a total loss. Through the federal department of agriculture, Ivan C. Jagger was sent out to investigate in answer to appeals for help. He found two varieties immune but not the type wanted by the lettuce consumers in the United States.

By crossing these varieties with the principal commercial variety, the expert helped develop new strains, both resistant and desirable on the market. In 1929, 23 per cent of the lettuce crop came from Imperial Valley farms and this fact is considered proof by the federal department that the industry is in no danger of failure, with a crop worth $10,000,000 to the growers and possibly twice that much in midwest and eastern markets.

U. S. Charts on New Fruits Aids Doctors in Advising Diets

Recommendations of doctors on new fruits, which lately have become available in sufficient quantities to make them important on the produce market, are being based for many cases of special dieting on use of charts prepared by the federal department of agriculture on amounts of sugars, acids and other chemical constituents contained in them.

Japanese persimmons, avocados, loganberries, mangos, papayas, and other seasonal fruits are included in the list. Charts issued show the data that enable the laying out of special diets. Free distribution of circular No. 50, "Approximate Composition of Fresh Fruits," has been announced recently by the United States department of agriculture at Washington, D. C.

Recommend Beef Shoulder Is Economical Meat Buy

In its regular weekly market report issued for the guidance of consumers, the committee on marketing, information of the Meat Council of Chicago states. "The shoulder of beef is recommended to Chicago housewives as the most economical meat buy at the present time. Pot roasts and meat for stews may be obtained from this particular cut."

Kellogg's PEP BRAN FLAKES

Created by doctors of 2 great universities. Based on a study of the food needs of over 7,000 children.

MOTHER, have you heard of the amazing new health cookie for children . . . created by scientists at the Universities of Wisconsin and Toronto? These scientists studied the food needs of over 7,000 children!

They saw listless, not-quite-well children transformed into sturdy youngsters that fairly bloomed with health. Just by adding the necessary vitamins and minerals to their diet.

And yet they saw many children denied this perfect health. Because even urging and coaxing often fails to get many children to eat enough wholesome foods to supply all the different vitamins and minerals growing little bodies need.

What SunWheats are

So they took from wholesome foods these elements so vitally necessary to child health, and combined them into a delicious cookie. They call these cookies "SunWheats," because in addition to all the other precious vitamins and minerals, they are enriched with the wonderful sunshine vitamin.

Before SunWheats came, you had to know just what different vitamins and minerals various foods contained. Then coax, urge, and often force, childish appetites to make sure they ate all foods.

What they mean to child health

By the new method, you give children only as much of wholesome foods as their appetite craves! Then supply possible deficiencies by allowing them to have all the SunWheats they want. Thus you do away with harmful coaxing. You allow your child to develop a natural, healthy appetite. You let SunWheats help protect him against dangers of vitamin and mineral deficiencies.

Start at once to give your child the benefit of this protection. Serve SunWheats with meals, as a delicious dessert, between meals and before going to bed. Your grocer has SunWheats.

Today's a Good Time to Bake Pies and Cake

Fill Your Larder for the Week-End.

BY META GIVEN.

That old custom of setting aside Saturday morning to bake pies, cake, cookies, and bread to be used over the week-end was a good one in many ways. The modern housewife may do well to adopt this habit of getting ready for Sunday before Sunday arrives. Take cookies, for example. They are the same favored tidbits today they were fifty years ago.

Any household will find there is an advantage in having on the pantry shelf a jar brimful of cookies. A family cooky jar once established proves its value in many situations. It furnishes an ever ready accompaniment to the family dessert, a source of dainty refreshment to the chance caller, and a most acceptable piecemeal for the hungry boy or girl.

Cookies, unlike many other foods, can be prepared in quantity and kept over a period of time. Many varieties even improve with age. There is nothing better for storage than the stone jar our grandmothers used. A tin container with a close fitting lid is the next best receptacle.

In homes with a good refrigerator a supply of cooky dough may take the place of the cooky jar. There are many cooks who prefer to keep two or three varieties of dough on hand, making it possible to serve fresh, warm cookies on short notice.

New Methods Used.

The ingenious experimental cook has developed methods which produce cookies as tempting as the old fashioned varieties with far less time and pains. Instead of producing a dough which can be rolled out, we now use a softer dough which can be handled more easily.

Chilling in a refrigerator for an hour or so stiffens a soft dough sufficiently to handle nicely. The dough should be shaped into the desired form of loaf from which one can cut slices after chilling. If the dough is very soft when it is put into the refrigerator it may need some reshaping when it is partially chilled.

One of the usual methods is to form the dough into a cylinder of a diameter corresponding with the desired cooky. Another way is to pack the dough into long molds of various forms. In any instance the shaped dough should be wrapped closely with waxed paper to prevent drying out.

When the dough is thoroughly chilled it may be cut into slices of the proper thickness for baking. All sorts of nuts and fruits may be used in such refrigerator cooky mixtures. With a sharp knife and thoroughly chilled dough it is possible to cut slices of even thickness and to obtain almost any shape desired—circles, squares, rectangles, and triangles. Should the dough become sticky while slicing it may be rechilled for a few minutes. If a layer of one kind of dough is molded around a cylinder, square, or triangle of some other chilled dough of contrasting color, many pleasing effects may be obtained.

Pastry Bag Is Convenient.

A third method is to put the soft dough into a pastry bag and squeeze it out into symmetrical shapes onto a baking sheet. Perfectly round flat cookies such as vanilla wafers may be made from a dough as soft as a drop batter. The rose tube will produce a fluted effect with a sour cream cooky mixture because the dough is stiff enough to hold its shape until the cookies are put into the oven. The use of the pastry tube is limited to smooth doughs because fruits and nuts will not permit the dough to be pressed into perfect shapes. The surface of plain cookies, however, may be decorated with fruit and nuts just before baking.

OATMEAL COOKIES.

1 teaspoon soda.
1 teaspoon baking powder.
1 teaspoon cinnamon.
¼ cup butter.
¼ cup Crisco.
2 cups oatmeal.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
1 cup raisins, washed and dried.

Sift the flour, then measure. Resift with soda, baking powder and cinnamon. Cream the fat, add sugar and continue creaming until smooth and fluffy. Add beaten eggs, then the flour mixture and milk alternately, beginning and ending with flour. Add oatmeal, vanilla and raisins and stir just enough to distribute. Drop from a spoon on an oiled baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven [400 degrees F.] about 15 minutes.

WAFFLES.

3 teaspoons baking powder.
1 tablespoon sugar.
2 eggs.

Sift flour with salt, baking powder and sugar. Beat eggs thoroughly and add milk and melted fat. Stir liquid quickly into dry ingredients. Stir until the flour just disappears. Pour only enough batter into hot, well-greased waffle iron to fill, then bake to a golden brown. Just enough batter should be used to obtain a thin, crisp waffle. Serve hot.

Yield: 6 waffles. One waffle: Total: 178 calories; protein, 27 calories; fat, 50 calories; carbohydrates, 101 calories.

Modern Women Interested in Cookery for Two

Prepare Balanced Meals After Day's Work.

BY SALLY LUNN.

Not hundreds but thousands of women continue to work after marriage. To them housekeeping and the work downtown present problems. But these problems can be solved if their solution is intelligently gone about. Numerous letters received in this office show that young women insist that "double duty" can be done well.

The following excerpt is from a typical letter: "The girls of today, as a rule, are occupied with business all day long and don't get the chance to learn the first thing about preparing even the same things their mothers served. Yet they are anxious to do even better than their mothers did. But how are they to go about it when busy in an office all day, leaving no time for preparing foods that take several hours to get ready for serving, or how are they to know what to buy in order to prepare it?"

Considerable space is required to give the information requested in this letter. My answer will be given in installments, and the first will be a talk on serving an evening meal for two. Let us follow any night menu in "Three Meals a Day." The first thing of course is the selection of the food. We will assume that the pantry, however, small, contains some staple foods—sugar, flour, salt, coffee, and all other foods that are used every day. Perishables, such as green vegetables, fruits, and meat, should be purchased daily or at least every other day.

Well Rounded Meals.

In each evening meal we usually include two vegetables, one starchy and one green, a meat or other high protein food, a salad, dessert, and milk if a sufficient amount has not been included in the two previous meals. This makes a well rounded meal, dietetically speaking.

Working women will find canned vegetables a boon, since they are more quickly prepared than fresh ones. All that is necessary is to boil them in their own liquid fifteen or twenty minutes. Adding a little butter will improve the flavor.

The quickest way to prepare potatoes is plain boiled, riced, mashed, or boiled in milk. If potato salad fits into the meal, potatoes may be boiled in their skins in the morning when breakfast is being prepared. That will allow time for cooling and placing in the refrigerator before going to work.

The cut of meat that can be bought will depend upon the cooking equipment. In a fireless or pressure cooker the cheaper cuts can be prepared in many attractive ways. The pressure cooker does its work in a short time—a half hour is usually sufficient for the toughest cuts. Fireless cookers are slow, but meat can be put into them in the morning and be deliciously hot and tender for supper.

Salad and Dessert.

Salads are so easy and so good that fresh ingredients should always be kept on hand. Always keep a jar of bought or homep repared mayonnaise and French dressing in the refrigerator as well as some clean crisp lettuce. When you are about ready to serve collect the necessary ingredients for salad and arrange them in a salad bowl. I think it is a pretty custom and one worth beginning to prepare the salad, then add the dressing while serving it at the table.

Chilled raw fruit, pared, sliced, or crushed with sugar added if necessary is one of the simplest and most exquisite desserts.

Paintings of West by Black Exhibited at O'Brien Galleries

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

A most attractive little exhibit has just been hung in the O'Brien Art galleries. La Verne Nelson Black, whom you may remember for the sculpture he exhibited at various times in the years before Mr. O'Brien moved his gallery to the east side of Michigan avenue, has tried out a new move in painting. His subjects are all from the west, and he paints them briskly and impetuously in oil on a type of paper which is not generally used. The effect is superb.

In many of the paintings the paper itself is the background; in others the artist has worked up the background in color. Where he has left the paper untouched the result is, except infrequently, the best. There is a long broken line of buffaloes with their awkward calves that is one of the most fascinating pageants you could imagine. There is another procession, Mexicans with their hooded carts and thin horses, the young foals running by the side of the mares, that is also steeped in the atmosphere of the west.

Single figures are effective, too. There is an Indian on his pinto looking into the horizon, and another half turned on his pony, ready for the ride home. There are two Indians coming down the trail. There is another Indian on a gray pony. In words, these may not sound of particular importance, but they carry the mystery and the beauty and the longliness of the west as one lives it in a land where miles of scrub and distant blue hills are all there is below a sky which beats like a hollow blue drum overhead.

Mr. O'Brien is also hanging a group of little etchings, etchings which will run below $25 in price, with the idea that there is a place for that sort of business in Chicago. The annual print show at the Art Institute bears him out. In that exhibition the prices are from $4 up to $300. The great majority of the etchings run around $12 to $25. For bridge prizes, souvenirs, graduation gifts, and wedding gifts, almost any kind of gift, the etching has a distinct place.

Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, will give the annual commencement address for the school of the Art institute this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Goodman theater. His subect will be "Education in the Arts." There will be about 100 graduates.

British Law Making Husband, Wife One Assailed by Judge

[Copyright: 1930: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, June 19.—The ancient British law which makes a husband and wife theoretically the same person was attacked as "inconsistent and unjust" in a London court today by Justice McCardie, the bachelor judge who is noted for his pronouncements on legal situations involving married couples.

The specific case was a damage suit brought by a wife against her husband for injuries received in an automobile accident before they were married. Justice McCardie decided that, according to the married woman's property act, the wife couldn't sue her husband. Both parties were satisfied because it was the insurance company which had insisted on the suit.

"'Husband and wife are one in law' was written 300 years ago, and since then the doctrine of unity has led to innumerable complexities," Justice McCardie stated. "At every point of research I find privileges given the wife which are wholly denied to the husband, and I find that upon husbands has fallen one injustice after another.

"I hope the day is not far distant when the vital relationship of husband and wife will receive the attention of parliament. I trust that the present features of injustice will be removed and the existing obscurity made clear."

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—Vice President Curtis and his sister, Mrs. Gann, who have as their guest until next week his younger daughter, Mrs. George, wife of Maj. C. P. George Jr., of Fort Sill, Okla., turned over to her their box for tonight's performance of "The Tempest," given as an al fresco performance of the Community Drama guild. Mrs. George had a company of her old friends in Washington, asked over the telephone this afternoon.

Speaker Longworth returned this morning from Chester where he and Secretary Hurley received degrees from the military academy. Speaker and Mrs. Longworth will keep their Washington home open until congress adjourns when they will go to their Cincinnati home for a time before taking possession of the cottage at Jamestown, R. I., which they have leased for the summer.

Mrs. William E. Hull, wife of the representative from Peoria, Ill., has returned to their Illinois home where she will be joined later by Mr. Hull and their niece, Miss Virginia Harris, who spent the winter here with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Davies entertained at dinner tonight in honor of Miss Marjorie Mondell, daughter of former Representative and Mrs. Frank W. Mondell, of Wyoming and her fiancé, Alfons Beaumont Landa, who will be married June 26, and their wedding party.

Mrs. Richard Yates, wife of the representative from Springfield, Ill., was the guest for whom Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson entertained a large company at luncheon today in Chevy Chase. Mrs. Yates was recently elected president of the Chevy Chase branch of the League of American Pen Women.

Calvin Trowbridge and Lillias Webster Wed in New York

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—The marriage of Miss Lillias Dell Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Frank Webster of Bronxville, N. Y., to Calvin Durand Trowbridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Miller Trowbridge of Lake Forest, Ill., took place this afternoon at the Central Presbyterian church. The Rev. Dr. Dwight W. Wylie performed the ceremony.

The maid of honor was Miss Mary Elizabeth Wylie, daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Wylie. Cornelius Miller Trowbridge Jr. of Lake Forest served as best man for his brother.

Miss Webster was graduated in 1926 from the Brearley school and was graduated last week from Vassar college. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. She is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Scott Webster, who came to San Francisco from Scotland. Mr. Trowbridge was graduated in 1920 from Yale university.

U. of C. Dean Leaves for Child Welfare Conference

Dean Sophonisba Breckinridge of the graduate school of social service administration of the University of Chicago sailed from New York City yesterday as one of the United States delegates to the third Pan-American child welfare conference.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Lee, The Tribune, Chicago.

My 7 year old niece is quite fond of cats and dogs. When I went to visit my sister the other day I took my big Airedale dog along. While I was in the house with my sister my niece was playing with her little friend. A few minutes later I heard her saying, "Don't be afraid of that big dog. He is just my cousin Curly. B. H.

I have no children. We have a dog by the name of Trixie. Our little 6 year old neighbor asked if Trixie had ever had any baby puppies, to which I answered, "No."

After a moment's pause she said, "I guess it must run in the family."

Lake Forest's Horse Show Is Event Today

BY THALIA

The Lake Forest horse show at Onwentsia will take precedence over all other concerns in the fashionable little village on the north shore today and tomorrow. The affair has come to be sort of a glorified picnic, with the children getting a large share of fun. The Lake Forest show has followed the modern trend of equitation and has abandoned the harness and driving classes in favor of a program made up almost entirely of hunting and jumping events.

Lake Forest youngsters are being taught these days not only how to sit a horse but how to get it over brush and through brambles to qualify as good hunters, and there are a number of classes in the show wherein the juvenile element can display its prowess. The schedule includes a class for polo ponies, a parent and child class, a jumping sweepstakes to be the final event tomorrow afternoon, a Corinthian class this afternoon at 4:15, a children's bareback riding event, an exhibition of the army Olympic team this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon, as well as a variety of classes for hunters and jumpers.

Many of the boxholders are giving luncheons at the Onwentsia clubhouse, and there will be a festive social aspect to the show. Mrs. Robert G. McGann is chairman of the box committee and is to give a luncheon today and tomorrow. Laurance H. Armour as secretary of the show shoulders much of the managerial tasks in connection with its successful running. Earle H. Reynolds is treasurer and Donald B. Douglas is assistant secretary. Proceeds of the show will go, as usual, to the Alice Home hospital. The show is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year, and it is open to the public.

Mrs. Ralph C. Otis of 2350 Lincoln Park West is in the east to attend the commencement exercises at Farmington, where her daughter, Miss Florence Otis, is being graduated. Miss Otis is to be one of next winter's debutantes. She and her mother are to return the end of the week.

Another sweet girl graduate is Margaret Dudley Chapman, second daughter of the John A. Chapmans of Lake Forest, who received her diploma at St. Timothy's at Catonsville, Md., last week. She is to attend the Sarah Lawrence college at Bronxville, N. Y., next year, and will make her debut the following year. Her older sister, Miss Elinor Chapman, who is finishing her first year at Bryn Mawr, is to come out next winter, but is planning to continue her studying. The Chapmans plan to give a dinner-dance at the Casino for her on Dec. 27, during the Christmas holidays.

Harry Lee Williams of 220 East Walton place, his daughter, Mrs. Melvin Brorby, and the latter's two children, are ensconced for the summer at Mr. Williams' place near Holland, Mich. His other daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Morgan, have returned from a stay across the lake of several weeks, and will spend most of the summer week-ends there also.

Mrs. James D. Cunningham of 900 North Michigan avenue has departed for Leland, Mich., where she is to stay for 3 weeks while her ankle, which was fractured recently, mends.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Catlin, who have been living in the east for the past few years, have returned to Chicago to live, and are planning to occupy an apartment on the near north side. While they are looking around for a dwelling place they are staying with Mrs. Catlin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Todd, in Evanston.

Sailing tonight on the S. S. Statendam are Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams of Lake Forest, their daughter, Mary Seymour Adams, and their son, Cyrus H. Adams III.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. King and their son, John, who was graduated on Monday from Yale; Mrs. Oren E. Taft of 220 East Walton place, and Miss Lyia Woodruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burdett Woodruff of 200 East Pearson street.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson L. Barnes of 1120 Lake Shore drive and their son, Nelson Jr., are to sail on Sunday on the S. S. Berengaria for a six weeks' trip to Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Robey of 800 Elmwood avenue, Evanston, announce the birth of a daughter at the Evanston hospital on Tuesday. Mrs. Robey was Miss Marjorie Janney of Winnetka before her marriage a year ago. The baby is to be named Joan.

The Chicago Drama league announces the opening of the children's civic theater on the Navy pier on July 2. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Franklin Miller, chairman; Mrs. John N. Coulter, Mrs. Bruce Strong, Mrs. J. L. Chapline, Mrs. L. C. Jesseph, and Mrs. Edwin A. Seipp.

BECOMES BRIDE

MRS. ROBERT EMMETT RYAN.

Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Reedy of River Forest announce the marriage of their daughter, Regina, to Robert Emmett Ryan on June 7 at St. Luke's church in Lake Forest.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Fayette Krum Mulroy, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Morrow Krum of Evanston, to Robert Andrew Brown, formerly of Grand Rapids, Mich., took place on Tuesday in Waukegan. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Norton Barker were the only attendants at the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Brown are living at the Ambassador hotel for the present and after Sept. 1 will be at home in Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Monast of 827 Madison street, Evanston, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Noenie Natalie, to Claude G. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Moore of Kankakee, Ill., to take place tomorrow at St. Joseph's church, with the Msgr. Primeau officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Moore are to be at home after July 5.

Chicago Delegates Leave Today for Alpha Phi Meeting

MRS. CLIFFORD BURNHAM. [Bernie Photo.]

Caruso's Opera Costumes Sold; Women in Tears

PARIS, June 19.—Twenty-five costumes worn by the famous tenor, Enrico Caruso, in his leading opera rôles sold today at the Hotel Drouot, municipal auction house, brought small financial return but much interest on the part of the public.

Those attending the sale were mostly middle aged women admirers who had heard Caruso sing. Many spent a long time fingering the costumes and a few shed tears.

When auctioned, however, the faded garments were bought almost exclusively by second hand clothes dealers in lots of four, realizing from $6 to $10 each.

460,000 Names in New Manhattan Phone Book

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—Delivery of 1,715,000 copies, or about 350 truck loads, of the summer issue of the Manhattan Telephone directory is under way and 750,000 copies will be in the hands of Manhattan subscribers by tomorrow, the New York Telephone company announced today. The new directory contains more than 285,000 changes in names, addresses and telephone numbers. The book comprises approximately 460,000 listings.

Veiled Prophets to Meet at St. Petersburg, Fla., in 1931

Indianapolis, Ind., June 19.—(AP)—The 1931 convention of the Supreme council, Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm, a Masonic organization, will be held at St. Petersburg, Fla., it was decided today. The Florida city was selected for the 1931 convention after a spirited contest with Buffalo. The forty-first annual session of the Supreme council was brought to a close here today with the installation of Edwin H. Dyer of Boston, newly elected grand monarch. The visitors were entertained this afternoon with a special program of motor races at the Indianapolis motor speedway.

Girls' Benefit Adds $126 to Fund for Camp

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

If it hadn't been for a group of South Shore High school girls, Algonquin's good luck might have taken a turn yesterday. Just when it appeared that yesterday's gifts would not make the fund much richer, there rolled in a nice fat check for $126, the proceeds of the "Kenwood Gambols," third annual revue for the TRIBUNE charity.

The fund happily announced yesterday that the $1,000 mark had been reached. "The Kenwood Gambols" benefit puts the fund over $1,200. With coöperation like that from other friends, just one thing can result. The $10,000 necessary to give hundreds of tenement mothers and children summer outings at the Fox river valley camp will be raised and happiness for them assured.

The benefit was given last Friday night at the home of Miss Jane Paulman, daughter of Henry Paulman, 4845 Kenwood avenue. For weeks the girls who attended the Faulkner and University High schools, put in long hard hours practicing, and then trusted Friday the 13th to bring them luck. The company included Polly Whipple, Rosalie Edwards, Jane Dubbs, Mary Lou Davis, Margaret Gethro, Helen McInnis, Jean Ellenberger, Lillian Lampert, Pat MacManus, Myrtle Lampert, Helen McDermut, Abbie Poole, Sylvia Flanagan, Barbara James, Miss Paulman, Eleanor Tobin and Jane Hodge.

The primary department of the Pilgrim Congregational church school of Oak Park sent its annual contribution yesterday. This year it is $16.12.

"The money had to be the children's own," wrote Mrs. Wilbar Hasher, primary superintendent. "They either worked for it, found it, or took it from their allowances. May it help swell the fund for Camp Algonquin."

The second group of 100 visitors left on the Chicago & North Western railroad for Algonquin yesterday, making the total number in camp at present more than 200. Later when the capacity is reached the number of campers will approach 500.

Kenwood Gambols	$ 126.00
Pilgrim Congregational primary church school	16.12
Flora W. Thomas	10.00
C. B. Block	10.00
C. C. D.	1.00
L. M. Z.	1.00
Total	$ 164.12
Previously acknowledged	$1,044.09
Grand total	$1,208.21

All gifts should be sent to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscripts returned.

A Double Loss.

Having a date for a bridge party, I wore my best dress, which had an attractive looking bow on the side. When I arrived at the place I met some of my girl friends, and while having a conversation with them a handsome young man started towards us.

One of my girl friends said, loud enough for him to hear: "I wonder who that good looking fellow is?"

I suppose the gentleman heard it, but did not pay any attention. Just then I noticed that the bow was gone from my dress, and I said, "O, my bow!"

They all understood me to mean "beau," and the young man turned around and said: "I beg your pardon, madam, but there surely must be some mistake."

Becomes Bride in Oak Park

MRS. WARDELL NELSON CRONWALL.

[Du Bois Photo.]

The marriage of Miss Helen Elizabeth Spitzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Clark Spitzer of Oak Park, to Wardell Nelson Cronwall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cornelius Cronwall of Oak Park, was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride's parents. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the Oak Park Country club.

Housekeeping Toys Provide Absorbing Play for Children

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Information on "Sun Bathing for the Baby" will be sent by Mrs. Bevans on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"Let me help you, Mother!" is a cry familiar to every mother of young children. Small sons as well as small daughters will chum around with you on your daily chores, amusing you with irresistibly businesslike attempts to copy your way of sweeping and dusting and making a bed.

But there usually comes a time when besides using your things, children are ready for housekeeping utensils in a size which they can handle comfortably and call their own. Money spent on small brooms and pans and washboards that will really give service is money well spent.

Children can really do household tasks amazingly well if they have the right things to do them with. Also to enjoy them they must have a place to work where they feel they have a right to be. If necessary protect the floor where they're washing with a piece of oilcloth or put a rubber apron under a gingham one so they don't have to be nagged and scolded about making a mess, or getting their clothes soaked.

It is hardly necessary to point out that this kind of play is wonderful training in forming habits of thoroughness and orderliness. Arrange a closet or hooks or boxes where the children can place and hang their own small housekeeping toys, so they can always find them and always put them away again.

At no greater expenditure than you might make for one costly toy you can equip your small child to her great delight with small tubs and brooms and dustpans, small lines and clothes pins and washboards, small dishes and saucepans, and perhaps a real little stove. If you want to elaborate you can save little jars and cans for grocery supplies. Any one who really wants to can make the child's play life a delight!

Almost all little boys and girls want to iron at some time or another. The question of having a hot iron is a problem. Although I have not first hand experience, I have been told that the small electric irons do not ever get hot. But whether this or a regular flat iron were used, the use of it and the regulating of the heat would have to be watched by an adult.

It is scarcely necessary to give names and the address where any of these housekeeping toys may be bought.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Miller of 1800 Independence boulevard announce the engagement of their daughter, Sylvia June, to Arthur E. Friedman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Friedman of 911 Ainslie street. The wedding is to take place in the near future.

Trousseau Should Be Suited to Earning Capacity of Husband

BY DORIS BLAKE.

One of the bright spots in the life of the average benedict is the common supposition that his beloved comes to him with a complete enough trousseau to tide over the first year strain on the budget.

A budget expert, Mrs. Theresa Speed of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs believes this trousseau thing has been overdone a bit in the ambition to stock up for future emergencies. The chief error lies in girls spending all their savings on trousseaus when marrying men of modest salaries. The chief disadvantage of this is to set up a fictitious standard, which cannot be maintained later on a slim purse. The bride, in turn, is in danger of becoming resentful because the slim purse cannot replenish the original wardrobe.

Mrs. Speed, however, being a constructive adviser, does not leave the seasonal group of about to be weds up in the air as to what does conform to good sense in the matter of a trousseau. She offers the sane suggestion that brides plan their trousseaus according to the salaries their husbands will earn.

For a girl marrying a man earning $50 a week, Mrs. Speed has worked out a $200 trousseau. Where the income is $75 a week, she has allowed $350 for the hope chest. If the earnings are $100 a week, the bride to be may splurge to the tune of $500.

As the Smart Parisienne Appears Day and Night

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Dressmaker suits are going around in exclusive circles, where long coated ensembles no longer tread this summer. These suits have short jackets that often look more like waists than they do like jackets, and 90 per cent of the time they are worn over white, tuck-in blouses and skirts that are treated to some other fullness than plaits.

The Lelong suit shown here is the kind of dressmakery suit that is worn by the most fashionable women. Lelong made it for Mme. Wellington Koo. The material is crêpe de chine in the new Lelong green with tiny white dotted pattern. The jacket is bloused and has a ruffled peplum below the pinched-in waistline. The sleeves are three-quarters length and ruffled. The skirt is made full from the hips by wide petal panels at the sides and by circular fullness at the front and back. The blouse is white dimity with a round collar and a tie of the suit material. Such a suit is what the smartest Parisiennes wear until five in the afternoon, when they get into their late afternoon clothes.

For dining and dancing in public a dress like the Lelong frock shown in our sketch is worn. It was also created for Mme. Wellington Koo, and is make of pale pink satin. The bodice of this frock is given a satin band necklace that hangs in a short loop in front and a long loop in back. The skirt has the loose flow of a tassel, which is the smartest evening line. It is made ample by full length petal panels at the sides like those of the dressmaker suit.

Sorority Luncheon.

Pi Beta Phi sorority will hold a luncheon today in the Medical and Dental Arts building.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

Here is a smart tailleur for street wear. The back of the skirt is in panel effect, merging into a hip yoke. Tab extensions brought around on the front of the bodice give it a tailored look and detract from the width. Flat silk crêpe, light weight tweed, jersey, shantung, and men's silk shirting are suitable materials.

The pattern, 3494, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3⅛ yards of 39 inches material with ⅛ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

How to Order Clotilde Patterns.

Write your name and address plainly on dotted lines, giving number and size of such patterns as you want. Inclose 10 cents in stamps or coin [coin preferred; wrap it carefully], for each number, and address your order to Clotilde Patterns, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 220 East 42d street, New York City.

Note—Clotilde patterns are made in New York exclusively for THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE. They are perfect in fit, up to date in style, and the easiest of all patterns to use.

Education Group Named as Curbing School Liberalism

Charges that the National Education association is driving liberal ideas out of the schools while permitting power trust propaganda to be placed in textbooks were made yesterday by Emil O. Jorgensen, secretary of the Education Protective Association of America.

"The records of your association," Mr. Jorgensen said in an open letter to the president of the N. E. A., "distinctly show that, under the guidance of certain leaders, it is making a systematic effort to exclude from the schools the theories, convictions, and courses of actions of certain liberal groups. At the same time you are doing all in your power to protect the propaganda of the power interests."

"Clothes Last Longer," says Mrs. Barbara Bernard of Winnetka

"I'll never stop thanking my neighbor for getting me to change to Rinso. It makes washday positively easy! Its creamy suds soak clothes whiter than I could scrub them. I notice my clothes last longer now. And Rinso is so economical—I use it for dishes and all cleaning."

You need no bar soaps, chips, powders with Rinso! Cup for cup, it gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed-up soaps. Rich, safe suds. Great in washers; the makers of 38 famous washers recommend it.

Grace and Good Carriage are Marks of Distinction

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

If you have any grace in your system at all, this is the season to bring it into action. Those ripples and ruffles and bias tiers in your frock are going to need a lovely moving body in them.

Women are being critically beauty-judged just for this very thing of graceful movement, or lack of it. A friend sat within earshot of two distinguished looking men at a well known restaurant the other evening. Their comment on the women entering, exiting, and dancing was almost entirely concerned with their carriage. Later my friend learned one of the men was a well known producer and the other a visiting foreigner and noted dress authority.

She overheard one of the men say: "It's about the only distinguishing feature left for women." They were talking about grace. And meaning, no doubt, that women dress equally well, make up equally well, are equally well coiffed, shod, and so on. So that to stand out from the mob one has to introduce a whole bag of graceful tricks. Grace belongs with this era into which we are now well advanced—the feminine turn of clothes and thoughts.

Graceful gestures of hands beautifully manicured, ringed and braceleted are worth the wrist relaxing effort that may be involved until practice makes perfect. That unstudied, easy lift of the chest that helps to give one the look and feel of walking on air, adds beauty to the simplest frock.

The truth is that few women of us realize how nerve tense we are, especially those of us who are desk bound for the better part of the day. It is nerve tenseness which in turn makes muscles stiff and tense, from which awkward movements are evolved.

The difference one can make in her whole appearance with a two minute complete and total relaxation from head to foot can only be experienced by trying it. Try it when you put on the new printed chiffon with the frilled flounces and see if you aren't a levelier "filling" for the frock. Just lift up the chest to get the body straightened and then, holding the chest up, relax every tight-end muscle and nerve.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

H. D.: IF YOU DO NOT FEEL rested after eight hours of sleep either you are suffering from some disturbance of digestion or you do not get sufficient exercise. I have a set of exercises you may do every morning. Send stamped, addressed envelope for them.

MRS. L. F.: SCRATCHES ON THE skin should be treated at once before infection sets in. Cleanse with boiled water and follow with an application of tincture of iodine.

L. P.: DRINK WATER WITH your meals if you wish, but do not use it to wash food down. You may drink several glasses of it.

GIVE YOUR MOUTH THIS NEW THRILL

Instead of the long, cooling drink you think you want, try PEBECO Tooth Paste today and experience the new thrill of its cooling, refreshing taste. Pebeco brings new zest and cleanliness to every crevice. You can feel it working, soothing the gums, smoothing all dental surfaces. There isn't a scrape in a tube-full of Pebeco, yet sparkling whiteness comes quickly to teeth which know its regular use. Try Pebeco today. You will learn to love the taste that brings new freshness and vigor to your entire mouth.

REAR ADMIRAL Byrd Protected his Men against Disease

Great explorers know how sickness can wreck any expedition, and Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, just returned from the South Pole, protected his men in advance. He took along plenty of Flit as the best-known and most widely used protection against all kinds of insects. We can learn something from this—because Admiral Byrd had his choice of all the insect-killers made—and selected Flit.

Be comfortable and safe. Keep your home insect-free. Spray Flit, which is guaranteed (or money back) to be quick-death to flies, mosquitoes, moths, roaches, bed bugs and other household insects. Yet its clean-smelling vapor is harmless to humans.
